DOZEN ASTRONAUTS COULD BE LAUNCHED

1981 Timetable for U.S. Flight to Mars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — America's top space official Friday outlined a timetable for a flight to Mars launched on Nov. 12, 1981, to land astronauts on the red planet in the late summer of 1982 and bring them home in 1983 after a sight-seeing swing by Venus.

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said America — and the Soviet Union — would be technologically able to carry out such a feat in 1981 and it was a matter of "the will" of the American people.

In a talk before the Commonwealth Club of California Paine gave a vivid account of the mission, which he said he has "bandied about" with Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

He said Nov. 12, 1981 would be "a particularly good date" for such a flight because of the position of the planets.

Nuclear-powered rockets currently being developed in the NERVA program would propel twin space ships "locked together side-to-side" towards Mars with about a dozen astronauts aboard, Paine said.

On Aug. 9. 1982, the ships' rockets would refire after coasting through millions of miles of space to send the ships into orbit around Mars. From there, "reusable stages much like jet planes," Paine said, would continuously ferry three or four astronauts down to the surface of Mars and back to the mother ship in orbit.

More troubles for Mariner 7. See Page A-4.

On Oct. 28, 1982, the rockets' nuclear engines would again refire to blast the space pioneers out of Mars orbit but, instead of toward home, in the direction of Venus, he said.

On Feb. 28, 1983, Paine said, the rocket ships would swing by Venus, using that planet's orbital motion and gravity to slingshot them back to Earth on Aug. 14, 1983.

Paine said there was "no question" in his mind that both the U.S. and the Soviet Union would be sufficiently advanced by 1981 to successfully carry out a Mars mission.

Only "the will" of the American people is in question, he said, and setting such priorities must be done now. He estimated that the Mars flight would cost the same as Apollo, about $24 billion.

Paine also said that the current Apollo moon-landing series would be the last utilizing water landings for spaceships returning to earth. "In the future," he said, "we will land on land with reusable stages much like a jet plane."

The nuclear engines, he said, "would have the power outlet of Boulder Dam. It would be a brand new kind of ship to sail on this brand new sea of space."

Q. Is dry ice vapor dangerous? I recently heard that two children suffocated from carbon dioxide fumes from in a closed camper. L.D., Long Beach.

A. "There should not be any danger in the vapor unless you stick your head into a bucket of it and cut off ventilation," said Kenneth Phillips, lab technician for the Long Beach Chemical Laboratory. Spokesmen for the Long Beach and Los Angeles County health departments agreed that the danger from dry ice vapor is slight. Dry ice-actually is solid carbon dioxide which does not become dangerous to human life until its concentration reaches 5000 parts per one million parts air. "this is an extremely high proportion and is not likely to occur," Phillps said. He added that the main danger is the possibility of being burned while handling chunks of dry ice.

Q. On March 29, I paid a $150 deposit on a used car to Pioneer Ford, 18403 Pioneer Blvd., Artesia. The deal fell through and Pioneer gave me a check for my deposit, but the check bounced. When I went back, the company had closed down, but a man told me he would make the check good as soon as they reopened. The dealership has reopened under the name of Sky View Ford, but they refuse to return my deposit; claiming they are a different company. The same people are still working there. Is there anything I can do to get my money back? M.R., Bellflower.

A. Red Jarvick, manager of Sky View Ford, told ACTION LINE they are not connected with Pioneer Ford in any way and are therefore not responsible for Pioneer's debts. Jarvick explained that many of Pioneer's employes came to work for Sky View because they were out of a job. You can file a complaint against Pioneer Ford with your local office of the Department of Motor Vehicles, and they will investigate the matter and try to locate the owner of Pioneer Ford. You can also file a complaint with the California Attorney General's Office,. Consumer Fraud Division, 217 W. First St., Los Angeles 90012. A complaint form is being sent to you. Spokesmen for both the DMV and the attorney general's office explained that they cannot promise to get your money back, but they will investigate the business practices of Pioneer Ford.

Q. I am 11 and I want to know how you train a dog not to jump the fence? B.J.H, Cypress.

A. Man's best friend can get a little jumpy sometimes, and there's no sure way to settle him down. Many times a dog wants to gain freedom simply because he doesn't get enough exercise or attention. You might want to take your dog out on more walks. Eleanor Price, a contributor to Dog World Magazine, said many dog trainers suggest tying a block of wood around a dog's neck. When he tries to leap over the fence, the block unbalances him, and bumps against legs.

Action Line

Sometimes walking the dog to the fence and giving him a loud "no" is enough if repeated often. For less persuadable dogs, one dog trainer suggests tying the dog to a rope that is long enough to allow him to jump the fence with ease, but too short to allow more than a few steps beyond. After a few of these arrested getaways, a rope tied to his collar is enough to keep him from even trying to jump.

Some years ago, we bought shares in Quail Valley Country Club. We understand the company went bankrupt, but the San Jacinto Land Co. took over the assets. Where do we stand now? T.I., Long Beach

A. You lose. Chase Capital Corp., which owned the Quail Valley Country Club, filed for bankruptcy in October of 1962. You can obtain a full status report by writing to attorney A.J. Bumb, bankruptcy trustee, at 445 S. Figueroa St., Los Angeles, Calif. When the corporation filed for bankruptcy, a group of shareholders arranged to buy 980 acres owned by the corporation for $1. There was a $600,000 trust deed on the property. With the U.S. Bankruptcy Court approval, the shareholders incorporated as San Jacinto Land Co. and tried to sell the property to pay off the trust deed and divide and profit among all the Chase Capital Corp. shareholders. They failed, according to Jacquelyn Brucker, one-time secretary for the San Jacinto Land Co. In 1968, the financing firm foreclosed on the trust deed, so the San Jacinto Land Co. became defunct. Bumb told ACTION LINE that Chase Capital Corp. had enough assets to pay its creditors, but nothing left over for the shareholders.

Romania Welcomes President

Combined News Services

LAHORE, Pakistan (Saturday) — President Nixon ended his six-nation tour of Asia today and flew to Communist Romania, the first American president to travel behind the Iron Curtain.

Nixon was to arrive in Bucharest, the Romanian capital, aboard Air Force One at noon today after a six-hour flight from Lahore.

At the conclusion of his Asian tour, Nixon's White House advisers said the President is convinced that a policy of avoiding future Vietnams does not rule out U.S. military intervention in Asia if Communist aggression or a nuclear threat upsets its balance of power.

The assessment was made public as Nixon ended formal consultations with Gen. Agha Mohammad Yahya Khan, the military president of Pakistan.

In a toast to Yahya Friday night at a state dinner, Nixon repeated a point made often during his tour —that Asia holds the key to world peace.

"From this part of the world will either come the greatest progress, and thereby the peace we all want in the Pacific and in the world, or the greatest destruction that the world has ever known," he said.

"LOOKING TOWARD the future, it is essential, absolutely essential, that we have a generation of peace for Asia and the world.

"We in the United States want to play our part in attempting to begin that generation by ending a war in which we are presently engaged on a basis that will promote that real peace that we all want," he said.

U.S. Presses Desegregation Suit on Georgia, All Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)— The government pressed its largest school desegration suit ever Friday, charging the state of Georgia with encouraging continued racial segregation in its 192 public school systems.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the complaint, filed in Atlanta federal court, accused Georgia school superintendent Jack P. Nix and the state board of education with failing to take adequate steps to disestablish a dual statewide school system based on race.

The action had been threatened three weeks ago, if the state did not take steps to comply with federal desegregation standards.

THE SUIT marked the first time a state board of education had been the target of a government complaint.

The mere filing of the suit, however, will enable federal funds to be restored to 30 Georgia districts which had been cut off from aid by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Funds are not withheld in cases where litigation is in progress.

The government claimed that Georgia not only maintained a segregated school system, but that the educational opportunities provided for Negro youngsters were decidedly inferior to those provided for whites.

THE SUIT affects more than one million Georgia youngsters — including 734,000 whites and 360,000 blacks.

The suit said only 15 per cent of the Negro pupils attended predominantly white school last year. And unless restrained by the courts, the suit charged, "the defendants will continue to operate the public schools of the state of Georgia in a discriminatory manner denying Negro children equal protection of the laws, in violation of the 14th Amendment."

The government asked for a court order to bar Nix and the school board as well as "their successors in office, agents, employes, and all persons acting in concert or participation with any of them from discriminating against Negro students.

IT ALSO ASKED that the court require school officials "to take affirmative action" to break down the segregated system and "to correct the effects" of past racial discrimination.

EVERYBODY GO TO MOON FOR HEALTH!

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Two dozen white mice injected with dust from the moon were reported in better health Friday than mice exposed to ground earth rock several months ago.

The mice were the first living creatures tested to see if the lunar material harbored infectious germs or poisonous chemicals.

"We anticipate no problems," reported Dr. Norman D. Jones, veterinarian in charge of the crucial experiment. "The mice look better today than a similar group did after being injected with earth samples during simulation."

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico and Cuba have signed a treaty for provisional detention of skyjackers, the federal district attorney announced Friday night.

District Attorney Julio Sanchez Vargas told newsmen "the 10th article of the treaty which both Mexico and Cuba signed" allows Mexico "to ask for provisional detention. When it is accomplished, the government has a period of 45 days to present a formal demand," presumably for extradition.

LASER FINALLY ON MOON TARGET

SANTA CRUZ (UPI) — Scientists have finally succeeded in bouncing a high powered light beam back to earth from a mirror instrument left on the moon by U.S. astronauts.

The first successful return of the laser beam occurred Friday morning and the success in hitting the moon mirror was confirmed by 500 firings of the laser through a telescope at the University of California's Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton.

By bouncing the high-powered laser beam from earth to the moon instrument and back, the scientists hope to make numerous precise measurements, such as the distance from earth to moon, accurate within inches.

Dr. Robert P. Kraft, acting director of the observatory, announced the success after 10 days of trying to hit the moon package.

Hickel Allows More Drilling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel said Friday that limited drilling and production has reduced the undersea oil leak off Santa Barbara, Calif., and he is authorizing additional remedial drilling to deeper zones.

Hickel had authorized Union Oil Co. in June to drill nine shallow wells — one for testing and eight for production — under stringent safety conditions, to relieve pressures in the undersea oil formation off Santa Barbara's coast which were believed to be forcing oil into the ocean through cracks in the sea floor.

Since these wells were completed, Hickel said, the oil leak has been reduced from about 30 barrels a day to 15 barrels.

"I am satisfied that we are moving in the right direction to stop the seepage altogether," he said, "and I have therefore authorized additional remedial drilling from both platforms under the same stringent safeguards in effect since March 26."

THE OIL has been seeping from cracks over a 50-acre area of the ocean floor ever since Union plugged a well last February which had gone out of control for 11 days, polluting the Santa Barbara channel and its beaches.

"Stopping this seepage," Hickel said, "is our No. 1 priority in the Santa Barbara channel. If we succeed I hope the Department of the Interior, the state of California, and the oil industry can join together to stop the natural seep off Coal Oil point that has been polluting the channel throughout historic time."

Dr. William T. Pecora, director of the U.S. Geological Survey, the Interior agency regulating offshore oil operations, said in a telephone interview that the new drilling being authorized by Hickel from the Union Oil platforms would involve another eight wells reaching below the 1,000 to 1,200-foot range of the first group.

FOUR NEW WELLS would be drilled to about 2,000 feet below the sea floor and the other between 2,000 and 3,000 feet, Pecora said. The purpose, he said, was to pump oil so as to relieve upward pressures between the various oil bearing layers.

He said in no case would any wells be drilled below 3,000 feet, into the area where Union's well A21 went out of control in January.

The shallow and intermediate level wells were the first steps recommended early in June by a special Presidential panel assigned to study the Santa Barbara situation.

2,700 Troops Pull Out; B-52s Keep Heat On

Combined News Services

SAIGON, Saturday — More than 2,700 U.S. troops were withdrawn from South Vietnam Friday, but American forces kept pressure on the Communists with B-52 bombing raids so close to the capital that windows rattled in the city. The eight Stratofortresses flew 11 raids Friday night, bombing suspected Communist positions from 17 to 70 miles from Saigon. More than 100 tons of bombs hit bunkers and weapons sites 17 miles from Saigon, the closest B-52 strike to the capital since April 12. The 2,700 troops withdrawn Friday brought to almost halfway completion the administration's plan to reduce the U.S. troop commitment here by 25,000 men by the end of August.

Military spokesmen reported one significant ground battle Friday as the current fighting lull entered its seventh week. Communist gunners shelled seven allied positions late Friday and today, one of them a U.S. base where there was neither damage nor casualties, spokesmen said.

Rogers Reassures Nationalist China

TAIPEI — Secretary of State William P. Rogers arrived in Taipei Friday night on the third stop of his Asian goodwill tour. He gave assurances that the U.S. will live up to its treaty obligations with Nationalist China. At the same time, Rogers called on the Nationalist Chinese to cooperate in seeking peace in Asia. "What I wish to give, why I am here, is an assurance of my country's deep concern for east Asia — a concern having firm roots in history," the secretary said, in a statement at the airport. "We will continue to meet our treaty obligations to our allies, including, of course, our ally of long standing — the Republic of China."

Pope Paul Ends Peace Talks in Uganda

KAMPALA — Pope Paul VI met for two hours Friday night with President Milton Obote of Uganda and Nigeria's chief peace negotiator, but a papal announcement after the meeting dampened hopes for new peace talks between the Lagos government and secessionist Biafra. A papal aide said Pope Paul would leave on schedule at 7 p.m. tonight, ending speculation that he might extend his stay. Earlier Friday, he was "willing to sleep on the plane" if he could help get such peace talks started.

El Salvador Begins 'Redeployment'

SAN SALVADOR — El Salvador's defense minister, Gen. Fidel Torres, said Friday he has started "redeployment" of his troops from Honduras on three fronts under the eyes of Organization of American States observers. Torres said the Salvadoreans had captured about 300 Honduras officers, soldiers and "armed civilians" during the two-week undeclared border war. He said Honduras held 26 captured Salvadoreans.

Berlin Protesters Attack, Stone Police

BERLIN, Saturday — Leftist demonstrators attacked three police precinct stations and fought off charging policemen with rocks and clubs early today as they pressed their demands for protection of West German military deserters. Hundreds of police on horses, in trucks and on foot chased 1,000 demonstrators who fought back with rocks and planks ripped from construction sites and blocked West Berlin's elegant Kurfuerstendamm boulevard with construction equipment and other barriers. There was no immediate estimate of casualties.

Italy Fails to Get New Government

ROME, Saturday—Acting Premier Mariano Rumor conceded failure Friday night in efforts to form a new government, deepening a 27-day-old political crisis many consider Italy's worst since World War II. Rumor told President Giuseppe Saragat during a meeting he could not form a government to succeed the one he led for seven months until July 5. Observers had given him a better than 50-50 chance to form an all-Christian government, but had predicted it would be defeated on its first vote in parliament.

62 South Koreans Killed by Rains

SEOUL — Heavy monsoon rains in central and northern parts of South Korea are blamed for at least 62 deaths this week, national police reported today. They said 19 others were injured and another 23 missing in flash floods and landslides.

Ted Will Cooperate If Inquest Called

NEW BEDFORD — The bid for an inquest into the death of Mary Joe Kopechne, killed in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident, was rejected Monday on a technicality. But Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis planned to take the matter to another court. In an apparent rebuke to Dinis of New Bedford, Justice G. Joseph Tauro said he did not have jurisdiction.

"I have no quarrel with the chief justice and I am taking his advice," Dinis said. He said he was writing James A. Boyle, judge of the district court at Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard, whose jurisdiction includes the accident site and who presumably would conduct an inquest, and Judge Kenneth Nash of Quincy, chief judge of the District Courts, renewing his request.

Using the same wording of his letter to Tauro, Dinis wrote, "I hereby make request that a justice of the District Court be assigned to conduct an inquest" on Martha's Vineyard. In Washington, before Tauro's ruling, Kennedy said he would "cooperate in any way" possible with an inquest, but he added that he didn't understand the purpose of it.

Tax Reform Bill Faces Change in Senate

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration Friday endorsed the tax-reform bill headed for House approval next week but served notice it intended to seek some changes in the Senate, notably affecting the oil depletion allowance. Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker told a news conference the bill approved by the House Ways and Means Committee was "highly acceptable" to the administration. He and Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen specified modifications they would seek when the measure is considered by the Senate Finance Committee.

Food-Price Spiral Likely to Continue

WASHINGTON — Higher food prices at grocery stores and in restaurants are likely for the rest of this year according to a new forecast by the Agriculture Department. Based on Aug. 1 conditions, the department said Friday that with little change likely in over-all food supplies and with higher farm prices retail food prices this year will rise by "somewhat more than the increase of 5.2 per cent last year."

Army Eliminates Special Reserve Force

WASHINGTON — The Army Friday eliminated a special "selected reserve force" set up four years ago for quick use in national war emergencies. This marked the end of another program initiated by former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The SRF totals some 137,000 men in National Guard and Reserve units which theoretically were supposed to be prepared to deploy eight weeks after callup. However, because of tight budget conditions and the equipment demands of the Vietnam war, the SRF never received all the gear it needed to fulfill such a mission, and extra training was curtailed. Their status now will be the same as all other guard and reserve units.

Top Three Copper Producers Up Prices

NEW YORK — The nation's three largest copper producers Friday posted price increases of two cents per pound for primary copper, effective with shipments beginning Monday. Kennecott Copper Corp. led off the move and was followed quickly by Phelps Dodge Corp. and Anaconda Co. The increases brought the price for electrolytic wire bars to a range of 48 to 48¼ cents per pound.

U.S. Still Awaiting Arms Talk Response

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials said Friday night they are still awaiting a response from Russia to President Nixon's proposal that U.S.-Soviet talks on strategic arms limitation be started sometime between July 31 and Aug. 15. Prospects for getting the discussions under way by mid-August appeared to be fading in view of the time required to make arrangements for such a conference once the date and place are decided.

Coed Slaying Suspect Held

Combined News Services

A 22-year-old fellow Eastern Michigan University student was charged Friday in the brutal slaying of Karen Sue Beineman, one of eight young women found slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in just over two years. John Norman Collins of Ypsilanti stood mute less than two hours after his arrest was announced. He was arraigned on a first-degree murder charge in Ypsilanti District Court. He was ordered held without bail.

Col. Fredrick Davids, state police director, said authorities were led to Collins by a report from an uncle who is a state police trooper. Asked at a news conference whether Collins also had been questioned in any of the other slayings, Davids declined specific comment, saying only "investigation of the others still is continuing." District Judge Edward Dake said a pretrial examination for Collins will be held within 10 days.

Davids, who took over-all charge of the investigation earlier this week to seek a solution to seven unsolved slayings among the eight, said Collins "looks like the composite sketch" of a motorcyclist last seen with Miss Beineman. Davids said the Beineman slaying was believed to have taken place at the Ypsilanti home of Collins' uncle, a state police corporal. Information from the uncle, Cpl. David Leik, led to the arrest on Thursday. Davids told newsmen Collins had access to the home during Leik's vacation absence to feed the family pet.

Collins lived in a rooming house within a few blocks of the Eastern Michigan campus, and Leik's residence also was nearby. Collins lived across the street from one earlier victim and about two blocks away from another, both Eastern Michigan coeds. Davids said Collins had been under surveillance even before Miss Beineman's body was discovered.

BONANNO SALE?

The Tucson Daily Citizen reported in a story from Woodside, Calif., that reputed Mafia chieftain and Tucson resident Joe Bonanno is trying to buy a home in the area. "We know that Bonanno and a real estate agent are angling for a home and are close to closing a deal," a government investigator told a reporter. Bonanno has asked court permission to move to the Woodside-Atherton area 30 miles south of San Francisco.

RUSS SEES RED

Britain told the Soviet Union Friday Russian author Anatoly Kuznetsov, who defected to this country Wednesday, refuses to see Soviet Embassy officials. The embassy, however, continued to insist on a meeting. Informed sources described Soviet envoy Mikhail N. Smirnovsky's mood as angry.

The Russians have been seeking a meeting with Kuznetsov for three days to satisfy themselves that he is staying in Britain voluntarily and to try and talk him into returning to Russia.

BUDDIES BACK

"Hey buddy, we're back again," a gunman announced the second time he robbed bartender Ed Gardner Friday in two stickups netting over $13,000. Gardner, manager of the Harmony Lounge in Miami said two men with pistols robbed his bar of $100 around 8:15 a.m. About 2 p.m., Gardner said he looked up and saw the same two men with guns. "The one guy says, 'Hey buddy, we're back again and this time I want you to open the safe.' " Gardner said he opened the safe and dumped about $13,000 in bills into a cardboard box held by the robber.

DOUBLE BENEFITS

The Senate sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday a bill doubling the retirement benefits for ailing Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan. The 80-year-old Jordan suffered a massive stroke three months ago that paralyzed his right side and left him unable to speak. But the seven-term state officer has given no indication that he plans to retire and to give up the post he has held since 1942.

NO BED MATE

Singer Marni Nixon was granted a default divorce Friday after testifying her husband did not share the bedroom with her. Miss Nixon, 39, told a Los Angeles Superior Court Judge that when she and her husband, Ernest Gold, 47, were out of town he wanted her to get a separate bedroom because "he did not want to be disturbed." At home, she said, they sometimes shared the same bedroom, "but never the same bed."

'PAYOFF' CLASH

AFL-CIO President George Meany and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., clashed Friday over Fulbright's suggestion the labor federation had been given a "payoff" by the Johnson administration for Meany's support of U.S. policy in Vietnam. Fulbright said he perhaps should not have described the financial subsidies for the AFL-CIO's foreign programs as a "payoff" for Meany's support of former President Johnson's foreign policy.

22,878-MILE TRIP OVER WEEKEND

Juanita Maddox, government affairs representative for Trans World Airlines, left after work for Europe Friday and said she'd be back on the job Monday morning after flying around the world. Mrs. Maddox, formerly of Harrisburg, Ill., timed her flight to take advantage of TWA's inauguration of round-the-world service. Her route will take her to Frankfurt, Germany, Zurich, Athens, Tel Aviv, Bombay, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Okinawa, Guam and Honolulu. She has a reservation on a flight leaving Los Angeles Sunday night and arriving at Friendship airport, between Washington and Baltimore, at 6:20 a.m. Monday. The first-class fare for the 22,878-mile globe-circling flight is $1,850,00. As a TWA employ, Mrs. Maddox is traveling on a pass, without charge.

NEW LOOKOUT

A 26-year-old astrophysicist Friday was named Director of the Griffith Park Observatory. Dr. William J. Kaufmann will take over the post in March, succeeding Dr. Clarence H. Cleminshaw, who retired last month after serving 33 years as head of the Los Angeles observatory.

ONE-DAY SOLO

Penny Brahms, 19, began taking flying lessons at 9 a.m. Thursday. Seven hours and 55 minutes later she made her first solo flight, becoming Biggin Hill, England's first woman to fly solo in one day.

2 GOP Leaders Rap Demos Tax Reform

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and President Nixon's communications director Herbert G. Klein got testy Friday over Democrats' claims of leading the push for tax reform.

Democrats, said Morton, "for 34 out of the last 36 years have had the opportunity to implement tax reform measures."

"The idea that liberal Democrats are the leaders behind tax reform could not be more misleading," said Klein. "The fact is the Democrats failed to come up with any meaning ful tax reform although they had eight years of domination of both the executive and legislative branches of government."

ROGERS MORTON
They Had Their Chance

BOTH MEN were among other GOP notables on hand to address a closed meeting of party contributors and fund raisers in Beverly Hilton Hotel, Beverly Hills.

Citing Nixon's "progressive and positive" actions, "his ability to really bite the bullet . . . with firm and positive moves toward solutions rather than the hand-wringing approach," Morton said Nixon's first six months have resulted in putting us "much, much nearer a solution in Vietnam . . . I think we're a long way downstream."

He said extension of the income surtax, the tax reform package, spending and budget changes all have specific effect on controlling inflation, "but you can't push a button to curb inflation — There's a lot of lead time required . . . I think it will probably take effect in two or three months. Some economists say six months."

Klein, speaking to newsmen after Morton, said strong national support for President Nixon's anti-inflationary devices could bring about "the time within a year when inflation rates will be on the decline."

KLEIN ANNOUNCED unequivocally that the administration had the votes to win its Senate battle for deployment of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system next Wednesday, even without a tie-breaking vote of the vice president.

Some Senators "comitted to our side do not want to publicly declare (their position now)," Klein said.

He also denied knowledge of any plan by the Nixon administration to accept partitioning of South Vietnam as a price for settlement of the war. Such reports were published Friday.

Remarks Klein prepared for delivery to the closed session of GOP contributors characterixed President Nixon's current world trip as one in which Nixon "is building policy for the post-Vietnam period. This assures us of stronger allies with less commitment of American troops . . . He is looking ahead rather than waiting for off-the-hip reaction."

New Mediator Due in Western Strike

Negotiations between Western Airlines and striking Teamsters Union mechanics went into an abrupt recess Friday after National Mediation Board Chairman Leverett Edwards was recalled to Washington, D.C.

However, the agency said another mediator—Charles Dulen, involved in the Western-Teamsters dispute earlier—was en route to Los Angeles and was expected to resume talks with the two parties either today or Sunday.

Western, grounded since Tuesday by the walkout, said Friday the airline is losing an estimated $200,000 daily.

THOSE LOSSES, coupled with waning hope for early settlement of the dispute over wages, fringe benefits and non-union personnel performing union work, were regarded as primary reasons for Friday announcement by the airline of the cancellation of $85 million worth of new jet aircraft from the Boeing Company.

Western said it had been forced to cancel orders for four 727 jets and three 747 jumbo jets. The company said the purchase had been "subject to arrangement of financing and was canceled when it became clear that such financing was not available at this time."

The 727s were to have been delivered next summer and the 747s in late 1970 and early 1971.

Bob Is Now Roberta —a Topless Dancer

MONTEREY (UPI) — Robert Lowell Malm, 25, a topless dancer, went into Superior Court Friday and emerged a few minutes later as Roberta Lowell Malm.

Permission for the change of name and legal status to female was granted by Judge Gordon Campbell without discussion.

The petition stated that Robert had undergone surgical procedures at Stanford University Medical Center from last December through March and now was classified as a female.

It added that the applicant was engaged to be married to a serviceman now in Germany, but did not give his name or a wedding date.

Since the surgery the 5-foot, 10-inch brunette, who lives in nearby Seaside, has been employed as a topless dancer at a Salinas night spot called the Bear Cave.

Roberta, three other females and the male manager are scheduled to go on trial in Salinas Municipal Court Sept. 17 on charges of presenting an indecent performance.

80 Employes Sick After Guard Cut

Willowbrook School District officials said more than half of the district's 80 clerks, typists and custodians called in sick Friday after security guards were eliminated.

George K. Owens, a spokesman for the employes, said the district's action would leave buildings unguarded evenings and weekends, making working conditions unsafe.

HE SAID employes would continue to call in sick until the school board agrees to discuss the matter.

Board President Lewis Roach denied that the board refused to meet with the employes.

The board dismissed security guards Tuesday, ordering custodians to guard the five elementary schools in the pre-dominantly Negro district.

Summer school ended last month.

Builders, Unions See U.S. Mediator

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Negotiators for 23,000 striking heavy equipment operators and three employer associations met with a federal mediator for the first time Friday.

A spokesman for the operating engineers union said more talks will be held soon but set no date.

LEARY BLAMES LAW TROUBLE ON BIGWIGS OUT TO GET HIM

RIVERSIDE (UPI) — Dr. Timothy Leary, apostle of LSD who is running for governor of California, blames his legal troubles on "some influential men in government out to get me."

Leary, 48, and his wife, Rosemary, 33, were served with a new felony complaint charging possession of dangerous and restricted drugs when Leary appeared in municipal court for arraignment on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

LEARY WAS dressed in moccasins, bell bottom trousers and a burgandy colored shirt. His grayying hair was fastened at the neck with a rubber band.

He said the arrest "showed some influential men in government are out to get me. I am the leading spokesman for the largest persecuted group in the country — 30 million marijuana smokers."

The main plank in Leary's campaign to become the state's first "psychedelic governor" is the legalization of marijuana.

Both charges stemmed from the drowning July 14 of a 17-year-old girl while she was swimming under the influence of LSD in a pool at Leary's ranch-commune near Hemet.

After receiving the autopsy report, a judge issued a search warrant for a raid on the ranch last week that resulted in the arrest of five persons on marijuana possession charges.

Leary was not at the ranch at the time. The sheriff's department said the drugs — eskatrol and dexedrine — that were the basis of the latest complaint against Leary were seized during the raid.

LEARY AND his lawyer said they thought the drugs were diet pills prescribed for his wife. He has denied criminal responsibility or giving the drowning victim LSD, in reference to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Leary, his wife and son, John, 19, also face trial in September on marijuana possession charges. The entire family was arrested in Laguna Beach last December.

SOUTHLAND BEACHES IN FINE SHAPE
Summer sunshine was skimpy, and so were beach costumes as low clouds and fog clung to the coastline Friday to avoid evaporation in blistering inland heat. Long Beach's maximum air temperature was a soggy 86 degrees—about 10 lower than predicted. The weatherman forecasts similar conditions today and Sunday, but is hopeful of more sun-soaked hours as temperatures climb over the weekend. A high of 93 is forecast for today.

Kaiser Urges Conciliation

Management of the Kaiser-Permanente Foundation health plan Friday urged the State Conciliation Service to enter new negotiations between Kaiser and an AFL-CIO union which has authorized a strike against the institution's medical facilities.

More than 800,000 persons — including many in the Long Beach area where Kaiser maintains at least five hospitals and clinics — would be affected by such a strike.

Members of the Service Employes Union Local 399 voted 1,509 to 135 late Thursday night to reject an immediate seven per cent across-the-board pay increase for all 3,000 union employes. Chief union negotiator Michael McDermott said unless some move is made by management to head it off, a walkout could occur next week. He pledged, in the interest of patient care, the union would give Kaiser ample notice should it strike.

Kaiser public relations director Jack Mullin, after announcing the plea for conciliation, said that Kaiser would continue to operate all facilities with professional and supervisory personnel filling in for the service employes.

"We have to operate," Mullin said. "The hospitals are full and people have to be cared for." He did acknowledge that should a strike come, persons requiring treatment that could be delayed would be asked to reschedule such treatment.

Kaiser operates hospitals in Bellflower and Harbor City as well as clinics in Huntington Park, Garden Grove and Long Beach. All other facilities in the Los Angeles County area — a total of 17 in all — would be similarly affected.

Teller Arraigned in $160,000 Theft

Terry Nelson Norman, 40, who stepped out of the Chino bank where he was employed and into the arms of waiting police, was arraigned Friday before a U.S. commissioner on charges of stealing $160,000 from a branch of the Bank of America.

Police had followed Norman's movements for more than 24 hours and had recorded his conversations both prior to the theft Thursday and while Norman was gathering up bundles of money inside the bank where he was an assistant teller.

Lt. Louis Moreno of the Chino police department said officers from undisclosed sources learned Wednesday that an attempt would be made to rob the bank the following day.

The officer said the suspect and another person discussed Norman's plans at a bar and the conversation was recorded. A microphone also was planted in the bank and officers heard Norman inside the bank as he gathered up bundles of money.

"When Norman walked out of the bank we had officers waiting for him," Lt. Moreno said. "He was surprised but made no effort to resist arrest."

AS A PRECAUTION in the event the suspect might try to escape, an officer with a rifle was stationed on top of the bank and a police helicopter was ready nearby to give chase.

"The whole operation went off very well, just like in the movies," Lt. Moreno said. "We had fine cooperation from the bank which knew of our plan and we also advised federal officials."

Because theft from a bank is a federal offense, Norman was turned over to U.S. marshals who took him to Los Angeles for arraignment. He was held in county jail in lieu of $50,000 bail.

Plumber Strike

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Negotiations were suspended Friday between employers and striking Southern California plumbers after a fruitless two-hour session in which the two sides were unable to agree on a wage - and - fringe - benefit package.

Noguchi Says Few Will Leave

Only two or three of the Coroner's Department staff members who testified against Dr. Thomas T. Noguchi during hearings over his dismissal from office will resign from their jobs, the county chief medical examiner-coroner predicted Friday.

"I think it will be very minimal," said Noguchi of reports a number of employes might leave the department.

NOGUCHI, reinstated Thursday after being dismissed from his post nearly five months ago, was back on the job Friday after the Board of Civil Service Examiners ordered his reinstatement and told the county to give him back pay to the date he was dismissed.

County supervisors fired Noguchi, 42, after Lindon S. Hollinger, county chief administrative officer, and several of Noguchi's subordinates accused the coroner of taking drugs, needing psychiatric care, threatening the lives of county officials and badly administering his office.

THE CIVIL service commission, after a month of deliberations that followed a seven-week hearing, ordered Noguchi reinstated to the $31,500-a-year job because the county "did not carry the burden of proof to sustain the charges" which led to his dismissal.

2 GOP Leaders Rap Demos Tax Reform

By BOB HOUSER

ROGERS MORTON
They Had Their Chance

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and President Nixon's communications director Herbert G. Klein got testy Friday over Democrats' claims of leading the push for tax reform.

Democrats, said Morton, "for 34 out of the last 36 years have had the opportunity to implement tax reform measures."

"The idea that liberal Democrats are the leaders behind tax reform could not be more misleading," said Klein. "The fact is the Democrats failed to come up with any meaning ful tax reform although they had eight years of domination of both the executive and legislative branches of government."

BOTH MEN were among other GOP notables on hand to address a closed meeting of party contributors and fund raisers in Beverly Hilton Hotel, Beverly Hills.

Citing Nixon's "progressive and positive" actions, "his ability to really bite the bullet . . . with firm and positive moves toward solutions rather than the hand-wringing approach," Morton said Nixon's first six months have resulted in putting us "much, much nearer a solution in Vietnam . . . I think we're a long way downstream."

He said extension of the income surtax, the tax reform package, spending and budget changes all have specific effect on controlling inflation, "but you can't push a button to curb inflation — There's a lot of lead time required . . . I think it will probably take effect in two or three months. Some economists say six months."

Klein, speaking to newsmen after Morton, said strong national support for President Nixon's anti-inflationary devices could bring about "the time within a year when inflation rates will be on the decline."

KLEIN ANNOUNCED unequivocally that the administration had the votes to win its Senate battle for deployment of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system next Wednesday, even without a tie-breaking vote of the vice president.

Some Senators "comitted to our side do not want to publicly declare (their position now)," Klein said.

He also denied knowledge of any plan by the Nixon administration to accept partitioning of South Vietnam as a price for settlement of the war. Such reports were published Friday.

Remarks Klein prepared for delivery to the closed session of GOP contributors characterixed President Nixon's current world trip as one in which Nixon "is building policy for the post-Vietnam period. This assures us of stronger allies with less commitment of American troops . . . He is looking ahead rather than waiting for off-the-hip reaction."

New Mediator Due in Western Strike

Negotiations between Western Airlines and striking Teamsters Union mechanics went into an abrupt recess Friday after National Mediation Board Chairman Leverett Edwards was recalled to Washington, D.C.

However, the agency said another mediator—Charles Dulen, involved in the Western-Teamsters dispute earlier—was en route to Los Angeles and was expected to resume talks with the two parties either today or Sunday.

Western, grounded since Tuesday by the walkout, said Friday the airline is losing an estimated $200,000 daily.

THOSE LOSSES, coupled with waning hope for early settlement of the dispute over wages, fringe benefits and non-union personnel performing union work, were regarded as primary reasons for Friday announcement by the airline of the cancellation of $85 million worth of new jet aircraft from the Boeing Company.

Western said it had been forced to cancel orders for four 727 jets and three 747 jumbo jets. The company said the purchase had been "subject to arrangement of financing and was canceled when it became clear that such financing was not available at this time."

The 727s were to have been delivered next summer and the 747s in late 1970 and early 1971.

Teller Arraigned in $160,000 Theft

Terry Nelson Norman, 40, who stepped out of the Chino bank where he was employed and into the arms of waiting police, was arraigned Friday before a U.S. commissioner on charges of stealing $160,000 from a branch of the Bank of America.

Noguchi Says Few Will Leave

Only two or three of the Coroner's Department staff members who testified against Dr. Thomas T. Noguchi during hearings over his dismissal from office will resign from their jobs, the county chief medical examiner-coroner predicted Friday.

"I think it will be very minimal," said Noguchi of reports a number of employes might leave the department.

ments on Pakistan's requests for 100 Patton tanks and other war equipment during 100 minutes of private talks with Yahya. They said Yahya explained Pakistan's dispute with India over the Kashmir area in detail, but Nixon has declined comment on the issue.

Washington cut out arms shipment to both India and Pakistan after their 1965 border war over the divided Himalayan state of Kashmir. The U.S. is reviewing the issue and expects to make a decision one of Pakistan's comlater this year.

The arms embargo was plaints against the U.S. as it shifted away in recent years from its former posture as a close ally. Now it uses arms in part supplied by Red China.

As in New Delhi, Nixon received a friendly Pakistan welcome in heat that soared into the 100s and helped keep crowds slim along the motorcade route.

MEANWHILE in Bucharest, U.S. and Romanian flags bedecked the streets and welcoming signs were out as Bucharest prepared a massive and enthusiastic greeting for Nixon.

Tens of thousands of workers, who ordinarily quit at 1 p.m. on Saturday, were being let off about 10 a.m. to join in cheering the first American President ever to visit a Communist capital.

President Nicolae Ceausescu, the independent Communist boss who wants better relations with the U.S. and the rest of the West, arranged to be at the Otopeni Airport. The two leaders will have two talks in Nixon's visit of a little more than 27 hours. Romanian television scheduled live coverage of the arrival cermonies.

Flags of the two nations were hung along the 12-mile route from the airport to the downtown area of the capital city of 1.5 million. U.S. and Romanian flags fluttered side by side at the airport. Nearby were signs saying: "Welcome the President of the United States, Mr. Nixon."

SECURITY precautions were strict. Some Western diplomats said they were without precedent in Burcharest. Scores of Romanian security officials checked houses lining the motorcade route.

Ceausescu on Friday Romania's desire for expanded relations with the U.S. In a statement published by the Communist party newspaper Scienteia he said conditions for better relations are good.

Ceausescu told a visiting group called American Professors for Peace, however: "Ultimately capitalism will have to make way for socialism-communism throughout the world."

"This is a law which cannot be done away with, but the problem has to be solved by the social forces and by the people of each country," he said.

Noting that Romania has called for an end of the war in Vietnam and a withdrawal of U.S. troops. He said Romanians "will set forth . . . our standpoint on the means of a settlement of the war in Vietnam as well as other conflicts on the globe."

On U.S.-Romanian relations, Ceausescu observed: "We appreciate that good conditions are at hand for a still ampler development of the relations of cooperations between Romania and the U.S.A.,"

Convicted of Draft Burnings

Three Pasadena men were convicted Friday by a federal court jury of burning Selective Service records last May in a parking lot near the Downtown induction center.

The convictions of Charles Edward Friend, 22, Walter Damon Skinner, 25, and Robert Steven Siegel, 22, touched off a noisy but orderly demonstration by some 75 of their supporters.

Judge Francis C. Whelan set sentencing for Aug. 7.

MRS. NIXON SERENADED

Mrs. Pat Nixon responds with a laugh as a Qawali band plays for her in Lahore, Pakistan, on her world tour with the President. Despite 113-degree heat, her mood was in sharp contrast to the strain she showed earlier in India when heat and pressing crowds upset her.

Moonmen Visit, Laud 'Columbia'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The man who circled the moon alone while his crewmates made history quietly visited the Apollo 11 spacecraft and said the burned, conelike capsule could fly again with a few repairs. "My happy home," he said, touching its charred surface.

"Just fix up the heartshield and it would be ready to fly again," said astronaut Michael Collins, affectionately patting the ship that he and his crewmates called "Columbia."

Collins, Apollo 11 commander Neil A. Armstrong and the third crewman, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., all paid homage late Friday to the space ship that carried them on their half-million-mile moon voyage.

TECHNICIANS today finish unloading equipment from the craft and deactivating its systems. The craft is in quarantine in the lunar receiving laboratory along with the three astronauts.

Meanwhile, two technicians who joined the astronauts in quarantine Friday after a vacuum chamber leak exposed them to lunar material were found healthy and without ill effects, a doctor in the quarantine said.

Ronald J. Buffum, 27, and George Williams, 42, went into isolation after a glove extending into a vacuum chamber suddenly ruptured.

BUFFUM, who was working with the glove, suffered a slight bruise from the force of air rushing to fill the vacuum of the chmaber. Williams helped him extract his arm from the long glove. Officials said the two showered for two hours after the incident and then were admitted into quarantine.

Buffura and Williams raised to 10 the number in quarantine, counting the three astronauts. Officials said the two technicians would have no effect on the termination date of quarantine, set for Aug. 11.

DEPLETION FIGHT

Oil Cutback, Price Raise Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An independent oil industry spokesman said Friday that if congress reduces the oil and gas depletion allowance, either oil drillers will cut back their work or the price of gasoline will go up a penny a gallon.

Harold McClure, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said, "Either we are going to have less drilling or higher prices. It will probably take around one cent per gallon to do it."

McClure said that in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee the oil industry failed to tell its story effectively, so that the public has a negative image of the oilman and feels he is getting away with financial murder.

THE COMMITTE IS CONSIDERING a reduction of the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 per cent to 20 per cent.

Most people think the oil companies get a full 27.5 per cent depletion allowance, he said, while the actual average is closer to 13 per cent, because of a limitation of the depletion to 50 per cent net income.

"People who want the deletion allowance cut are deluding themsleves if they tink it will bring a higher revenue inflow to the government," McClure added. "It will just reduce the amount of exploration and drilling."

McClure said only one of 50 oil wells drilled comes through with production.

"In addition, the information on where we are in our gas reserves is shocking. We cannot catch up. There is a tremendous increase in demand."

Japan Wants Okinawa Without Nuclear Bases

TOKYO, Saturday (UPI) — The United States is willing to try to return Okinawa to Japan by 1972 but the issue of nuclear bases on the island remains open, a Japanese government official said today.

A Japanese newspaper had said the U.S. has agreed to meet Japan's request that atomic weapons be removed from the Western Pacific island before it is returned to Japan in 1972.

"It is impossible for both governments at the present stage to reach agreement on such matters as reported in the newspapers," said Kazuo Chiba, chief of the American Affairs Bureau in the foreign ministry."

"It would be safe to say that the United States has expressed its willingness to try its best to reach accord in the future on the request outlined by the Japanese Government."

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Japanese foreign minister Kiichi Aichi discussed Okinawa in Tokyo earlier this week. Japan wants the island returned by 1972 with its nuclear bases removed.

The English-language Mainichi newspaper said the U. S. has already agreed to remove nuclear weapons from the fortress island and return it to Japan in 1972. No other newspaper made that claim, although the Japanese-language Mainichi and Asahi reported the situation as Chiba explained it.

U.S. embassy officials declined comment.

Airport High School Will Close February

The Los Angeles Board of Education has officially set next February for the closing of Airport Junior High because of noise and safety hazards at Los Angeles International Airport.

The board, which had stated previously it would close the school, said Thursday it decided on February instead of September after the airport commission agreed to postpone use of the new north runway during school hours until February.

DRILLING

el's proposed plan would be to pump all oil out of the undersea formation — a process which, Pecora had said then, would probably require about 200 wells and would take 10 to 20 years.

HICKEL, MOVING cautiously, has not committed himself to the full plan.

The eight wells now producing and the eight just authorized are far below the capacity of the drilling platforms which can handle 40 to 50 wells each.

Pecora said oil pumped by Union through these relief wells is treated as commercial production, but he was unable to say how much was being produced in this way.

He said the Geological Survey is preparing a report for release within the next month which would contain such information and other data.

The pumping of oil from the leaky area has been coupled with cement injections designed to seal the cracks through which oil had been seeping, and Pecora said this practice would continue with the new group of wells.

Baby Born on Japanese Airliner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A routine Japan Air Lines jet flight from Tokyo to San Francisco was more than a little enlivened Friday by the unscheduled birth of a girl at 29,000 feet.

Little Hung Oh and her mother, Madame Shek Wong Kan-Yu, were admitted in fine condition at Providence Hospital, Anchorage, Alaska, after the birth, a JAL spokesman said.

The great circle flight, Number 2, diverted to Anchorage with its 139 passengers after the birth at 5:55 a.m. PDT.

As pilot Geofferey Gilmour kept the plane steady and level after Madame Shek's labor pains increased, a doctor passenger, Dr. Wataru Ishizaki of Japan, delivered the infant with the help of two nurses.

Madame Shek, her husband and two sons were on the way to the United States from Hong Kong to live.

Police Bog Down in Bar Shootout Slaying Mystery

Police continued their investigation Friday into the slaying of a motorcycle gang member shot to death in a blazing gun battle in a Long Beach bar.

The bullet-riddled body of 26-year-old James (Super Spook) Bruns, 1032 Lime Ave., was found by police in the Red Lion Bar, 4421 E. Village Rd.

ANOTHER motorcyclist involved in the gun duel, 23-year-old Russell Sorenson, 705 W. First St., remained in critical condition in Woodruff Community Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

Although about 35 persons reportedly were in the bar when the gun battle flared, police were unable to find a witness who could describe how the shooting fracas started, or who fired the fatal shots.

Detective Sgt. David Bauer appeared bogged down in attempts to learn the identity of the slayer who blasted at least six slugs into Bruns body, killing him instantly.

How Sorenson was shot, or by whom, also remains a mystery.

About the only thing certain is the fatal shooting stemmed from a smouldering argument between Bruns and Sorenson concerning alleged improper advances made by the dead man to the wounded man's wife, police said.

A LOADED and cocked .45 caliber automatic pistol—from which several shots had been fired—was found on the floor near Bruns body. Several expended .22 caliber cartridge casings also were found by police in the bar, although the smaller caliber weapon was not there.

Police said the bar recently became the involuntary hangout for members of three notorious motorcycle gangs, the Hessians, Devil's Disciples and the Sons of Thor. It was not immediately known to which groups Bruns and Sorenson belonged, officers added.

United Asks Fare Hikes Up to 10%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's largest airline —United—Friday asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve higher passenger fares by as much as 10 per cent.

The rest of the major airlines are expected to file for fare hikes of their own shortly. If the board approves, it would be the second fare increase given the airlines since February when the board approved a 3 per cent boost.

In its petition, the airline said a continued decline in earnings "makes an increase in revenues for the entire air transport industry absolutely necessary."

Under its proposal, medium length trips would go up about 10 per cent, and coast to coast flights would cost 3 per cent more. For example, a Washington-to-San Francisco coach ticket would rise from $137 to $142. On a short haul flight like Washington-to-Norfolk the coach ticket would go from $17 to $24.

United estimated the increases would average out to 6.6 per cent for all categories.

Although the industry was granted a fare increase in February, the peculiar nature of the business has resulted in continuing low returns on investment. During all of 1968, earnings for the 12 major air carriers declined by 34 per cent compared with the previous year.

The cab allows airlines to make rate of return—what they get back for what they've invested—of up to 10 per cent. At the moment, the return rate is about 5 per cent, according to airlines.

SAN RAMON (AP) — Four years of age is pretty young to be a hero, but Gregory Garcia is taking it all in stride.

He pulled a playmate, Rhonda Judish, 3, from the swimming pool at his home after she lost her grip on the edge in nine feet of water.

Her mother, Hillary Garcia, said, "Just a short time ago Gregory was afraid of the water." "Now he swims and dives and knows what to do in an emergency.

What he did was hoist the little girl to safety and ran for his mother, who revived the child with artificial respiration. San Ramon is 15 miles east of Oakland.

Refunds on Tax to Be Posted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The third batch of $70 property-tax refund checks will be mailed to Californians Aug. 8, controller Houston I. Flournoy announced Friday.

Flournoy said there will be about 70,000 checks in the third mailing to refund applicants not covered by the first two mailings June 13 and July 19 which totaled more than 2.38-million checks.

ABOUT 44,000 checks in the latest mailing will go to Los Angeles County taxpayers.

Flournoy said his office is still receiving certified refund applications from county assessors.

A proposition providing for the rebates was approved last November by California voters.

Mariner 7 Sending Bad Data

By DAVID JENSEN

PASADENA, (UPI) — Delight over the success of Mariner 6, which sent back fascinating closeup pictures of the crater scarred surface of Mars, was marred Friday by a malfunctioning of its space twin mariner 7 as it neared the red planet.

Mariner 7 was to begin taking its pictures of Mars Friday night from about 1.1 million miles out as it sped toward a 2,000 mile flyby Monday of the red planet's surface.

But a loss of 20 of its many telemetry channels could affect the success of its scientific instruments designed to help determine whether the red planet could support life.

The success of the Mariner porbe depends upon both spacecraft completing their duties. The twin Mariners, between them, were to photograph at close range virtually the entire surface of Mars, with Mariner 7 concentrating on the polar regions.

Mariner's photographs of the equatorial region disclosed a surface pocked marked with craters, similar to the moon.

SCIENTISTS Friday afternoon flashed a command to Mariner 7 nearly 60 million miles away to turn on the power for its scientific experiments and to begin testing its camera shutters.

All of the experiments and the cameras and its scan platform appeared to be functioning properly, scientists said.

Robert Crabtree, director of flight operations for Mariner, said that the 20 telemetry channels were sending out erroneous signals and scientists did not expect to recover use of them.

The loss of these channels could affect some of the science experiments "in a minor fashion," Crabtree said.

The communications blackout was caused when the craft's high gain antenna was knocked out of its lock on the star Canopus. Scientists theroized it was either hit by a meteorite or some other object or that some internal problem developed.

Scientists Friday studied data from scientific instruments aboard Mariner 6 in an attempt to determine if life could exists on the red planet.

PRELIMINARY findings from these instruments that measured temperature, atmosphere and other conditions that would indicate whether the planet could support life were scheduled to be released today.

The closeup pictures from Mariner 6's "near encounter" with Mars when it swooped to within 2,130 miles of the planet's surface were first shown on earth Thursday night. They disclosed Mars' equatoral region to be riddled with craters similar to those on the moon but failed to solve the mystery of the canals that have tantalized astronomers for years.

Only one picture gave any evidence at all of a possible canal. A spokesman for Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said that the picture would undergo electronic "enhancing" to clarify the features which showed up as a dark marking.

FIRST AMERICAN TAKEN PRISONER

Wife of N. Viet Captive Breaks Grim Silence

SAN JOSE (AP) — She maintained a grim silence for years, but finally the waiting became too much for attractive Mrs. Everett Alvarez, wife of the first American prisoner in the Vietnam war.

She appealed openly Friday to Hanoi and to persons the world around to bring about freedom for Navy Lt. Alvarez, 31, who was shot down five years ago during the second day of U.S. air operations over North Vietnam.

"I DON'T believe enough is being done about the prisoners of war," the 25-year-old portrait studio receptionist said.

"The Communists have been known to react to world opinion in the past, like in 1966, when they changed their minds about trying captives as war criminals.

"If world opinion would really stir it up, I think the Communists would cooperate."

Mrs. Alvarez has been allowed to exchange letters with her husband at the rate of about one a month, she said.

HE WAS captured three months after he left for overseas, less than six months after the couple's marriage in San Jose.

"We're still newlyweds," she said wistfully.

It might be hoped, she added, that the Communists would consider the long time involved and let him go.

"Others have been released in much less time," she said.

"I'd even go to North Vietnam if it would help."

NORTH VIETNAMESE authorities allow her to send a single sheet, "which I cover on both sides with words of love and devotion," she said.

Per instructions, she put 26 cents postage on each letter, drops it off at the post office, and has no idea how it eventually gets to her husband.

Her last letter from him, written in March, was received last month, thanking her for a package thanking her for a package she sent him last Christmas.

She kept her long silence, she said, on instructions from the U.S. State Department and the Navy.

Flags of the two nations were hung along the 12-mile route from the airport to the downtown area of the capital city of 1.5 million. U.S. and Romanian flags fluttered side by side at the airport. Nearby were signs saying: "Welcome the President of the United States, Mr. Nixon."

Three Pasadena men were convicted Friday by a federal court jury of burning Selective Service records last May in a parking lot near the Downtown induction center.

The convictions of Charles Edward Friend, 22, Walter Damon Skinner, 25, and Robert Steven Siegel, 22, touched off a noisy but orderly demonstration by some 75 of their supporters.

Judge Francis C. Whelan set sentencing for Aug. 7.

Moonmen Visit, Laud 'Columbia'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The man who circled the moon alone while his crewmates made history quietly visited the Apollo 11 spacecraft and said the burned, conelike capsule could fly again with a few repairs. "My happy home," he said, touching its charred surface.

"Just fix up the heartshield and it would be ready to fly again," said astronaut Michael Collins, affectionately patting the ship that he and his crewmates called "Columbia."

Collins, Apollo 11 commander Neil A. Armstrong and the third crewman, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., all paid homage late Friday to the space ship that carried them on their half-million-mile moon voyage.

TECHNICIANS today finish unloading equipment from the craft and deactivating its systems. The craft is in quarantine in the lunar receiving laboratory along with the three astronauts.

Meanwhile, two technicians who joined the astronauts in quarantine Friday after a vacuum chamber leak exposed them to lunar material were found healthy and without ill effects, a doctor in the quarantine said

Ronald J. Buffum, 27, and George Williams, 42, went into isolation after a glove extending into a vacuum chamber suddenly ruptured.

BUFFUM, who was working with the glove, suffered a slight bruise from the force of air rushing to fill the vacuum of the chmaber. Williams helped him extract his arm from the long glove. Officials said the two showered for two hours after the incident and then were admitted into quarantine.

Buffum and Williams raised to 19 the number in quarantine, counting the three astronauts. Officials said the two technicians would have no effect on the termination date of quarantine, set for Aug. 11.

DEPLETION FIGHT

Oil Cutback, Price Raise Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An independent oil industry spokesman said Friday that if congress reduces the oil and gas depletion allowance, either oil drillers will cut back their work or the price of gasoline will go up a penny a gallon.

Harold McClure, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said, "Either we are going to have less drilling or higher prices. It will probably take around one cent per gallon to do it."

McClure said that in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee the oil industry failed to tell its story effectively, so that the public has a negative image of the oilman and feels he is getting away with financial murder.

THE COMMITTE IS CONSIDERING a reduction of the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 per cent to 20 per cent.

Most people think the oil companies get a full 27.5 per cent depletion allowance, he said, while the actual average is closer to 13 per cent, because of a limitation of the depletion to 50 per cent net income.

"People who want the deletion allowance cut are deluding themsleves if they tink it will bring a higher revenue inflow to the government," McClure added. "It will just reduce the amount of exploration and drilling."

McClure said only one of 50 oil wells drilled comes through with production.

"In addition, the information on where we are in our gas reserves is shocking. We cannot catch up. There is a tremendous increase in demand."

Japan Wants Okinawa Without Nuclear Bases

TOKYO, Saturday (UPI) — The United States is willing to try to return Okinawa to Japan by 1972 but the issue of nuclear bases on the island remains open, a Japanese government official said today.

A Japanese newspaper had said the U.S. has agreed to meet Japan's request that atomic weapons be removed from the Western Pacific island before it is returned to Japan in 1972.

"It is impossible for both governments at the present stage to reach agreement on such matters as reported in the newspapers," said Kazuo Chiba, chief of the American Affairs Bureau in the foreign ministry.

"It would be safe to say that the United States has expressed its willingness to try its best to reach accord in the future on the request outlined by the Japanese Government."

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Japanese foreign minister Kiichi Aichi discussed Okinawa in Tokyo earlier this week. Japan wants the island returned by 1972 with its nuclear bases removed.

The English-language Mainichi newspaper said the U. S. has already agreed to remove nuclear weapons from the fortress island and return it to Japan in 1972. No other newspaper made that claim, although the Japanese-language Mainichi and Asahi reported the situation as Chiba explained it.

U.S. embassy officials declined comment.

Airport High School Will Close February

The Los Angeles Board of Education has officially set next February for the closing of Airport Junior High because of noise and safety hazards at Los Angeles International Airport.

The board, which had stated previously it would close the school, said Thursday it decided on February instead of September after the airport commission agreed to postpone use of the new north runway during school hours until February.

el's proposed plan would be to pump all oil out of the undersea formation — a process which, Pecora had said then, would probably require about 200 wells and would take 10 to 20 years.

HICKEL, MOVING cautiously, has not committed himself to the full plan.

The eight wells now producing and the eight just authorized are far below the capacity of the drilling platforms which can handle 40 to 50 wells each.

Pecora said oil pumped by Union through these relief wells is treated as commercial production, but he was unable to say how much was being produced in this way.

He said the Geological Survey is preparing a report for release within the next month which would contain such information and other data.

The pumping of oil from the leaky area has been coupled with cement injections designed to seal the cracks through which oil had been seeping, and Pecora said this practice would continue with the new group of wells.

M'GOVERN ON NIXON:

'Asian Virus' Makes Him Talk That Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "A new fever that sometimes afflicts American presidents traveling in Asia" has struck President Nixon, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., told the Senate Friday.

He said in the past week Nixon has made these observations:

—The Apollo 11 crew has accomplished a feat exceeded only by God's creation of the universe.

—The Vietnam war represents "out finest hour."

—The United States will go to war on behalf of Thailand.

—President Nguyen VanaThieu of South Vietnam is one of the great statesmen of our age.

"Perhaps until we know more about this new strain of Asian virus," McGovern said, "The President woudl be willing to return to the U.S. in the quarantine chamber recently used by the astronauts . . . This would provide a period of safe observation."

Lockheed Wins $3.2-Billion Navy Antisub Plane Pact

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy choose Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Friday for a potential $3.2-billion program to build a fleet of advanced antisubmarine warfare planes capable of dealing with a growing Russian sub threat in the 1970s. It is the first new major aircraft program pushed toward production by the Nixon administration.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. of Burbank, Calif., was awarded a $461-million contract for research and development of the new S-3A carrier-based ASW plane, including production of six prototypes.

THE CONTRACT gives the Navy the option of buying 193 more planes "contingent upon a successful development phase of the program," the Navy said.

The estimated ceiling price of the full program over an eight-year period would be $3.2 billion, including research and development, production, spare parts, and various types of support. This works out to about $16.2 million per plane.

The full funding of the first year's installment, about $120 million hings upon congressional approval of budget requests.

Lockheed won the award over General Dynamics Corp. after a competition.

The two other Lockheed Aircraft programs have run into difficulties.

The C-5 Air Force supertransport program is $1.7 billion over original estimates and the Air Force has announced it wants a major revision in the contract.

THE ARMY last May canceled a contract with Lockheed to produce a new helicopter gunship called the Cheyenne because technical problems prevented meeting production schedules.

However, in announcing the ASW patrol plane contract, the Navy said "the prior performance of the competing contractors was thoroughly reviewed during the selection process, with particular emphasis on recent Navy programs." Cited was Lockheed's experience in desiging and producing the B-2 and the B-3 ASW aircraft and the Polaris missile system.

Lockheed is currently producing the P-3C Orion, land-based counterpart of the carrier-based S-3A.

The S-3A will replace a plane which has been service for more than 15 years. Its first flight is expected in early 1972 and it is due to be introduced into the fleet in 1973.

Acting Secretary of the Navy John W. Warner said "the development of the S-3 aircraft will be of major importance to the Navy throughout the next decade, in view of the increasing size and sophistication of the Soviet submarine threat."

The S-3A will be powered by two turbofan engines capable of speeds of more than 400 miles an hour. It will have a range of more than 2,000 nautical miles. It will be able to fly in all weathers "to search for, localize and destroy enemy submarines." It is designed to carry a range of weapons including homing torpedoes, mines, depth charges, rockets and missiles.

Demos to Pay Expense Tab

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Committee Friday took over the $2 million in preconvention campaign debts of three candidates for the 1968 presidential nomination, raising its total debt to almost $8 million.

The candidates were former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

A committee spokesman said Humphrey's unpaid expenses amounted to slightly more than $1 million, Kennedy's almost $1 million and McGovern's about $20,000. He said the campaign organization of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota already had made arrangements to handle McCarthy's expenses.

Assumption of the debts was approved Friday by the executive committee as a follow-up on action taken at a Jan. 15 national committee meeting. The takeover of the preconvention debts is contingent on cooperation by the candidates or their campaign associations in party fund-raising activities.

BILL WOULD HIKE GI AID

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California Rep. Glenn Anderson, D-Torrance, introduced legislation Friday to broaden the GI Bill aid program for veterans so that word of its provisions gets out to more veterans.

A similar bill is in the Senate.

Anderson's bill would set up "outreach" programs to tell veterans what benefits they can get for going to school upon their discharge. About half the veterans of World War II took advantage of the GI Bill provisions, he said, but only 20 per cent of the Vietnam returnees are doing so.

Muskie Takes Over Anti-ABM Leadership With Tough Speech

By JOHN HALL

SEN. MUSKIE
Russ Fear First Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie warned Friday that the Safeguard ABM is a "dangerous and provocative" weapon which could be regarded by Russia as part of an eventual American first-strike force.

Muskie, regarded as a prime contender for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, seized the leadership in the anti-ABM fight with a strong speech that contained some of the toughest language in the four-week debate.

His argument was not that the ABM is unworkable, but that it might work too well.

He noted President Nixon's claim the ABM would be a purely defensive weapon to protect America's ability to strike back. But he said, "credibility is a protection for our own defense."

A FIRST-STRIKE, in the language of strategic planners, is one that can hurt an enemy so badly its ability to retaliate is eliminated or sharply reduced.

With an extremely close vote forecast when the showdown comes Wednesday, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who boosted Muskie's presidential hopes with his own withdrawal after an auto accident, may address the Senate next week on the ABM. Like Muskie, Kennedy is opposed to its deployment.

Most senators were counting 48 votes against the ABM with four of the 100 members still publicly undecided. Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., one of the holdouts, is expected to come out against the ABM in a statement Saturday.

Muskie said the Safeguard, together with multiple-warhead missiles which the United States is developing, "could be converted into a system suitable for launching a first strike attack upon the Soviet Union, while minimizing retaliatory damage to the United States."

He said American assurances that it sought no first strike capability could not offset what the Soviets perceive as the "threatening direction" of U.S. strategic planning.

HE RAISED the possibility that the Soviets' unmanned lunar expedition during the flight of Apollo 11 to the moon was somehow related to these Soviet fears.

"The mysterious efforts of the Soviets' Luna vehicle to dog the heels of our Apollo 11 may well be fresh evidence that they do not take all our declarations at face value," he declared.

The speech by the 1968 Democratic vice presidential nominee contained possibly the strongest language in the ABM controversy since Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird warned last spring that the Soviet Union was unmistakably developing a first strike capability of its own. Laird based that argument on the Soviet deployment of missiles with warheads big enough to knock out U.S. missile silos.

BUT MUSKIE said that to the Russians, an American first-strike capability might seem "terrifyingly real." He said the area defense capability of the Safeguard, primarily aimed at blocking a primitive Chinese-style attack, could also "serve to defend the United States against the weak retaliatory effort the Soviets might be capable of mounting after receiving a first-strike attack."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said the ABM was only part of the time-honored "natural trait of defending yourself, keeping you powder dry, barricading your arsenal."

He told the Senate the best insurance either side could have against a nuclear strike "would be for both to have an effective ABM."

"We could be in an awfully bad fix if we do not have any kind of defense of this kind," he said. "We'll have that uncertainty that makes blackmail against us, if they try, 1,000 times more effective.

Pesticides Linked to Nerve Gas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A private New York researcher asked Congress Friday to ban pesticides he said were chemical first cousins to nerve gas and were spreading death and injury among farmers and suburban gardeners.

Jerome Gordon, president of Delphic Systems and Research, Inc., which has government research contracts, identified the pesticides as organic phosphors, distributed under such trade names as Parathion, Methyl parathion, Tepp and Malthion.

"Fifty million pounds of pesticides originally developed in World War II as a German nerve gas are being spread unchecked on America's farms and gardens," Gordon told the Senate subcommittee on migratory labor.

"The result is that uncounted thousands of the nation's migrant farm workers, farmers and suburban homeowners have been fatally overcome or seriously disabled."

Chemical Weapon Research Good for You, Army Says

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is trying to show that chemical warfare research is good for you.

The new issue of the Army Digest says "vast and complex advantages in health, economics and social. betterment . . . are accruing to the entire nation from research and development" in chemical and biological warfare.

"This is an area where the Bunsen burner and retort of the chemical laboratory are providing not only defensive chemical-biological capability for our military forces — but where sometimes even the weapons themselves turn out to be of value in fields of medicine, agriculture or manufacturing," said the Digest, a monthly publication distributed within the Army and to interested persons outside the Army.

"Sometimes by accidental discovery, more often by continuing and relentless scientific investigation, the work of the Chemical Corps transcends national defense to bring incalculable benefits to the civilian economy and personal well being . . .

"A QUICK LISTING of chemical research and development would include vaccines, compounds for weed control, studies predicting behavior of plant disease epidemics, development of building designs, equipment and working procedures to protect against chemical hazards, and many others."

The Army stated its case at a time when the whole U.S. chemical warfare program is under the heaviest attack in many years. Among the benefits of CBW research, the Army listed these developments:

—Use of nitrogen mustard for treating cancer.

—Use of nerve gas types to relieve glaucoma, an eye disease which often leads to blindness.

—Antidotes for metal poisoning.

—Application of various toxic compounds in fire extinguishants.

—Improved methods for detecting minute quantities of cyanide in industry.

The Army said also that many devices designed to protect soldiers in the field are now being adapted for surgical use in hospitals or for industrial plants — devices such as carbon monoxide masks.

"Little known to the public, but of vast import, are the benefits to agriculture that have resulted as a spinoff from investigation of protective methods against killing chemical agents," the article said.

M'GOVERN ON NIXON:

'Asian Virus' Makes Him Talk That Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "A new fever that sometimes afflicts American presidents traveling in Asia" has struck President Nixon, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., told the Senate Friday.

He said in the past week Nixon has made these observations:

—The Apollo 11 crew has accomplished a feat exceeded only by God's creation of the universe.

—The Vietnam war represents "out finest hour."

—The United States will go to war on behalf of Thailand.

—President Nguyen VanaThieu of South Vietnam is one of the great statesmen of our age.

"Perhaps until we know more about this new strain of Asian virus," McGovern said, "The President woudl be willing to return to the U.S. in the quarantine chamber recently used by the astronauts . . . This would provide a period of safe observation."

Lockheed Wins $3.2-Billion Navy Antisub Plane Pact

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy choose Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Friday for a potential $3.2-billion program to build a fleet of advanced antisubmarine warfare planes capable of dealing with a growing Russian sub threat in the 1970s. It is the first new major aircraft program pushed toward production by the Nixon administration.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. of Burbank, Calif., was awarded a $461-million contract for research and development of the new S-3A carrier-based ASW plane, including production of six prototypes.

THE CONTRACT gives the Navy the option of buying 193 more planes "contingent upon a successful development phase of the program," the Navy said.

The estimated ceiling price of the full program over an eight-year period would be $3.2 billion, including research and development, production, spare parts, and various types of support. This works out to about $16.2 million per plane.

The full funding of the first year's installment, about $120 million hings upon congressional approval of budget requests.

Lockheed won the award over General Dynamics Corp. after a competition.

The two other Lockheed Aircraft programs have run into difficulties.

The C-5 Air Force supertransport program is $1.7 billion over original estimates and the Air Force has announced it wants a major revision in the contract.

THE ARMY last May canceled a contract with Lockheed to produce a new helicopter gunship called the Cheyenne because technical problems prevented meeting production schedules.

However, in announcing the ASW patrol plane contract, the Navy said "the prior performance of the competing contractors was thoroughly reviewed during the selection process, with particular emphasis on recent Navy programs." Cited was Lockheed's experience in desiging and producing the B-2 and the B-3 ASW aircraft and the Polaris missile system.

Lockheed is currently producing the P-3C Orion, land-based counterpart of the carrier-based S-3A.

The S-3A will replace a plane which has been service for more than 15 years. Its first flight is expected in early 1972 and it is due to be introduced into the fleet in 1973.

Acting Secretary of the Navy John W. Warner said "the development of the S-3 aircraft will be of major importance to the Navy throughout the next decade, in view of the increasing size and sophistication of the Soviet submarine threat."

The S-3A will be powered by two turbofan engines capable of speeds of more than 400 miles an hour. It will have a range of more than 2,000 nautical miles. It will be able to fly in all weathers "to search for, localize and destroy enemy submarines." It is designed to carry a range of weapons including homing torpedoes, mines, depth charges, rockets and missiles.

Demos to Pay Expense Tab

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Committee Friday took over the $2 million in preconvention campaign debts of three candidates for the 1968 presidential nomination, raising its total debt to almost $8 million.

The candidates were former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

A committee spokesman said Humphrey's unpaid expenses amounted to slightly more than $1 million, Kennedy's almost $1 million and McGovern's about $20,000. He said the campaign organization of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota already had made arrangements to handle McCarthy's expenses.

Assumption of the debts was approved Friday by the executive committee as a follow-up on action taken at a Jan. 15 national committee meeting. The takeover of the preconvention debts is contingent on cooperation by the candidates or their campaign associations in party fund-raising activities.

BILL WOULD HIKE GI AID

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California Rep. Glenn Anaerson, D-Torrance, introduced legislation Friday to broaden the GI Bill aid program for veterans so that word of its provisions gets out to more veterans.

A similar bill is in the Senate.

Anderson's bill would set up "outreach" programs to tell veterans what benefits they can get for going to school upon their discharge. About half the veterans of World War II took advantage of the GI Bill provisions, he said, but only 20 per cent of the Vietnam returnees are doing so.

Ex-Lobby Kingpin Samish Bites Hands That Fed Him

By TRACY WOOD

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Arthur H. (Artie) Samish, czar lobbyist of a bygone era, returned to the capital after 20 years Friday and proposed heavily taxing the very industries he once protected.

The bald 72-year-old former kingpin of California lobbyists broke his self-imposed silence on public speaking and told Sacramento newsmen that "suffering people" must be given tax relief.

"I don't care about the hand that used to feed me," the 250-pound Samish said. "You're going to need a poorman's lobby representative up here some day."

HE PROPOSED new and higher taxes on liquor, beer, horseracing, oil and other minerals, and cigarettes. As a lobbyist 20 years ago, Samish represented liquor, beer, horseracing and mineral interests.

Asked if he had it to do all over again whether he'd do anything differently, Samish grinned and replied:

"Not a thing."

"The windup wasn't so pleasant but it wasn't so bad," he said.

Samish was convicted of income tax evasion in 1953 and served 26 months in the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash.

Samish candidly answered questions put to him by members of the Sacramento Press Club and humorously recalled his controversial past.

ARTIE SAMISH
'Secret Boss' Reminisces

Samish spoke to the club in the same hotel from which he pulled legislative strings nearly a quarter of a century ago. It is located across the street from the state capitol

"We didn't care particularly about the public. "We were paid to do a job and we did the job pretty well. In the event they (the public) didn't approve of what I did or of my association with legislators, all they had to do was elect the proper people to the legislature," he said.

"IN THOSE DAYS we used to be friendly with the speaker of the Assembly and friendly with the lieutenant governor and saw that the proper committees were appointed," Samish said with a smile.

Asked how that was done, he replied:

"There's only one way to do it and that's by word of mouth."

Samish then was asked if contributing great amounts of money into election campaigns wasn't a form of word-of-mouth communication.

"I presume so," he smiled.

Does today's legislature act more in the public interest than that of 25 years ago?

"Not up to the present time," said Samish. "In my day they (legislators) got $100 and they were satisfied."

The legislature recently voted itself a $3,200 annual pay raise hiking salaries from $16,000 a year to $19,200 annually beginning in 1971.

Samish's influence began to decline in 1949 when he posed for a picture in the now-defunct Collier's magazine. He was holding a dummy dressed as a hobo on his knee. The caption read: "Said the big man: 'And how are you today Mr. Legislature.' "

He was described as the "secret boss of California." Former Gov. Earl Warren once said, "On matters that affect his clients, Artie Samish has more power than the governor."

Samish now lives quietly in San Francisco where he runs an import-export business. He also owns a hotel in Palm Springs.

ATTACKS BRING HOSPITAL POLICY SHIFT

SACRAMENTO (AP) — In the wake of homosexual attacks on a 13-year-old patient, state mental health officials ordered doctors at Napa State Hospital Friday to start returning juvenile court cases with behavior disorders to the California Youth Authority.

Dr. E. F. Galioni, chief of hospitals for the State Mental Hygiene Department, sent the new orders to the medical director at Napa, Dr. Robert J. Spratt.

THE KEY PART of the directive ordered a change in the admissions policies of the children's unit.

"Juvenile court cases who have behavior disorders, and can more appropriately be handled by the California Youth Authority, are not to be admitted to the children's unit," Galioni's order said.

The department's information officer, Al Calais, said the change will result in more emphasis on treatment of the mentally disturbed youths and less emphasis on observation.

CALAIS SAID the new order would affect about half the 183 patients in the children's unit at Napa, and 20 to 25 per cent of the patients in Camarillo State Hospital's children's unit.

These youngsters, he said, are referred to the hospitals by the Youth Authority or juvenile courts for observation and diagnosis.

The two boys who attacked the other youth were juvenile court cases, Calais said, and have been returned to juvenile court.

GALIONI'S order also told the hospital to hold down admissions until the patient population reaches 167, the rated bed capacity of the unit.

He also said all nursing positions authorized for the ward are to be filled "without delay with qualified and trained personnel," and staffing of the children's unit will give the various wings equal attention.

Preserve-the-Bay Conservationists Win Big Victory

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Legislature sent to Gov. Reagan Friday a strong bill to preserve San Francisco Bay, climaxing one of the roughest conservation battles in recent years.

The action was a major victory for conservation forces and a blow to private and public interests which opposed stricter controls over filling the bay, which has shrunk from more than 600 square miles a century ago to not much more than 400 miles now.

THE DAY'S crucial vote came when the Senate passed the bill 24-9 with opponents fighting the measure even beyond the final roll call with every parliamentary device they could muster.

That sent it back to the Assembly, which had passed it earlier and promptly ratified Senate amendments on a 51-4 vote. This moved it to Reagan's desk, and the governor has indicated he would sign virtually any save-the-bay legislation.

The bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, makes permanent the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, a watchdog agency set up in 1965 to control filling of the bay. It would have gone out of existence late this year if lawmakers didn't act.

IN ADDITION, the bill strengthens the commission's power over development around the bay. Two important sections give it control over a 100-foot shoreline-buffer zone around the entire 276-mile bay shore and over salt ponds owned by Leslie Salt Co. in the southern bay.

Leslie, the Santa Fe Railroad, Utah Construction Co., Standard Oil Co. and Westbay Associates had opposed the measure.

Supporters, who brought hundreds of persons to several Capitol hearings on the matter, were led by various conservation organizations who said the bay would vanish under developers' bulldozers without strong legislation.

A PROPONENT, Democratic Assemblyman John J. Miller of Berkeley, called passage of the bill a result of "people power" that couldn't have been accomplished in the past.

Senate opponents were rebuffed in attempts to offer new and delaying amendments to the bill. Senate President pro tem Howard Way, R-Exter, a strong supporter of the bill, overruled their protests on parliamentary rulings and brought the bill to a final vote.

A FOE, Democratic Sen. Ralph A. Dills of Gardena, predicted the commission will condemn land to take for public uses such as parks, and that the money to pay private property owners would come form the state treasury.

He called it "taking a step to do the greatest violence to the taxpayers of the state . . . that I can think of . . ."

He offered to sing — but didn't — a few bars of "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and added: "We lost our shirts in BCDC — that's what the taxpayers of California will be singing."

Business Tax Relief Approved

SACRAMANTO (AP) — An Assembly - passed bill providing tax relief for businessmen with big inventories cleared a key Senate committee Friday.

The Revenue and Taxation Committee sent the measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, to the Financae Committee.

Bagley said the bill, which increases the business inventory tax exemption from 15 per cent to 30 per cent for two years, "is the only surviving bill in the governor's tax program."

The remianing bills in Gov. Reagan's tax package are stalled in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee — and the Republicans announced earlier that despite Democratic protests they will not be brought to the floor for consideration this year.

Smile, Bargain Hunters!

Ex-Lobby Kingpin Samish Bites Hands That Fed Him

By TRACY WOOD

ARTIE SAMISH
'Secret Boss' Reminisces

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Arthur H. (Artie) Samish, czar lobbyist of a bygone era, returned to the capital after 20 years Friday and proposed heavily taxing the very industries he once protected.

The bald 72-year-old former kingpin of California lobbyists broke his self-imposed silence on public speaking and told Sacramento newsmen that "suffering people" must be given tax relief.

"I don't care about the hand that used to feed me," the 250-pound Samish said. "You're going to need a poorman's lobby representative up here some day."

HE PROPOSED new and higher taxes on liquor, beer, horseracing, oil and other minerals, and cigarettes. As a lobbyist 20 years ago, Samish represented liquor, beer, horseracing and mineral interests.

Asked if he had it to do all over again whether he'd do anything differently, Samish grinned and replied:

"Not a thing."

"The windup wasn't so pleasant but it wasn't so bad," he said.

Samish was convicted of income tax evasion in 1953 and served 26 months in the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash.

Samish candidly answered questions put to him by members of the Sacramento Press Club and humorously recalled his controversial past.

Samish spoke to the club in the same hotel from which he pulled legislative strings nearly a quarter of a century ago. It is located across the street from the state capitol

"We didn't care particularly about the public. "We were paid to do a job and we did the job pretty well. In the event they (the public) didn't approve of what I did or of my association with legislators, all they had to do was elect the proper people to the legislature," he said.

"IN THOSE DAYS we used to be friendly with the speaker of the Assembly and friendly with the lieutenant governor and saw that the proper committees were appointed," Samish said with a smile.

Asked how that was done, he replied:

"There's only one way to do it and that's by word of mouth."

Samish then was asked if contributing great amounts of money into election campaigns wasn't a form of word-of-mouth communication.

"I presume so," he smiled.

Does today's legislature act more in the public interest than that of 25 years ago?

"Not up to the present time," said Samish. "In my day they (legislators) got $100 and they were satisfied."

The legislature recently voted itself a $3,200 annual pay raise hiking salaries from $16,000 a year to $19,200 annually beginning in 1971.

Samish's influence began to decline in 1949 when he posed for a picture in the now-defunct Collier's magazine. He was holding a dummy dressed as a hobo on his knee. The caption read: "Said the big man: 'And how are you today Mr. Legislature.' "

He was described as the "secret boss of California." Former Gov. Earl Warren once said, "On matters that affect his clients, Artie Samish has more power than the governor."

Samish now lives quietly in San Francisco where he runs an import-export business. He also owns a hotel in Palm Springs.

ATTACKS BRING HOSPITAL POLICY SHIFT

SACRAMENTO (AP) — In the wake of homosexual attacks on a 13-year-old patient, state mental health officials ordered doctors at Napa State Hospital Friday to start returning juvenile court cases with behavior disorders to the California Youth Authority.

Dr. E. F. Galioni, chief of hospitals for the State Mental Hygiene Department, sent the new orders to the medical director at Napa, Dr. Robert J. Spratt.

THE KEY PART of the directive ordered a change in the admissions policies of the children's unit.

"Juvenile court cases who have behavior disorders, and can more appropriately be handled by the California Youth Authority, are not to be admitted to the children's unit," Galioni's order said.

The department's information officer, Al Calais, said the change will result in more emphasis on treatment of the mentally disturbed youths and less emphasis on observation.

CALAIS SAID the new order would affect about half the 183 patients in the children's unit at Napa, and 20 to 25 per cent of the patients in Camarillo State Hospital's children's unit.

These youngsters, he said, are referred to the hospitals by the Youth Authority or juvenile courts for observation and diagnosis.

The two boys who attacked the other youth were juvenile court cases, Calais said, and have been returned to juvenile court.

GALIONI'S order also told the hospital to hold down admissions until the patient population reaches 167, the rated bed capacity of the unit.

He also said all nursing positions authorized for the ward are to be filled "without delay with qualified and trained personnel," and staffing of the children's unit will give the various wings equal attention.

Preserve-the-Bay Conservationists Win Big Victory

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Legislature sent to Gov. Reagan Friday a strong bill to preserve San Francisco Bay, climaxing one of the roughest conservation battles in recent years.

The action was a major victory for conservation forces and a blow to private and public interests which opposed stricter controls over filling the bay, which has shrunk from more than 600 square miles a century ago to not much more than 400 miles now.

THE DAY'S crucial vote came when the Senate passed the bill 24-9 with opponents fighting the measure even beyond the final roll call with every parliamentary device they could muster.

That sent it back to the Assembly, which had passed it earlier and promptly ratified Senate amendments on a 54-1 vote. This moved it to Reagan's desk, and the governor has indicated he would sign virtually any save-the-bay legislation.

The bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, makes permanent the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, a watchdog agency set up in 1965 to control filling of the bay. It would have gone out of existence late this year if lawmakers didn't act.

IN ADDITION, the bill strengthens the commission's power over development around the bay. Two important sections give it control over a 100-foot shoreline-buffer zone around the entire 276-mile bay shore and over salt ponds owned by Leslie Salt Co. in the southern bay.

Leslie, the Santa Fe Railroad, Utah Construction Co., Standard Oil Co. and Westbay Associates had opposed the measure.

Supporters, who brought hundreds of persons to several Capitol hearings on the matter, were led by various conservation organizations who said the bay would vanish under developers' bulldozers without strong legislation.

A PROPONENT, Democratic Assemblyman John J. Miller of Berkeley, called passage of the bill a result of "people power" that couldn't have been accomplished in the past.

Senate opponents were rebuffed in attempts to offer new and delaying amendments to the bill. Senate President pro tem Howard Way, R-Exter, a strong supporter of the bill, overruled their protests on parliamentary rulings and brought the bill to a final vote.

A FOE, Democratic Sen. Ralph A. Dills of Gardena, predicted the commission will condemn land to take for public uses such as parks, and that the money to pay private property owners would come form the state treasury.

He called it "taking a step to do the greatest violence to the taxpayers of the state . . . that I can think of . . ."

He offered to sing — but didn't — a few bars of "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and added: "We lost our shirts in BCDC — that's what the taxpayers of California will be singing."

Business Tax Relief Approved

SACRAMANTO (AP) — An Assembly - passed bill providing tax relief for businessmen with big inventories cleared a key Senate committee Friday.

The Revenue and Taxation Committee sent the measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, to the Finance Committee.

Bagley said the bill, which increases the business inventory tax exemption from 15 per cent to 30 per cent for two years, "is the only surviving bill in the governor's tax program."

The remianing bills in Gov. Reagan's tax package are stalled in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee — and the Republicans announced earlier that despite Democratic protests they will not be brought to the floor for consideration this year.

Panel OKs Reagan's Tax Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee Friday approved Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposal for a $84 million election-year income tax rebate and killed a rival Democratic plan.

Reagan's bill cleared the Republican-controlled committee on a split voice vote, and went to the Ways and Means Committee for further action.

THE BILL, carried by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, would give income taxpayers a 10 per cent reduction on their 1969 income tax bill to be paid next April. The maximum rebate would be $200 for married couples and $100 for single persons.

The rival measure, authored by Democratic legislative leaders Sen. George Moscone and Assemblyman Jess Unruh, propbsed a $107 million rebate. It called for a 20 per cent reduction but set a ceiling of $75 for a single person and $150 for married couples.

The committee limited the rebate to $84 million despite assurance of Deputy Finance Director Kirk West that "we can safely afford to give back $100 million." Reagan orginally proposed $100 million. He said the sum was made available through inflation and government economies.

The action ended months of indecision by lawmakers over the two proposals. Both measures were approved by the senate.

DEUKMEJIAN told the committee he would prefer to have the measure in its orignal $100-million form. Senate amendments set the figure at $84 million applying the rebate to 1968 income.

The Deukmejian bill would mean that married couples with an income up to $45,000 would receive a rebate of 10 per cent of their tax payments. Couples with an income above $15,000 would get a straight $200 refund.

ANTI-BRA DAY NOT UPLIFTING

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Thousands of males and a handful of professional topless dancers showed up Friday for what was billed as an "anti-bra day" rally in the San Francisco financial district.

Alerted by handbills distributed by topless nightclubs, the financial district males gathered in anticipation of watching female clerks throw their brassieres in a wastebasket. Actually, only the dancers participated.

Asked why he waited in the street just to catch a glimpse of a girl's underwear, one man replied:

"Because we're very sophisticated in San Francisco."

Reagan Seeks Speedy Trains

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Gov. Reagan has submitted t federal officials a proposal to establish a high-speed rail transportation system in California, says his secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

Gordon Luce said one of several proposed test sites is Edwards Air Force Base, where the X-15 rocket plane was tested on rails at high speeds.

Teachers File Suit to Oust Hayakawa

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Teacher organizations filed suit Thursday to have Dr. S. I. Hayakawa removed as president of San Francisco State College.

The action against the State College Board of Trustees was filed in Superior Court by the college's Federation of Teachers and the American Federation of Teachers.

It asserts that rules and regulations demand that a presidential candidate be selected by a faculty committee.

INSTEAD, the suit continued, "Hayakawa was found guilty of unprofessional conduct by a duly constituted faculty committee which held that his punishment should include his removal from the position as acting president and a prohibition against his acting as president."

The committee, whose report was submitted to the court, also asserted Hayakawa acted in an intemperate way by damaging private property and shoving persons.

Assembly Group Kills Antismog Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A tough antismog bill that originally proposed a ban on the sales of internal combustion engines in California was defeated Friday by the Assembly Transportation Committee.

But Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, who authored the measure, said he would try to revive it before the end of the current legislative session next week. The outlook for success seemed bleak.

The bill generated only five affirmative votes in the committee which last year wrote the toughest smog control bill ever passed by a state Legislature. It needed six.

Petris agreed to discarding the outright ban provision during a five-hour Thursday night hearing by replacing it with exhaust emission control standards twice as tough as those California will impose in 1974.

DESPITE the attempt at compromise, the automotive industry registered strong opposition to the amended version of the legislation. The Petris-proposed standards would have become effective in 1976 on all new cars.

In our opinion it calls for emission levels which bear no logical relationship to any air quality levels which have ever been considered here or elsewhere," Donald A. Jensen of Ford Motor Co. told the committee.

Jensen, a former state smog control official who also represented the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Inc., said the bill did not take into consideration the "technological feasibility" problems facing the automotive industry.

"California already has a properly constituted agency which has the authority and the expertise to accomplish the goals sought by this proposed legislation," said Jensen.

He referred to the State Air Resources Board, successor to the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, which Jensen served as executive officer before going to Detroit.

PETRIS defended the tough standards on grounds they were needed to cleanse California's atmosphere.

"These new standards are so tough that no engine in use today is meeting them," he said. They would double the stringency of the 1974 levels that will exceed even federal pollution standards.

He said the standards were within the technical ability of automotive engineers. He said Detroit engineers would work harder on the task if California nudged them.

"I don't think we could have come this far without the gentle prodding of the club of governmental compulsion," the lawmaker said. "I have more faith in their inventive genius than they do."

But Dr. Fred Bowditch, director of the emission control engineering staff for General Motors Corp., disagreed, saying "you're not giving us credit for progress to date."

'Li'l Abner' Is Well Done at Center

By RALPH HINMAN Jr.
Drama Critic

Credit a large young cast and its talented director for staging a real show, "Li'l Abner," out at Jewish Community Center.

In action there is the Tween-Teen group, which annually does a musical, and its new taskmaster, Tom Bradac, a recent California State College, Long Beach theater arts graduate.

Performances Saturday, 8 p.m., Sunday 2 and 8 p.m., 2601 Grand Ave.

The two-act look at Dogpatch, Daisy Mae, Sadie Hawkins Day, General Bullmoose and other assorted Al Capp creations was offered Thursday in special showing for handicapped children. It formally opens a two-day run today.

The kids aren't professionals, of course, but they need not apologize anywhere for this fast-paced, coherent mounting of an American classic.

Pleasant solo singing voices emerge from the principals — who do good jobs of acting too — and choral effects come through loud and clean. Echo that last comment for dance sequences.

Once-Fashionable Romeros Appear at Hollywood Bowl

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

Fifty-two Thursday nights after their last appearance on the spot, the Romeros, that self-styled "royal family of the guitar," returned to Hollywood Bowl this week. With conductor Morton Gould presiding over the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, Celedonio Romero and his three sons offered a pops program perfectly appropriate to the Bowl's usual Saturday format, but one jarringly light at midweek.

Not that the four guitarists brought a musical menu any less substantial than their 1966 and 1968 events — those events were also frothy, vapid affairs. But, by now, diminishing audiences and half-hearted applause begin to tell us that the quartet that was once fashionable and bland, may soon be only bland.

THE ROMEROS do not deserve all the blame for a dull and uneventful evening. Conductor Gould, who wrote both works on the program's first half, must take his portion.

Gould's early "Latin-American Symphonette," preceded his new "Troubadour Music," for four guitars and orchestra, by no less than 29 years, yet both pieces display similar features: a bow in the direction of current musical fashion (in the "Troubadour Music," it is the "happening" syndrome); instrumental writing identical with contemporary commercial trends; forgettable tunes; and no particular originality. The Romeros' performance of the piece, which they premiered in May, was disinterested at best; more often, it was accidental, out of tune, and vague.

After intermission, things looked up, for Angel, the youngest Romero, returned to play Rodrigo's charming "Concierto de Aranjuez," and Gould had scheduled Ravel's "Bolero" to close the evening.

BUT ANGEL, though he certainly rescued his family's good name for at least the length of the work, failed to project the kind of individuality and purposefulness some other guitarists have brought to it (example: John Williams, with Mehta and this same orchestra, in December, 1966). And the rousing "Bolero" came too late to help much.

Preceding the intermission, there was an unasked encore by the quartet, a transcription of the Intermezzo from "Goyescas." Without doubt, their performance of it on this occasion must stand as the most slovenly, antirhythmic playing we have ever heard them perpetrate. They should be ashamed.

MOVIE GUIDE

As a guide to moviegoers, this newspaper lists capsule contents of major motion pictures playing the Long Beach area. Most classifications represent the judgment of the Film Board of National Organizations.

THE APRIL FOOLS — Always beautiful Parisienne Catherine Deneuve, whose husband doesn't appreciate her, and sometimes funny Jack Lemmon, who has drifted from his wife, find they are made for each other. (M)

THE CHAIRMAN — Scientist Gregory Peck, a radio transmitter and destruct mechanism implanted behind his ear, travels to Red China on a secret and improbable mission for the U.S. (M)

STILETTO — Alex Cord portrays a playboy count and assassin for an international crime cartel in an adventure drama based on the novel by Harold Robbins. (R)

LAST SUMMER — Frank Perry, of "David and Lisa," turns the camera on four youngsters with conflicting personalities on the difficult eve of adulthood. They spend their last vacation together on New York's Fire Island. (R)

CHITTY CHITTY BANG BANG — The dream adventures of Dick Van Dyke and his children and a car that is also an airplane, helicopter and boat. Mainly for children. (G)

ONCE UPON A TIME IN THE WEST — Claudia Cardinale does not play a "Sunbonnet Sue" role as she tangles with "bad guy" Henry Fonda in this Western shoot-em-up. (M)

PETER PAN — Walt Disney's re-issued animated version of James Barrie's eternal tale of a little boy with magical powers battling pirate Captain Hook in Never-Never Land. (G)

OLIVER — Fagin's gang of young hooligans star in this lavish musical that has won six academy awards, including best picture of the year. (G)

THE LOVE BUG — Herbie, a Volkswagen the "love bug" with a mind of its own, takes off on a winning streak for discouraged race car driver Dean Jones and mechanic Buddy Hackett. (G)

RATINGS:

G — Recommended for general audiences of all ages.

M — Suggested for mature audiences, adults and young people.

R — Restricted, persons under 16 not admitted unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian.

YEARS OF DELAY AVOIDED

U.S. Aids on Drains

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Two Long Beach area storm drains that might not have been built for years are at the starting stages because of some "first-ever" federal funds.

One project involves a complicated network around Norwalk, Santa Fe Springs and Downey. The other is in the vicinity of Carson.

The money that will make immediate construction possible is coming from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The agency has issued grants for many things, but county flood control officials say this is the first time HUD has provided funds for storm drains.

"WE THOUGHT it might be possible under terms of a bill passed in 1965," said Walter Wood, the flood control district's chief engineer.

"We felt one section of the act offered a possibility. It states the section is designed to assist and encourage 'the communities of the nation to construct adequate basic water and sewer facilities to promote their efficient and orderly growth and development.' "

The important words, Wood said, are "water and sewer facilities."

The project in the Norwalk-Santa Fe Springs-Downey area was in a program set up in 1964, but when the district got to it there wasn't enough money left. Only part of the $3-million job could be done.

Flood control officials went into conference with HUD brass. What emerged was a $321,300 federal grant. That was only slightly more than 10 per cent of the cost, but it was enough.

The Board of Supervisors awarded a contract for the job last June 24 and by September 1970 the drains should be in full operation.

There was even less district money available for the Carson project. It was, as Wood explained, on the list as a "supplemental" drain, which means it could be built only if money could be saved from jobs with higher priorities.

THE CARSON DRAIN will cost $3,336,932. Bids were just opened, and that was the low one, but it has not yet been awarded.

"We had less than $2 million for funding," a flood control official said. "Without HUD money, there's no telling when this one would have been built, or how. But they're putting $1,395,600 into the job."

This project will siphon waters from an area bounded by 213th Street, Vermont Avenue, Del Amo Boulevard and Dominguez Channel. That makes the drains about three miles long, and involves about a year's work.

SGT. JOHN CALHOON

Monday Service Slated for Sgt. J. Calhoon

Services will be Monday at 10:30 a.m. in Forest Lawn-Cypress, for Sgt. John Calhoon, 21, killed Thursday in an automobile accident at Edwards Air Force Base.

Calhoon, who lived in Long Beach 17 years, was a 1966 graduate of Poly High School. He served in the Air Force three years, including a year in Vietnam.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Helen Calhoon of 2006 W. Canton St., and grandmother, Mrs. Emma Calhoon of Oklahoma City.

FOR LAST MONTH

L.B. Construction Drops

Volume of construction in Long Beach dropped to its low point of the year in July, but the dollar valuation of new building permits this year is still running double the first half of 1968.

Cerritos was again first among cities served by the Los Angeles County Building and Safety Division in value of projected construction in July.

In Long Beach, permits issued last month for building, electrical and plumbing work totaled $3,694,800. The figure for July 1968 was $5,165,311.

At the end of this July, however, the 1969 valuation stood at $72,783,798, compared with only $35,614,400 during the same period last year.

The July city building total included 260 permits for new construction valued at $1,796,015 and 573 permits for alterations or repairs estimated at $970,335.

Residential construction also dropped with permits issued for only 31 dwelling units. These included three single-family dwellings valued at $79,200, two duplexes at $56,840 and five apartment buildings worth $243,670.

Permits were issued for three industrial buildings at $557,000 and 10 stores valued at $524,220.

CERRITOS has led all municipalities in the county's Building and Safety Division in projected construction for six of this year's first seven months.

Building Supt. Coleman Jenkins released figures showing Cerritos had again passed the $4-million mark. Of the 20 cities having contracts for the county permit service, only Palmdale came close to challenging Cerritos, and it fell $400,000 short.

In the Long Beach area, Carson was next behind Cerritos with $589,586. Lakewood had $527,641, Norwalk $261,340; Bellflower $240,291 and Hawaiian Gardens $19,951.

'Seabird' Will Fly Catalina Route

A flight to Catalina today by Channing Clark, a former flight engineer for the "Flying Tigers," will culminate a week commemorating the golden anniversary of air service to the Island.

He will make the flight in his ancient Fleetwing Seabird one of three such amphibians in the world — landing about noon at the "Airport in the Sky" near Avalon.

He will be escorted by Long Beach Civil Air Patrol Group VII search and rescue units during the overwater flight from the mainland to the island.

Clark's symbolic flight also will mark the first continuous scheduled air passenger service in the United States.

The first such flight was made July 12, 1919 in a Curtiss single-engine seaplane named the "Seagull," owned by Sid Chaplin and piloted by Arthur Burns.

The Catalina Island Visitors Bureau will host a luncheon at the airport, and guests will be presented with commemorative medals made especially for the historic event.

$54 Million Federal, State Aid in Orange Co. Budget

By BOB GEIVET
Staff Writer

Increasing reliance on federal and state funds is reflected in Orange County's record $173.5 million general government budget for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

The county expects these governments to pour in $54 million this year. Last year it was $39.5 million.

The new budget is up almost $30 million from the last fiscal year. It is more than three times the size of the 1962-63 figure and more than twice the total of the country's general government budget of five years ago.

In all, it is 19 per cent higher than last year's then-record outlay of $144 million which in turn had jumped $20 million over the previous year.

The county's assessed valuation is up almost 12 per cent, also to a record high. The population rise is seven per cent.

The tax base gain does not match the expednditures, but hopefully federal and state funds will take up the slack.

Many budget items are mandated by federal or state laws — welfare, Medicare hospital operation, mental health and miscellaneous projects in which federal or state governments have varying obligations for support.

The county's charges for services may yield $22 million this year. Licenses and permits will show $1.2 million, fines may be $1.4 million, interest about $1.2 million, gasoline tax rebates an estimated $16.9 million, and $2-million carryover.

PROPERTY TAXES will yeild an estimated $55 million, based on the $1.68 tax rate in effect last year — which supervisors said would be unchanged.

Part of the 1969-70 budget is for a salary of $4.3 million for the county's workers, $1 million for a beach-acquisition program, $2.8 million for an addition to the county engineering building, $300,000 for flood-damage repair in O'Neill and Irvine Parks and $100,000 to lease and rehabilitate the Los Pinos Job Corps Camp in Ortega Canyon.

Much of the increase is to add 752 county emplyes and for capital-outlay projects, under the supervisorial policy of spending heavily for offices, regional civic centers, parks and harbors.

ADDED TO these outlays will be $3.4 million for the county public library and more than $1 million for sturctural fire protection. These apply in rural areas only.

Arraignment Set in Death of Stepson

A 58-year-old Long Beach man is to be arraigned Aug. 15 in Superior Court on charges he murdered his 24-year-old stepson.

Stanley L. Miller, 1450 Hellman Ave., is accused of the fatal shooting of Robert J. Taylor last July 25 after a drinking bout at the Miller home.

At preliminary hearing Friday in Municipal Court, Mrs. Miller told of seeing the two men talking shortly before Miller went to a closet and brought out a rifle.

Taylor, who had been working in an oil field in Alaska, was visiting the Millers. He died in a hospital two hours after the shooting.

1,000 Unit Low Rental Housing Project Starts

A federal-county housing program for 1,000 lower-income families was launched Friday in Los Angeles.

Harlan L. Jacobson was appointed director of the project which under a 10-year contract, will furnish a $1.16-million annual subsidy to the County Housing Authority.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will provide the subsidy.

Seven-hundred existing dwellings will be leased by the county, and 300 more may be constructed by private builders. The new units would be subleased to families in unincorporated areas of the county.

Jacobson said a goal of the project is to move families from deteriorating county housing units into sanitary, modern structures.

Already there is a backlog of applications, he stated.

County Names L.B. Man as New Appraiser

From Our L.A. Bureau.

Clinton Evans of Long Beach, 22-year veteran of the County Assessor's Office, is now one of the department's chief real estate appraisers.

Assessor Philip Watson said the promotion fills a vacancy in the county's western section.

Evans resides at 2315 Charlemagne Ave.

DOD Moving Liaison Offices

Regional armed services liaison and information offices are being moved from the present Sunset Boulevard location, in Hollywood to the new West Los Angeles Federal Building, 11000 Wilshire Blvd., spokesmen said Friday.

Included in the move are Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard and Department of Defense information offices.

Beach Living for All Seasons

This is HUNTINGTON PACIFIC, luxury apartments on the sand. You'll enjoy the mild, year-round climate and the clean smell of sea-washed air.

Come down this weekend and live. Blue skies and clear air. The warm sun on your back. Surf, fish, swim in your front yard. Long evening walks on a deserted beach. The view of Catalina Island. Entertain in luxury. Dinner by moonlight overlooking the glimmering ocean. Night surf sounds lull you to sleep. Relax at the HUNTINGTON PACIFIC.

NOW LEASING: one-, two- and three-bedroom luxury apartments, from $225 a month.

OPEN HOUSE THIS WEEKEND: See model apartments and new club house.

LOCATION: On the beach side of Pacific Coast Highway, three blocks north of Huntington Beach city pier. From San Diego Freeway, take Bay Blvd. turnoff south to Pacific Coast Hwy., then left down the coast to Huntington Beach.

The HUNTINGTON PACIFIC
711 Pacific Coast Highway, Huntington Beach, California

Week's Wall Street Trend

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sliding easily through an important psychological level the stock market appeared headed for another steep loss. But it turned abruptly in midweek and rallied briskley the rest of the way to finish the week a winner.

The Dow Jones industrial average after two days of loss that saw it close Tuesday at its lowest level since Jan. 4, 1967, slid through the 800 level in the first half-hour of trading Wednesday.

Analysts said the 800, like other hundred levels on the Dow indicator, was "important psychologically to some because when you penetrate such a level it has a bearish significance to some investors, and you get selling."

By noon that day the DJI was off more than 9 points, then turned, overcame its loss, and finished the session with a small gain. It then went on to gain more than 11 points in each of its next two sessions and finished the week up 8:53 at 826.59, compared with a 27.86 point loss the week before. It was the first time the DJI had finished ahead since the week ended July 4.

A rumor was cited by some as being partially responsible for the market's sudden turnaround.

The rumor in Wall Street was that leading banks planned to reduce their prime interest rate, currently at a record of 8½ per cent. A spokesman for a major New York bank said there was no truth to the rumor that it was going to lower the prime rate. The market sagged a bit, but still finished the day with a gain.

"The rumor partially was responsible for the market's change," and analyst said, "but you also must remember that the market had been declining steadily for quite a while and was in a very oversold condition. That condition made it ripe for a technical rally, with some of the large-portfolio managers and other investors moving in to take advantage of unduly depressed quality stocks."

Or, as another analyst put it, "stocks had been chopped down to bargain-basement levels and money managers simply decided to begin leaning against the wind and accumulate these values."

The market got a further boost Tuesday when the Senate approved an extension of the income tax surcharge for six months. "That helped clear the air a bit," an analyst said, as the Dow industrial gained 11.89 points to make its best daily rise since it jumped 16.08 on April 30.

Reversing its course the market has started to probe the upside. The initial reaction was sparked by a more favorable news background. This shift in the news came at a time when the market was already depressed and oversold. While the improvement in news did provide the basis for a rebound this rally is considered basically technical in nature. It would take a more dramatic shift in the news background to override technical consideration at least on a near term basis.

How high can the market rally? There was no real trading base preceding the recent upturn, thus there is no clear upside objective. No real resistance is expected below the 840-860 level. However a sharp rally into this area not preceded by some consolidation could lead to an equally sharp pullback. Therefore while the market could go a little higher on a shorter term basis there is still no evidence that more than very nimble and limited trading opportunities exist.

THE RECENT strength stems from weakness. There has been no real base of consolidation or accumulation. The recent rally was based on a fairly dynamic reversal back to the upside, however, it cannot be considered a selling climax. There has not yet been any basis for concluding that this rally is more than a contra-trend move, therefore a very sharp recovery into the 940-960 level will be considered a shorter term selling opportunity.

Institutions did do some buying last week but they continued to sell on balance. This limited buying interest does not suggest that they think the market is finished on the downside. Until they become buyers on balance no more than limited technical rallies are expected. Among the stocks under significant accumulation next week which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are: GRL, APX, CAR, GWF.

GENERAL INSTRUMENT is a stock under accumulation in a weak market. The recent market recovery has carried the stock to a new high it has carried the stock above a base pattern in the /32-36/ area which would support a trading move into the low to mid 40's. However under current market conditions the timing of such a rally is difficult to determine initial downside support. Support is expected in the 32-34 level. Any renewed market pressure could result in a pullback to test this area. Such a dip would present a near term buying opportunity. Shorter term trading accounts should place a stop loss at 31.

Burroughs /BGH-137/ up 16 points, Polaroid /PRD-118/ up 10 points, Texas Instruments /TXN-116/ up 9 points, Xerox /XRX-94/ up 7 points. The quality - glamour issues have rebounded sharply from last week's low. The particular emphasis indicates market leadership in this area. This should allow for trading potential in the higher quality stocks. However, until a more favorable market trend is in evidence or until these issues pullback from recent strength they will not be considered particularly attractive for shorter term trading purposes. One additional point should be observed here — these issues are relatively high priced an least attractive to the smaller traders but in this particular market — 10 shares of a higher priced quality stock should move much more rewarding than 100 shares of a more speculative and vulnerable lower priced stock.

Guidelines on Planting —Seeding

By EARL ARONSON

For sprightly color, plant African daisies, an annual that will give your garden orange, salmon, apricot, yellow, coral and white hues.

The plants are excellent for rock gardens, window boxes, borders, parking strips and as ground cover.

They are easy to grow from seed or seedlings and easy to culrivate. They will grow well in average soil and bloom for a long time.

GROUNDCOVERS may be as colorful as your living room rug. They do not have to be green. Better than your carpeting, you can change the colors year after year by using annual plantings. Or you may plant perennials of California poppies with delicate foliate and glowing yellow cups that will reseed for years.

For white: try large clumps of sweet alyssum. If it spreads too much, trim with your lawn mower or shears.

Fuzzy blue: sow dwarf ageratum; for brighter blue, little daisies of felicia.

Bright orange: for mass effect, gazania or dimorphtheca.

Midgets: There are tiny marigolds and zinnias, six inches tall, or calendulas 12 inches; or dwarf bachelor buttons and annual phlox.

Bedding begonias: may be treated as annuals and set out as plants — semperflorens — or lantanas and geraniums in solid masses. Impatiens are good in the shade.

For perennials: good effect is available with creeping ajuga or moss phlox in many tones. In slightly moist or woody areas polyanthus primroses, closely planted, make an attractive display.

Climbing roses laid out on the ground also make a good showing.

PREPARE the soil for ground-cover by spading well and mixing in an inch or two of peat moss or compost and good vegetable garden fertilizer. Break up lumps and rake smooth.

If you are using seed, scatter thinly in large irregular clumps or areas, not rows.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Roses furnish lots of color and cutflowers off and on for about seven months of the year. They may be used for more landscape purposes than many gardeners think is possible.

As an example: climbing roses furnish screening and help to beautify the bare wall or fence. Floribunda roses are desirable and colorful as an informal hedge along a walk or driveway. Floribunda roses (flora-flowers, bunda-abundance) with a mass of flowers on individual main branches are colorful plants for container use in the sunny patio or sunny porch area. Floribundas are often grown in the front row of a rose bed of hybrid tea roses with grandifloras. One or two rows of hybrid tea roses can be grown in a front yard as well as in a rose bed by themselves.

UNLIKE BARE ROOT roses that are planted out during the winter dormant season, roses in containers are planted out most any time of the year. Colors of container roses can be selected exactly as you like. These roses continue to grow and bloom, become well established in the garden, and are a year ahead of the bare-root roses you might be planting next winter.

Visit several nurseries and leisurely select those you favor to plant in your garden. Remember though when selecting them, it is just as easy to have the modern, most up-to-date AARS (All America Rose Selection) winners as it is to settle for the older kinds. The AARS winners have been tested throughout the country under various soil and weather conditions for growth performance, blossom quality, color and fragrance. The 1970 AARS rose 'First Prize' introduced by Jackson and Perkins, is a handsome, well formed hybrid tea rose with gorgeous rose-red and perfectly formed blossoms. Some of your local nurserymen may have a few on hand.

SPEAKING OF WATERING, this true story may help to impress you on the importance of watering plants or flowers deep enough. Particularly if you have someone water the garden when you go on vacation.

I stopped to check a friend's garden. I happened to check the garden after the neighbor had been there. The lawn looked moist, the flower bed soil appeared damp.

I picked up several dead sycamore leaves in the flower bed. The soil under the leaves was dry! I'd call that kind of watering, "spit-watering," even a natural shower would moisten the soil more. The neighbor might just as well not have bothered to water the garden at all.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q. What can be done with Mazus replans and mondo grass to make them spread in clay soil on hillside? I have fed the area, mulched it, to cover the ground, yet no spreading growth of either plants developed. Enclosed large leaf from tree in back (grown to upstairs window. The tip of top leaves brown, blacken and drop off. Also enclosed small plant grows in the mazus planting. The nursery doesn't know what it is. Mulches in the clay area wash off, nothings remains to keeps this white clay soil open. In the back I used "water-in" and it helped. I'm covering dichondra with a mulch to keep soil cool, yet fertilizer does not thicken the dichondra. The house located on a split level lot is so close to the ground one dares not build up the soil.

A. You can do one of two things to encourage the ground cover and dichondra. Use a liquid fertilizer containing a penetrant which does more than a plant food or truf fertilizer. Personally, I would use a liquid "soil-rinse" that is highly acid to combat the clay soil. The liquid sulphur in it would begin to flocculate the clay soil to loosen it to absorb more water, and would lossen possible alkali. The penetrating mineral in it rinses any alkali deeper into the soil. The final action of the soil-rinse provides 17 per cent nitrogen. I'd apply it through a liquid-fertilizing spray gun or quart-size plastic-jar gun, one-third amount of liquid soil-rinse with two-thirds of water. One quart such mixture suffices for each 400 square feet. Do this at about three week intervals through October. Please mail me fresh specimen foliage of the tree, and the plants growing in mazus ground cover. Those you sent were wet and mushy, and I couldn't make out anything from them. Don't have them so wet. Mark "URGENT" on the envelope

Q. Enclosed are two leaves from one of our roses. Others have leaves just like this. I know they need something, but what? They looked fine early part of the season, with lots of blooms, but about this time of the season, leaves look bad.

A. Your roses were attacked by mildew, as well as the bad "rust" disease. The most likely problem is that you either water them too often which doesn't mean they get deep soaking down to about 18 inches depth — or else the roses are growing in a lawn, or the lawn is close to them, or in a flower bed where smaller plants need more frequent watering and the roses have to take it whether they like it or not. Pick off all the orange spotted underside foliage of those roses. Tell your nurseryman you want an effective fungicide for mildew and, more important, for rust infestation. Use the material as directed on the package or the container bottle label. Repeat as directed.

Do It Now

Young grass lawns only a few months old are very susceptible to lawn-moth-worm infestation, also erratic waterings invite fungus disease. Small tan color moths flying lazily and low over your lawn in the evening and at night means possible lawn-moth worm infestation. Brown or dead lawn areas with wisps of live grass blades, or very small tufts of green grass within the dead patches means lawn-mothworm infestation. Spray with insecticide spray recommended for control of these damaging pests. Completely dead spots, no live grass blades whatsoever, means fungus disease, therefore spray with turf fungicide recommended, or use a turf fertilizer containing the fungicide.

The only way you can keep the vigorous Buccaneer rose growth within bounds is to trim back the bush about one-third after each mass crop of blossoms.

Planting Suggestions

Plant, ground covers, vines trees, shrubs, soon as convenient to get acclimatized in your garden, and get started before cold weather comes.

Sow flower seeds of Ageratum, Agrostemma, sweet Alyssum, Anemone, Arctotis, Calceolaria, California Poppy, Cineraria, Coral Bell, Delphininum-annual and perennial, Dimorphotheca, Forget-me-not, Gerbera, Geum, Gypsophila, Hollyhock, Iceland Poppy, Mignoette, Nasturtium, Pansy, Pentstemon, Ranunculus, Shasta Daisy, Snapdragon, Statice, Stock.

Plant bedding plants of Ageratum, Agathea, Amaranthus, Aster, Begonia, Campanula, Candytuft, Carnation, Celosia, Coral Bell, Dianthus, Gaillardia, Geum, Gloriosa Daisy, Hollyhock, Impatients, Lobelia, Marigold, Nierembergia, Penstemon, Petunia, Phlox, Portulaca, Salvia, Sweet William, Vinca, Zinnia.

Sow vegtable seeds of Bush Beans, Beets, Carrots, Celery, Corn, Cucumber, Endive, Mustard, Onion, Parsley, Radish, Summer Squash, Swiss Chard, Watermelon.

GARDENING

Guidelines on Planting —Seeding

By EARL ARONSON

For sprightly color, plant African daisies, an annual that will give your garden orange, salmon, apricot, yellow, coral and white hues.

The plants are excellent for rock gardens, window boxes, borders, parking strips and as ground cover.

They are easy to grow from seed or seedlings and easy to culrivate. They will grow well in average soil and bloom for a ong time.

GROUNDCOVERS may be as colorful as your living room rug. They do not have to be green. Better than your carpeting, you can change the colors year after year by using annual plantings. Or you may plant perennials of California poppies with delicate foliate and glowing yellow cups that will reseed for years.

For white: try large clumps of sweet alyssum. If it spreads too much, trim with your lawn mower or shears.

Fuzzy blue: sow dwarf ageratum; for brighter blue, little daisies of felicia.

Bright orange: for mass effect, gazania or dimorphtheca.

Midgets: There are tiny marigolds and zinnias, six inches tall, or calendulas 12 inches; or dwarf bachelor buttons and annual phlox.

Bedding begonias: may be treated as annuals and set out as plants — semperflorens — or lantanas and geraniums in solid masses. Impatiens are good in the shade.

For perennials: good effect is available with crepping ajuga or moss phlox in many tones. In slightly moist or woody areas polyanthus primroses, closely planted, make an attractive display.

Climbing roses laid out on the ground also make a good showing.

PREPARE the soil for ground-cover by spading well and mixing in an inch or two of peat moss or compost and good vegetable garden fertilizer. Break up lumps and rake smooth.

If you are using seed, scatter thinly in large irregular clumps or areas, not rows.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Roses furnish lots of color and cutflowers off and on for about seven months of the year. They may be used for more landscape purposes than many gardeners think is possible.

As an example: climbing roses furnish screening and help to beautify the bare wall or fence. Floribunda roses are desirable and colorful as an informal hedge along a walk or driveway. Floribunda roses (floraflowers, bunda-abundance) with a mass of flowers on individual main branches are colorful plants for container use in the sunny patio or sunny porch area. Floribundas are often grown in the front row of a rose bed of hybrid tea roses with grandifloras. One or two rows of hybrid tea roses can be grown in a front yard as well as in a rose bed by themselves.

UNLIKE BARE ROOT roses that are planted out during the winter dormant season, roses in containers are planted out most any time of the year. Colors of container roses can be selected exactly as you like. These roses continue to grow and bloom, become well established in the garden, and are a year ahead of the bare-root roses you might be planting next winter.

Visit several nurseries and leisurely select those you favor to plant in your garden. Remember though when selecting them, it is just as easy to have the modern, most up-to-date AARS (All America Rose Selection) winners as it is to settle for the older kinds. The AARS winners have been tested throughout the country under various soil and weather conditions for growth performance, blossom quality, color and fragrance. The 1970 AARS rose 'First Prize' introduced by Jackson and Perkins, is a handsome, well formed hybrid tea rose with gorgeous rose-red and perfectly formed blossoms. Some of your local nurserymen may have a few on hand.

SPEAKING OF WATERING, this true story may help to impress you on the importance of watering plants or flowers deep enough. Particularly if you have someone water the garden when you go on vacation.

I stopped to check a friend's garden. I happened to check the garden after the neighbor had been there. The lawn looked moist, the flower bed soil appeared damp.

I picked up several dead sycamore leaves in the flower bed. The soil under the leaves was dry! I'd call that kind of watering, "spit-watering," even a natural shower would moisten the soil more. The neighbor might just as well not have bothered to water the garden at all.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q. What can be done with Mazus reptans and mondo grass to make them spread in clay soil on hillside? I have fed the area, mulched it, to cover the ground, yet no spreading growth of either plants developed. Enclosed large leaf from tree in back (grown to upstairs window. The tip of top leaves brown, blacken and drop off. Also enclosed small plant grows in the mazus planting. The nursery doesn't know what it is. Mulches in the clay area wash off, nothings remains to keeps this white clay soil open. In the back I used "water-in" and it helped. I'm covering dichondra with a mulch to keep soil cool, yet fertilizer does not thicken the dichondra. The house located on a split level lot is so close to the ground one dares not build up the soil.

A. You can do one of two things to encourage the ground cover and dichondra. Use a liquid fertilizer containing a penetrant which does more than a plant food or truf fertilizer. Personally, I would use a liquid "soil-rinse" that is highly acid to combat the clay soil. The liquid sulphur in it would begin to flocculate the clay soil to loosen it to absorb more water, and would lossen possible alkali. The penetranting mineral in it rinses any alkali deeper into the soil. The final action of the soil-rinse provides 17 per cent nitrogen. I'd apply it through a liquid-fertilizing spray gun or quart-size plastic-jar gun, one-third amount of liquid soil-rinse with two-thirds of water. One quart such mixture suffices for each 400 square feet. Do this at about three week intervals through October. Please mail me fresh specimen foliage of the tree, and the plants growing in mazus ground cover. Those you sent were wet and mushy, and I couldn't make out anything from them. Don't have them so wet. Mark "URGENT" on the envelope

Q. Enclosed are two leaves from one of our roses. Others have leaves just like this. I know they need something, but what? They looked fine early part of the season, with lots of blooms, but about this time of the season, leaves look bad.

A. Your roses were attacked by mildew, as well as the bad "rust" disease. The most likely problem is that you either water them too often which doesn't mean they get deep soaking down to about 18 inches depth — or else the roses are growing in a lawn, or the lawn is close to them, or in a flower bed where smaller plants need more frequent watering and the roses have to take it whether they like it or not. Pick off all the orange spotted underside foliage of those roses. Tell your nurseryman you want an effective fungicide for mildew and, more important, for rust infestation. Use the material as directed on the package or the container bottle label. Repeat as directed.

Do It Now

Young grass lawns only a few months old are very susceptible to lawn-mothworm infestation, also erratic waterings invite fungus disease. Small tan color moths flying lazily and low over your lawn in the evening and at night means possible lawn-moth worm infestation. Brown or dead lawn areas with wisps of live grass blades, or very small tufts of green grass within the dead patches means lawn-mothworm infestation. Spray with insecticide spray recommended for control of these damaging pests. Completely dead spots, no live grass blades whatsoever, means fungus disease, therefore spray with turf fungicide recommended, or use a turf fertilizer containing the fungicide.

The only way you can keep the vigorous Buccaneer rose growth within bounds is to trim back the bush about one-third after each mass crop of blossoms.

Planting Suggestions

Plant, ground covers, vines trees, shrubs, soon as convenient to get acclimatized in your garden, and get started before cold weather comes.

Sow flower seeds of Ageratum, Agrostemma, sweet Alyssum, Anemone, Arctotis, Calceolaria, California Poppy, Cineraria, Coral Bell, Delphininum-annual and perennial, Dimorphotheca, Forget-me-not, Gerbera, Geum, Gypsophila, Hollyhock, Iceland Poppy, Mignoette, Nasturtium, Pansy, Pentstemon, Ranunculus, Shasta Daisy, Snapdragon, Statice, Stock.

Plant bedding plants of Ageratum, Agathea, Amaranthus, Aster, Begonia, Campanula, Candytuft, Carnation, Celosia, Coral Bell, Dianthus, Gaillardia, Geum, Gloriosa Daisy, Hollyhock, Impatients, Lobelia, Marigold, Nierembergia, Penstemon, Petunia, Phlox, Portulaca, Salvia, Sweet William, Vinca, Zinnia.

Sow vegtable seeds of Bush Beans, Beets, Carrots, Celery, Corn, Cucumber, Endive, Mustard, Onion, Parsley, Radish, Summer Squash, Swiss Chard, Watermelon.

ALL-STARS OUTLASTED, 26-24

Joe Upstaged, but Jets Win

By DON ANDERSEN
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO — Broadway Joe Namath got upstaged here Friday night by a rookie quarterback from Cincinnati, but as so often happens experience prevailed and the Super Bowl champion New York Jets hung on to defeat the fired up College All-Stars, 26-24, in Soldiers Field.

	N.Y.	Stars
First downs	78	8
Rushing Yardage	162	16
Passing yardage	282	244
Passes	18-25-3	13-31-1
Return yardage	19	0
Punts	1-38	7-41
Fumbles	1	0
Yards penalized	47	93

Greg Cook, drafted first by the home town Cincinnati Bengals, rallied Otto Graham's All-Stars, who once trailed by 16 points, with a 17-point third quarter.

It was a stormy second half that exploded into tornado proportions late in the game when Graham had a private war with Jet safety Johnny Sample and Long Beach's Gene Washington was in the middle.

Less than 30 seconds remained and the All-Stars, trailing 23-17, blazed to the Jet four on the strength of a 59-yard pass from Cook to Jerry Levias.

On second down, Sample, playing opposite Washington, slugged Gene with his fist at the line of scrimmage. Gene, who has a beauty of a welt on his left eye, was delayed at the line and a pass from Cook fell incomplete.

Graham, on the sidelines, ran on the field and hollared at the official to call the play. Sample began cussing Graham and moved to him, butting him with his helmet face guard.

Graham slapped him back, but told reporters afterwards: "He's (Sample) not worth writing about. I'd rather talk about our football team."

Jim Turner's fourth field goal of the game with 5:52 remaining gave the Jets a 26-17 lead and provided the eventual margin of victory.

Washington, who jets into California today to join the San Francisco 49ers, scored the first All-Star touchdown on a 17-yard cross pattern pass from Cook with 5:11 gone in the second period.

The Jets had vaulted to a 16-0 lead on three Turner field goals — 43, 16 and 42 yards — and a three-yard run by Matt Snell.

Following the third Turner three-pointer, Altie Taylor brought the All-Stars to life with a record-breaking 78-yard return of the kick off.

After Ed Podolak made two yards. Washington scored on the shot from Cook, who calmly stepped up into the pocket, eluding the rushing Jets

Kicker Roy Gerela added a 28-yard field goal to pull the upstart All-Stars to within six points.

Two Namath to Bake Turner passes covering 21 and 14 yards set the stage for Snell's 35-yard touchdown jaunt on a draw play. Then the Southern Californians went to work.

Cook hit Bob Miller, USC tight end, with a nine yarder, Taylor grabbed a 53-yard bomb, and Bob Klein ran a cross pattern into the end zone and latched on to

Howard Haunts Angels

Giant Nat Doubles Home Deciding Run

By MIKE DUDA

It looked as if the Angels were going to get Frank Howard's goat Friday night —until the ninth inning.

Howard came to the plate with the score tied, 3-3, and promptly doubled to right field to drive in two runs and race the Senators past the Angels, 5-3, at the Big A.

It was Washington's inning from the moment pinch-hitter Jim French stepped to the plate to lead off.

ANGEL OF DAY
TOM EGAN hit his fourth home run in 5-3 loss to Washington.

He drew a walk, advanced to third when Mike Epstein, pinch-hitting for winner Dick Bosman, singled, and scored to tie the game on Ed Brinkman's fly to right.

Hank Allen's single placed men at first and second and paved the way for Howard, who had been hitless in four attempts.

The ninth seemed inevitable from the first inning. Three Angel pitchers allowed 11 hits and gave up six walks to the Senators.

Starter Rudy May lasted 5 2-3 innings before bowing to loser Ken Tatum. May retired only the fifth inning in order, and of the five other innings he started, he found the lead off hitter on base in four of them.

Yet Rudy allowed only two runs. He was saved by double plays in the second and fourth innings.

After May had walked two men in the sixth, Angel skipper Lefty Phillips made the change. Tatum gave up a run, however, before he retired the side.

Tatum barely escaped the seventh, after walking the first two men he faced. However he forced Howard and Brian Alyea to strike out.

Tatum, who started the last three innings for the Angels, placed the lead off hitters on base in each of his innings.

The Angels scored their runs one at a time. After the Senators had jumped off to a one run lead in the first inning. Jim Fregosi singled home Sandy Alomar to tie the score after the first frame.

In the third May scored

Cards Send Big D Packing, Start Thinking Pennant Pot

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS — Don Drysdale's battle for baseball survival took a turn for the worse Friday night, and with it so did the Dodgers' struggle for the National League West crown.

The Big Warrior, trying to hurl his way back into the Dodgers' regular rotation after a two-month stay on the disabled list, was blasted out in the third inning by red-hot St. Louis as the Cardinals chirped their way to a 7-2 victory.

It was St. Louis' fifth win in a row and the Cards' 22nd in their last 28 starts, a figure that hasn't gone unnoticed in Chicago where the Cubbies are beginning to feel some heat.

The Redbirds are thinking about that juicy pennant pot. It was the 23rd time in a row the Cards had won on payday—that is, the first and 15th of the month—and caused St. Louis skipper Red Schoendienst to remark, "I believe our guys are beginning to think about a bigger payday ahead."

DODGER OF DAY
MAURY WILLS had two of Dodgers' eight hits in 7-2 loss to St. Louis.

Drysdale said he simply couldn't get the ball down low enough. His shoulder, the source of all his difficulty this season, didn't trouble him a bit.

"There was no pain or strain," Drysdale said after he was removed in the midst of a four-run St. Louis splurge in the third inning. "I felt okay. I just couldn't get anything down. Everything I threw took off.

"Maybe that extra day of rest didn't help after all."

Drysdale pitched for the first time in two weeks last week in Chicago, and reported everything dandy after nabbing the win. He came back after five days rest this time, an encouraging sign.

Even so, Big D failed to baffle the Cards who now have their longest win streak of the season.

They collected a half dozen safeties off Drysdale, and seven more off the Dodgers' bullpen, which again was something less than a stopper.

Don was whacked on the left thumb by a wicked line drive off Tim McCarver's bat in the second inning and was ineffective after that.

He'd blazed through the first inning with no problem, then gave up a single to Joe Torre to open the second. McCarver slapped the liner that caromed off Don's glove hand into centerfield.

"It dislocated the thumb," Drysdale said. "But I popped it back into place right away. It was sore but it didn't bother me."

The Dodgers weren't able to solve the Cards' Steve Carlton until it was much too late.

The Redbirds' lefthander, their hottest hurler, permitted the Dodgers only one hit through five innings, and only eight for the evening.

Lou Brock collected three of the Cards' hits and so did Julian Javier. Vada

ALL-STARS OUTLASTED, 26-24

Joe Upstaged, but Jets Win

By DON ANDERSEN
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO — Broadway Joe Namath got upstaged here Friday night by a rookie quarterback from Cincinnati, but as so often happens experience prevailed and the Super Bowl champion New York Jets hung on to defeat the fired up College All-Stars, 26-24, in Soldiers Field.

	N.Y.	Stars
First downs	26	8
Rushing Yardage	182	16
Passing yardage	252	244
Passes	15-26-3	13-31-1
Return yardage	17	0
Punts	1-35	7-41
Fumbles	1	0
Yards penalized	47	93

Greg Cook, drafted first by the home town Cincinnati Bengals, rallied Otto Graham's All-Stars, who once trailed by 16 points, with a 17-point third quarter.

It was a stormy second half that exploded into tornado proportions late in the game when Graham had a private war with Jet safety Johnny Sample and Long Beach's Gene Washington was in the middle.

Less than 30 seconds remained and the All-Stars, trailing 23-17, blazed to the Jet four on the strength of a 59-yard pass from Cook to Jerry Levias.

On second down, Sample, playing opposite Washington, slugged Gene with his fist at the line of scrimmage. Gene, who has a beauty of a welt on his left eye, was delayed at the line and a pass from Cook fell incomplete.

Graham, on the sidelines, ran on the field and hollared at the official to call the play. Sample began cussing Graham and moved to him, butting him with his helmet face guard.

Graham slapped him back, but told reporters afterwards: "He's (Sample) not worth writing about. I'd rather talk about our football team."

Jim Turner's fourth field goal of the game with 5:52 remaining gave the Jets a 26-17 lead and provided the eventual margin of victory.

Washington, who jets into California today to join the San Francisco 49ers, scored the first All-Star touchdown on a 17-yard cross pattern pass from Cook with 5:11 gone in the second period.

The Jets had vaulted to a 16-0 lead on three Turner field goals — 43, 16 and 42 yards — and a three-yard run by Matt Snell.

Following the third Turner three-pointer, Altie Taylor brought the All-Stars to life with a record-breaking 78-yard return of the kick off.

After Ed Podolak made two yards, Washington scored on the shot from Cook, who calmly stepped up into the pocket, eluding the rushing Jets

Kicker Roy Gerela added a 28-yard field goal to pull the upstart All-Stars to within six points.

Two Namath to Bake Turner passes covering 21 and 14 yards set the stage for Snell's 35-yard touchdown jaunt on a draw play. Then the Southern Californians went to work.

Cook hit Bob Miller, USC tight end, with a nine yarder, Taylor grabbed a 53-yard bomb, and Bob Klein ran a cross pattern into the end zone and latched on to

Howard Haunts Angels

Giant Nat Doubles Home Deciding Run

By MIKE DUDA

It looked as if the Angels were going to get Frank Howard's goat Friday night—until the ninth inning.

Howard came to the plate with the score tied, 3-3, and promptly doubled to right field to drive in two runs and race the Senators past the Angels, 5-3, at the Big A.

It was Washington's inning from the moment pinch-hitter Jim French stepped to the plate to lead off.

ANGEL OF DAY
TOM EGAN hit his fourth home run in 5-3 loss to Washington.

He drew a walk, advanced to third when Mike Epstein, pinch-hitting for winner Dick Bosman, singled, and scored to tie the game on Ed Brinkman's fly to right.

Hank Allen's single placed men at first and second and paved the way for Howard, who had been hitless in four attempts.

The ninth seemed inevitable from the first inning. Three Angel pitchers allowed 11 hits and gave up six walks to the Senators.

Starter Rudy May lasted 5 2-3 innings before bowing to loser Ken Tatum. May retired only the fifth inning in order, and of the five other innings he started, he found the lead off hitter on base in four of them.

Yet Rudy allowed only two runs. He was saved by double plays in the second and fourth innings.

After May had walked two men in the sixth, Angel skipper Lefty Phillips made the change. Tatum gave up a run, however, before he retired the side.

Tatum barely escaped the seventh, after walking the first two men he faced. However he forced Howard and Brian Alyea to strike out.

Tatum, who started the last three innings for the Angels, placed the lead off hitters on base in each of his innings.

The Angels scored their runs one at a time. After the Senators had jumped off to a one run lead in the first inning, Jim Fregosi singled home Sandy Alomar to tie the score after the first frame.

In the third May scored

Cards Send Big D Packing, Start Thinking Pennant Pot

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS — Don Drysdale's battle for baseball survival took a turn for the worse Friday night, and with it so did the Dodgers' struggle for the National League West crown.

The Big Warrior, trying to hurl his way back into the Dodgers' regular rotation after a two-month stay on the disabled list, was blasted out in the third inning by red-hot St. Louis as the Cardinals chirped their way to a 7-2 victory.

It was St. Louis' fifth win in a row and the Cards' 22nd in their last 28 starts, a figure that hasn't gone unnoticed in Chicago where the Cubbies are beginning to feel some heat.

The Redbirds are thinking about that juicy pennant pot. It was the 23rd time in a row the Cards had won on payday—that is, the first and 15th of the month—and caused St. Louis skipper Red Schoendienst to remark, "I believe our guys are beginning to think about a bigger payday ahead."

DODGER OF DAY
MAURY WILLS had two of Dodgers' eight hits in 7-2 loss to St. Louis.

Drysdale said he simply couldn't get the ball down low enough. His shoulder, the source of all his difficulty this season, didn't trouble him a bit.

"There was no pain or strain," Drysdale said after he was removed in the midst of a four-run St. Louis splurge in the third inning. "I felt okay. I just couldn't get anything down. Everything I threw took off.

"Maybe that extra day of rest didn't help after all."

Drysdale pitched for the first time in two weeks last week in Chicago, and reported everything dandy after nabbing the win. He came back after five days rest this time, an encouraging sign.

Even so, Big D failed to baffle the Cards who now have their longest win streak of the season.

They collected a half dozen safeties off Drysdale, and seven more off the Dodgers' bullpen, which again was something less than a stopper.

Don was whacked on the left thumb by a wicked line drive off Tim McCarver's bat in the second inning and was ineffective after that.

He'd blazed through the first inning with no problem, then gave up a single to Joe Torre to open the second. McCarver slapped the liner that caromed off Don's glove hand into centerfield.

"It dislocated the thumb," Drysdale said. "But I popped it back into place right away. It was sore but it didn't bother me."

The Dodgers weren't able to solve the Cards' Steve Carlton until it was much too late.

The Redbirds' lefthander, their hottest hurler, permitted the Dodgers only one hit through five innings, and only eight for the evening.

PULLED OUT IN SECOND INNING

Yaz Fined for No Hustle

OAKLAND (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's defending batting champion, was pulled from the Boston Red Sox lineup and fined $500 for not hustling in Friday night's game with the Oakland Athletics.

Yastrzemski, batting champion three times, including the last two years, was replaced in the second inning after driving in a run with a first-inning grounder.

Shortstop Ted Kubiak booted the ball and Reggie Smith followed with a single. Rico Petrocelli's sacrifice fly scored the second run of the inning and the runners advanced on the throw home.

With two down, George Scott hit a slow hopper to the left side; Yastrzemski elected to try to score and was thrown out at the plate, retiring the side. There didn't appear to be a play at first.

Yastrzemski took left field in the bottom of the inning, but was removed from the line-up in the second.

Yastrzemski reportedly didn't hustle on a force-play against the Angels Thursday night, costing Petrocelli a hit. Manager Dick Williams warned the club about loafing following two losses in the Angels' series. Yastrzemski, who has played in 191 consecutive games, is batting .254 with 29 home runs and 78 runs batted in.

Chisox Shutout Victims

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain, just out of the hospital, scattered six hits in becoming the major leagues' first 16-game winner as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox 8-0 Friday night.

McLain, (16-6) was hospitalized Wednesday with bronchitis but was released Thursday. He did not allow an extra base hit as he chalked up his 15th complete game and seventh shutout of the season.

Tom Matchick drove in four runs with a double and single, pacing the Tigers' 10-hit attack.

Matchick singled home Willie Horton in the second inning to give Detroit a 1-0 lead.

The Tigers poured across six runs in the fifth off starter and loser Paul Edmondson (1-3) and Cisco Carlos. Detroit got four hits in the inning and four walks, the big blow being Matchick's bases loaded double.

Al Kaline singled home two runs and Willie Horton knocked in the other with a single.

Green Hit Caps A's Flurry in 9th

OAKLAND (AP) — Dick Green capped a three-run ninth inning rally with a run-scoring single, giving the Oakland Athletics a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Ted Kubiak opened the ninth with a single, the fourth hit off Jim Lonborg, and Reggie Jackson drew a walk. Sal Bando forced Jackson at second, but Danny Cater singled to center for one run and Bando also scored when the ball skipped past Tony Conigliaro for an error.

Lonborg walked Rick Monday intentionally, but Green came through with the winning single to right, giving the Athletics their seventh victory in the last nine games.

The Red Sox nicked John (Blue Moon) Odom for two runs in the first inning and Russ Gibson singled across another run in the top of the ninth before the A's exploded.

A walk, Mike Andrews' single and an error by shortstop Kubiak on Yastrzemski's grounder produced Boston's first run.

'K.C. Kid' Shuts Out Cleveland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rookie Dick Drago hurled his first major league shutout Friday night as the Kansas City Royals pulled out of a three-game losing streak with a 6-0 triumph over Cleveland.

Drago, a 24-year-old righthander who had not won a game since July 4, checked the Indians on five hits and moved his record to 5-9.

Yankee Duo Combine on Two-Hitter

SEATTLE (AP) — Home runs by Roy White and Joe Pepitone guided the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over Seattle Friday night as Bill Burbach and Ken Johnson combined to pitch a two-hitter.

Johnson held the Pilots hitless over the final 5 2-3 innings after replacing Burbach in the third, wild-pitching one run home and yielding a run-scoring single by Tommy Davis.

Steve Hovley walked to start the rally and took third on Wayne Comer's double, the only hit off Burbach.

Streaking Redlegs Win, 7-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The streaking Cincinnati Reds slammed eight hits—including two doubles by Lee May and a homer by Alex Johnson—for seven runs in the first two innings and then hung on for a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the Reds.

Cincinnati scored three runs in the first, two of them on Johnson's 11th homer and another on a double by May and an error.

Cincinnati finished Phillies' starter Woodie Fryman with a four-run burst in the second. The Reds loaded the bases on singles by Pete Rose and Bob Tolan and an error. Tony Perez singled home a pair, and May's second double accounted for two more.

Mets' Four-Run First Too Much for Atlanta

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rod Gaspar singled in two runs in a four-run first inning and Jerry Grote hit a home run in the fourth Friday night to give the New York Mets a 5-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The Braves took a 3-0 lead against Don Cardwell in the first inning on a single, a hit batsman, two walks and a two-run single by Felix Millan.

But Bud Harrelson, Bobby Pfeil and Tommie Agee—the first three hitters for the Mets—retaliated by rapping consecutive singles to load the bases. Phil Niekro walked Ron Swoboda to force in one run and then served Gaspar the two-run single that tied it at 3-3.

Catcher Bob Didier then let Niekro's pitch by him for a passed ball and Swoboda scored the fourth run of the inning.

Atlanta scored its fourth run in the seventh on doubles by Felipe Alou and Hank Aaron.

Regan Joins Hands to Help Cubs Hold Off San Diego

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ernie Banks and Jim Hickman each drove in two runs with singles Friday and Phil Regan got his 11th save in a 5-2 victory for the Chicago Cubs over the San Diego Padres.

It was the Padres' sixth loss in a row.

Billy Williams singled in the first inning, Ron Santo walked and the runners advanced to second and third on Clay Kirby's wild pitch. Banks then singled both runs in to give Chicago an early 2-0 lead.

Hickman singled with the bases loaded in the seventh inning after Gary Ross walked Williams and Santo and hit Ernie Banks.

Bill Hands went 6 1-3 innings for the Cubs, allowing seven hits and two runs before Regan took over and preserved Hands' 12th victory. Kirby took the defeat, his 14th against three wins.

GAME OF TAG
Cardinals' Joe Torre is lagged out by Bill Sudakis Friday night after being trapped between third and home. Play followed Mike Shannon's bouncer to first baseman Ken Boyer. Dodger catcher is Jeff Torborg.

DODGERS IN FOURTH---

Pinson managed a single to extend his hitting streak to 24 games, longest this year in the National League.

"Things are starting to look a little better." Schoendienst said in something of an understatement. "The guys are picking one another up. We weren't doing that before the All-Star break.

"Now we're getting hits with two outs. We're scoring runs now. Before we were leaving a lot of guys on base. Yes, we've played a heckuva lot better in the second half."

Just the reverse is true for the Dodgers, who've dropped three in a row and four of their last five. Against St. Louis, they're 1-5.

The Dodgers had a chance to help themselves. Instead they dropped to fourth place. Atlanta's lead was sliced to a game over Cincinnati and San Francisco, the Dodgers are two behind and—look out—here comes Houston. The Astros are only 3½ behind.

Things could get worse, if Drysdale isn't able to bounce back the way manager Walter Alston had hoped. That would leave a starting rotation of Don Sutton, Bill Singer, Claude Osteen and, as Alston says, "Somebody . . . you name it."

DODGER DOINGS: Vada Pinson's hitting streak is now at 22 games, longest of the year in the National League . . . Since 1950 only five Cardinals have ever had longer streaks and two of them later became Dodgers—Ken Boyer and Wally Moon. Boyer, who started at first base against his former mates Friday night, had a 29-game string in 1959 and Moon had a 24-game score in 1957. The other Redbirds with longer streaks are Red Schoendienst (28 games, 1954) and Stan Musial (24 games, 1952, and 30 games, 1950).

Ray Lamb, summoned from Spokane Thursday to replace Bill Russell who's off to two weeks summer military drills, had a brisk baptism in the big leagues. Called in to replace Don Drysdale in the third inning, Lamb was touched for a double, a walk and almost had a wild pitch charged but Jeff Torborg was able to throw Joe Torre out at the plate instead . . .

Tim McCarver's second inning line drive glanced off Drysdale's glove hand. Don says the blow dislocated the thumb but he quickly popped it back into place. "It was sore but it didn't bother me." he said . . .

Pitching tonight will be Don Sutton (12-10) for the Dodgers, Mike Torrez (5-4), a rightlander, for St. Louis . . . Sunday it'll be Claude Osteen against the Cards' Chuck Taylor and on Monday, the finale in the road trip, Bill Singer opposes St. Louis' Nelson Briles.

Orioles Toppled in 10th

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Leo Cardenas tripled in the 10th inning and then scored on Rod Carew's infield single, giving the Minnesota Twins a 4-3 victory over Baltimore in a battle of the American League's divisional leaders Friday night.

After Cardenas' one-out triple, the Orioles walked the next two batters intentionally loading the bases. Then Pete Richert replaced Dave Leonhard on the mound for Baltimore.

Carew tapped a swinging bunt towards the mount but Richert overran the ball trying to field it, and Cardenas raced home.

Pinch hitter Bob Allison socked a 392-foot homer, his fifth, into the left field seats off reliever Marcelino Lopez to pull the Twins into a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning.

McCovey, Dietz Aid Giant Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dick Dietz and Willie McCovey cracked home runs, two of only five hits given up by Jim Bunning and reliever Bo Belinsky, to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 5-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Bunning didn't allow a hit until McCovey blasted his 33rd homer, a solo shot to right, to lead off the fifth inning.

Dietz smacked a two-run homer, his seventh, in the seventh after McCovey walked. Jim Davenport doubled two more Giant runs across in the ninth.

The Pirates had taken a 1-0 lead in the third when Gene Alley singled, went to second on Bunning's sacrifice and scored on Mike McCormick's two-base wild pitch.

when Hank Allen muffed Jim Spencer's fly to right. May had singled to lead off the inning.

Tom Egan, replacing starter Joe Azcue who was injured in a fourth-inning play at the plate, hit his first home run off any team other than Oakland in the seventh to give the Halos a temporary, if not unstable, lead. It was Egan's fourth homer of the year.

ANGEL ANGLES: First baseman Jim Spencer saw the end of his five-game hitting streak Thursday night. . . . Boston's Ray Culp handcuffed Spencer to an 0-for-4 night kept the string alive as an infield evening. . . . Spencer's hit Wednesday night kept the string alive as an infield hit . . . The Angels turned in a unique double play in the second inning Friday infielders without first baseman Spencer. . . . With none out and Del Unser on third and Tim Cullen on first, Washington's Paul Casanova grounded to Aurelio Rodriguez at third. Rodriguez threw Unser out at the plate, and catcher Joe Azcue caught Cullen, who had moved to second, between bases. Azcue threw to second baseman Sandy Alomar, who threw to shortstop Jim Fregosi, who made the tag. . . . The Halos killed another Senator rally in the fourth when right fielder Bill Voss threw Unser out at the plate after catching Casanova's fly. . . .

Blefary Belts Two Homers

MONTREAL (AP) — Curt Blefary slammed a pair of two-run homers to power the Houston Astros to a 5-3 victory over the Montreal Expos Friday night.

Blefary hit his first home run in the first inning, scoring behind Denis Menke, who walked. Jimmy Wynn also had a bases-empty homer in the first for the Astros.

PULLED OUT IN SECOND INNING

Yaz Fined for No Hustle

OAKLAND (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's defending batting champion, was pulled from the Boston Red Sox lineup and fined $500 for not hustling in Friday night's game with the Oakland Athletics.

Yastrzemski, batting champion three times, including the last two years, was replaced in the second inning after driving in a run with a first-inning grounder.

Shortstop Ted Kubiak booted the ball and Reggie Smith followed with a single. Rico Petrocelli's sacrifice fly scored the second run of the inning and the runners advanced on the throw home.

With two down, George Scott hit a slow hopper to the left side. Yastrzemski elected to try to score and was thrown out at the plate, retiring the side. There didn't appear to be a play at first.

Yastrzemski took left field in the bottom of the inning, but was removed from the line-up in the second.

Yastrzemski reportedly didn't hustle on a force play against the Angels Thursday night, costing Petrocelli a hit. Manager Dick Williams warned the club about loafing following two losses in the Angels' series. Yastrzemski, who has played in 191 consecutive games, is batting .254 with 29 home runs and 78 runs batted in.

Green Hit Caps A's Flurry in 9th

OAKLAND (AP) — Dick Green capped a three-run ninth inning rally with a run-scoring single, giving the Oakland Athletics a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Ted Kubiak opened the ninth with a single, the fourth hit off Jim Lonborg, and Reggie Jackson drew a walk. Sal Bando forced Jackson at second, but Danny Cater singled to center for one run and Bando also scored when the ball skipped past Tony Conigliaro for an error.

Lonborg walked Rick Monday intentionally, but Green came through with the winning single to right, giving the Athletics their seventh victory in the last nine games.

The Red Sox nicked John (Blue Moon) Odom for two runs in the first inning and Russ Gibson singled across another run in the top of the ninth before the A's exploded.

A walk, Mike Andrews' single and an error by shortstop Kubiak on Yastrzemski's grounder produced Boston's first run.

Yankee Duo Combine on Two-Hitter

SEATTLE (AP) — Home runs by Roy White and Joe Pepitone guided the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over Seattle Friday night as Bill Burbach and Ken Johnson combined to pitch a two-hitter.

Johnson held the Pilots hitless over the final 5 2-3 innings after replacing Burbach in the third, wild-pitching one run home and yielding a run-scoring single by Tommy Davis.

Steve Hovley walked to start the rally and took third on Wayne Comer's double, the only hit off Burbach.

Streaking Redlegs Win, 7-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The streaking Cincinnati Reds slammed eight hits—including two doubles by Lee May and a homer by Alex Johnson—for seven runs in the first two innings and then hung on for a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the Reds.

Cincinnati scored three runs in the first, two of them on Johnson's 11th homer and another on a double by May and an error.

Cincinnati finished Phillies' starter Woodie Fryman with a four-run burst in the second. The Reds loaded the bases on singles by Pete Rose and Bob Tolan and an error. Tony Perez singled home a pair, and May's second double accounted for two more.

Chisox Shutout Victims

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain, just out of the hospital, scattered six hits in becoming the major leagues' first 16-game winner as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox 8-0 Friday night.

McLain, (16-6) was hospitalized Wednesday with bronchitis but was released Thursday. He did not allow an extra base hit as he chalked up his 15th complete game and seventh shutout of the season.

Tom Matchick drove in four runs with a double and single, pacing the Tigers' 10-hit attack.

Matchick singled home Willie Horton in the second inning to give Detroit a 1-0 lead.

The Tigers poured across six runs in the fifth off starter and loser Paul Edmondson (1-3) and Cisco Carlos. Detroit got four hits in the inning and four walks, the big blow being Matchick's bases loaded double.

Al Kaline singled home two runs and Willie Horton knocked in the other with a single.

Mets' Four-Run First Too Much for Atlanta

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rod Gaspar singled in two runs in a four-run first inning and Jerry Grote hit a home run in the fourth Friday night to give the New York Mets a 5-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The Braves took a 3-0 lead against Don Cardwell in the first inning on a single, a hit batsman, two walks and a two-run single by Felix Millan.

But Bud Harrelson, Bobby Pfeil and Tommie Agee—the first three hitters for the Mets—retaliated by rapping consecutive singles to load the bases. Phil Niekro walked Ron Swoboda to force in one run and then served Gaspar the two-run single that tied it at 3-3.

Catcher Bob Didier then let Niekro's pitch by him for a passed ball and Swoboda scored the fourth run of the inning.

Atlanta scored its fourth run in the seventh on doubles by Felipe Alou and Hank Aaron.

Regan Joins Hands to Help Cubs Hold Off San Diego

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ernie Banks and Jim Hickman each drove in two runs with singles Friday and Phil Regan got his 11th save in a 5-2 victory for the Chicago Cubs over the San Diego Padres.

It was the Padres' sixth loss in a row.

Billy Williams singled in the first inning, Ron Santo walked and the runners advanced to second and third on Clay Kirby's wild pitch. Banks then singled both runs in to give Chicago an early 2-0 lead.

Hickman singled with the bases loaded in the seventh inning after Gary Ross walked Williams and Santo and hit Ernie Banks.

Bill Hands went 6 1-3 innings for the Cubs, allowing seven hits and two runs before Regan took over and preserved Hands' 12th victory. Kirby took the defeat, his 14th against three wins.

GAME OF TAG

Cardinals' Joe Torre is tagged out by Bill Sudakis Friday night after being trapped between third and home. Play followed Mike Shannon's bouncer to first baseman Ken Boyer. Dodger catcher is Jeff Torborg.

DODGERS IN FOURTH---

Pinson managed a single to extend his hitting streak to 24 games, longest this year in the National League.

"Things are starting to look a little better," Schoendienst said in something of an understatement. "The guys are picking one another up. We weren't doing that before the All-Star break.

"Now we're getting hits with two outs. We're scoring runs now. Before we were leaving a lot of guys on base. Yes, we've played a heckuva lot better in the second half."

Just the reverse is true for the Dodgers, who've dropped three in a row and four of their last five. Against St. Louis, they're 1-5.

The Dodgers had a chance to help themselves. Instead they dropped to fourth place. Atlanta's lead was sliced to a game over Cincinnati and San Francisco, the Dodgers are two behind and—look out—here comes Houston. The Astros are only 3½ behind.

Things could get worse, if Drysdale isn't able to bounce back the way manager Walter Alston had hoped. That would leave a starting rotation of Don Sutton, Bill Singer, Claude Osteen and, as Alston says, "Somebody . . . you name it."

DODGER DOINGS: Vada Pinson's hitting streak is now at 22 games, longest of the year in the National League . . . Since 1950 only five Cardinals have ever had longer streaks and two of them later become Dodgers—Ken Boyer and Wally Moon. Boyer, who started at first base against his former mates Friday night, had a 29-game string in 1959 and Moon had a 24-game spree in 1957. The other Redbirds with longer streaks are Red Schoendienst (28 games, 1954) and Stan Musial (24 games, 1952, and 30 games, 1950).

Roy Lamb, summoned from Spokane Thursday to replace Bill Russell who's off to two weeks summer military drills, had a brisk baptism in the big leagues. Called in to replace Don Drysdale in the third inning, Lamb was touched for a double, a walk and almost had a wild pitch charged but Jeff Torborg was able to throw Joe Torre out at the plate instead . . .

Tim McCarver's second inning line drive glanced off Drysdale's glove hand. Don says the blow dislocated the thumb but he quickly popped it back into place: "It was sore but it didn't bother me," he said . . .

Pitching tonight will be Don Sutton (12-10) for the Dodgers. Mike Torrez (5-4), a righthander, for St. Louis . . . Sunday it'll be Claude Osteen against the Cards' Chuck Taylor and on Monday, the finale in the road trip, Bill Singer opposes St. Louis' Nelson Briles.

McCovey, Dietz Aid Giant Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dick Dietz and Willie McCovey cracked home runs, two of only five hits given up by Jim Bunning and reliever Bo Belinsky, to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 5-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Bunning didn't allow a hit until McCovey blasted his 33rd homer, a solo shot to right, to lead off the fifth inning.

Dietz smacked a two-run homer, his seventh, in the seventh after McCovey walked. Jim Davenport doubled two more Giant runs across in the ninth.

The Pirates had taken a 1-0 lead in the third when Gene Alley singled, went to second on Bunning's sacrifice and scored on Mike McCormick's two-base wild pitch.

Orioles Toppled in 10th

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Leo Cardenas tripled in the 10th inning and then scored on Rod Carew's infield single, giving the Minnesota Twins a 4-3 victory over Baltimore in a battle of the American League's divisional leaders Friday night.

After Cardenas' one-out triple, the Orioles walked the next two batters intentionally loading the bases. Then Pete Richert replaced Dave Leonhard on the mound for Baltimore.

Carew tapped a swinging bunt towards the mount but Richert overran the ball trying to field it, and Cardenas raced home.

Pinch hitter Bob Allison socked a 392-foot homer, his fifth, into the left field seats off reliever Marcelino Lopez to pull the Twins into a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning.

O. J.'s Deals: Little Fact, Lots of Fiction

By LOEL SCHRADER
Staff Writer

Clearly, the O. J. Simpson situation is unclear.

One report Friday had Simpson and his agent, Chuck Barnes, huddling in New York with Pete Rozelle and Buffalo owner Ralph C. Wilson.

Another had him preparing for a flight to Honolulu to confer with officials of the Hawaii Monarchs of the Continental League.

It was difficult to separate truth from fiction, but these public positions taken by the principals involved:

— Rozelle, reached in Chicago: "Whoever spread the story that I am about to meet with Simpson and Barnes in New York kind of missed connections. I'm going to the West Coast from here."

— Barnes: "O J. and I are in New York solely for commercial purposes. We're in New York to sign a contract with a soft-drink company."

— Simpson: "I haven't heard about any meeting with Rozelle or Wilson."

— Wilson: "I didn't even know Simpson and Barnes were coming to New York and I have no plans to meet with them. I haven't talked with Barnes for several weeks and we made no arrangements for future conversations."

One thing was certain — Simpson will not be playing with the Hawaii team. The Monarchs, who reportedly had offered the Heisman Trophy winner $150,000 to $200,000 for one season, folded operations Friday.

Wilson, contacted at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., where he has a stable of horses running in the current Saratoga meeting, said: "We are not including Simpson in our 1969 plans. I would be willing to talk to O. J. and Barnes, but we are so far apart it would be difficult to reach a compromise."

Wilson added that he was "very pessimistic" after his last telephone conversation with Barnes.

"They (Barnes and Simpson) are stuck on that one figure — $650,000 for five years. I've offered $250,000 and my position is flexible.

"As a matter of fact, I would be willing to pay Simpson more than any rookie has received since the NFL-AFL merger, but not the kind of money he is asking.

"Simpson is a fine young man and probably the most publicized college football player in the last 20 years. But his value to us publicity-wise wouldn't be enough to pay him what he wants."

The Buffalo owner said he would stay in Saratoga Springs "off and on" until the end of the Saratoga racing season Aug. 23 except for trips to the Bills' training camp and pre-season games.

Rozelle said negotiations between draft choices and clubs "are matters for the clubs and not the commissioner." He added that he has no plans to meet with either party anywhere and is "pleased" that he can remain out of such affairs.

SAN DIEGO — First came Father Serra and the Conquistadores. Two hundred years and one moon-walk later, San Diego awaits the invasion of the Baltimore Colts to kick off the 1969 exhibition football campaign tonight at 8 o'clock.

A sellout crowd of 50,000 is expected to sit around the campfire at San Diego Stadium awed by the firepower of the Colts, who are the first NFL rivals the Chargers face at home in pre-season.

Leading off the "Super-200" anniversary, Charger fans will be treated to their first live look at pro football's all-time passing champion, John Unitas.

Baltimore coach Don Shula, whose club is cast as seven-point favorites, plans to share duty against the Chargers between Unitas and Earl Morrall, NFL player of the year in 1968.

They have thrown 377 touchdown passes, Unitas 245 and Morall 123.

The Colt defense shut out four opponents last year, including Cleveland in a championship game. Shula has Roy Hilton and John Williams vying for the defensive end spot vacated by retired Ordell Braase, and Charlie Stukes is expected to fill new defensive back coach Bobby Boyd's left cornerback job.

All-pro tight end John Mackey, who did some running out of the backfield in Jerry Hill's spot when the Colt fullback underwent knee surgery two weeks ago, is back at his receiving position.

San Diego will counter with its veteran offensive unit paced by quarterback John Hadl and featuring three all-AFL players, receiver Lance Alworth, tackle Ron Mix and guard Walt Sweeney.

Trim Gene Foster and comebacker Keith Lincoln will open at running backs with Gary Garrison and Jacque MacKinnon or Willie Frazier the other receivers. A new face in the starting offensive line is left guard Bill Lenkaitis.

Charger rookies who may debut tonight include quarterback Marty Domres, receiver Mike Simpson, tackle Gene Ferguson and tight end Craig Cotton. Watching from the bench will be College All-Star returnees running back Ron Sayers and linebacker Bob Babich.

AFL NOTES: Hadl was No. 1 in league in passing yardage, attempts, completions and touchdowns (27. Garrison, former Millikan High and LBCC star, enters his fourth season with Chargers. He has caught 142 passes for 17.7 average and 17 TDs. Last year he caught 52 passes for 1,103 yards and 10 TDs, ranking seventh in AFL. Gary's hobby is training horses.

The game holds special for the Rams since they meet the Chargers on Aug. 30 and open the NFL season against the Colts.

Mason Meeting New Challenge, Receives Praise

Tommy Mason, the nine-year veteran from Tulane, drew praise from coach George Allen Friday after the running back was moved to wide receiver for a "10-day look."

"Without Jim Seymour and Pat Studstill (hobbled by a leg injury), Tommy gives us valuable depth on the outside. He had no trouble converting to an outside receiver when Jack Snow was hurt in the Miami playoff bowl game two years ago," Allen pointed out.

"It's only a matter of learning when to cut. He showed he has his old speed when he ran a 4.6 40-yard dash the other day."

Bernie Casey told this newspaper Friday he has no plans to rejoin the Rams.

"I meant it when I said I was retiring. I have a nation-wide promotional tour of my new book next month as well as an art showing which also comes in September. Not only that, but I've been invited to conduct a college lecture tour.

"In view of this, it wouldn't be financially sound for me to return. If I did I'd be losing money. Good things have happened to me since last year. I'm not using this as a ploy to get more money or to escape training camp," Bernie declared.

He did leave the door open by saying, "If the Rams extended themselves to make it feasible, I might reconsider."

Asked if he would follow the fortunes of the Rams by attending their games, Casey said: "I told Allen I was afraid if I was in the Coliseum and the team was trailing by a point with two minutes to go I might jump out of the stands and yell for Gabe to 'throw me the ball.' "

As it stands now, Casey, the artist, actor and writer still is retired.

The Rams released five players Friday; defensive back Cephus Jackson, (Jackson St.), kicker Don Martin (Washington), linebacker George Jugum (Washington), receiver George Smith (South Carolina St.) and defensive lineman Dave Lince (North Dakota).

The Rams will scrimmage the New Orleans Saints this morning in a closed workout.

Colleges Should Play 12 Games, Says Broyles

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas, stating the nation's football coaches are on a "collision course" with the NCAA over two-platoon play, suggested Friday that colleges could meet a growing financial problem by playing 11 or 12-game seasons.

Broyles, incoming president of the American Football Coaches Assn. next year, touched on athletic costs, rules and playing trends as main speaker at the annual Football Writers Assn. of America meeting.

"In my opinion, it should be noted that there are more non-revenue sports being put under football budgets," he said.

"I certainly don't recommend cutting out non-revenue sports. But if universities want these sports, they should pay for them the same way they do a chemistry department."

The NCAA, led by Executive Director Walter Byers, has been campaigning for a return to one platoon football to reduce growing athletic budget deficits.

Fassnacht Turns Tables on Hutton

Hans Fassnacht of Phillips 66 Long Beach Aquatic Club and Cal State Long Beach beat 400 meter freestyle world record holder Ralph Hutton by more than 12 seconds Friday in the L.A. Invitational swimming championships at the Los Angeles swim stadium.

Fassnacht, who swam for West Germany in the Mexico City Olympics, won the event in 4:06.9. He was four-tenths of a second off Hutton's world mark. Hutton, who swam for Canada in the Olympics, placed third. Fassnacht also broke the L.A. pool record and established an SPAAAU record.

Juan Bello, Phillips 66, placed seventh and set a Peruvian national mark. He was timed at 4:20.8.

Susie Atwood and Ann Simmons of the Lakewood Aquatic Club dominated the women's events.

Miss Atwood, a 1968 Olympian, won the 100-meter backstroke in 1:09.19 and was second to Miss Simmons in the 400 freestyle. Miss Simmons was timed in 4:37.2 and broke her pool record set last year. Miss Atwood finished in 4:42.9.

Lombardi, Sayers Return to Pro Football Wars Tonight

Associated Press

The football game between Washington and the Chicago Bears in R. F. Kennedy Stadium tonight will be something more than just another pro exhibition contest because it marks the first start for the Redskins under Vince Lombardi.

When Lombardi moved from Green Bay to Washington last winter he generated new interest in the Redskins who have not had a National Football League championship team since 1942, the days of Sammy Baugh.

Th Bears will be watching anxiously the first test of Gale Sayers who missed the last part of the 1968 season due to knee surgery but has been running strong in training.

Sayers single-handedly gained as much ground for the Bears as all the Redskins' regular running backs last year even though he missed five games because of a knee injury.

Sayers, who underwent surgery on the knee, rambled for 856 yards last season before his injury. The Redskins' five regular ball carriers, Gerry Allen, Bob Brunet, Steve Thurlow, Pete Larsonn, and A. D. Whitfield, gained 912.

Baltimore will make its first appearance since its Super Bowl loss to the New York Jets by facing another American Football League team, the Chargers at San Diego, in another of the five pro games.

Minnesota's Vikings also will meet an AFL foe in the Miami Dolphins at Tampa, Fla., an area interested in being included in the next expansion move.

The Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs, expected to be prime rivals for the AFL western title will warm up at Birmingham, Ala., another potential expansion site. It will be the first game for the Raiders under coach John Madden, who replaced Johnny Rauch.

Buffalo snake bit by injuries a year ago, will face the Houston Oilers in the Astrodome without O. J. Simpson although there are signs that O. J. may wind up in the Bills' camp shortly. Rauch, who moved from Oakland to Buffalo, will be getting a first look at his troops in action.

Missing from the game due to injuries will be defensive tackles Tom Keating and Dan Birdwell, and cornerback Kent McCloughan.

Linebacker Bill Laskey, out last season with an injury, will be back.

BENGALS — Waived veteran quarterback Dewey Warren, defensive back Phil Spiller and defensive linebacker Mike Hibler plus rookies Sylvester Greenwood (Fresno St.), Dave Morrison (SW Texas), Bill Schmidt (Missouri) and Terry Story (Georgia Tech.).

BRONCOS — Waived injured quarterback Marlin Briscoe, safety Jack O'Brien and wide receiver Woody Williams.

FALCONS — Waived veterans Phil Sobocinski and Floyd Hudlow.

EAGLES — Released defensive back Bill Rakow (Adams St.) and tight end Dick Barnhorst (Xavier). Waived injured running back Roger Grimes and placed defensive backs Al Loyan (Colorado St.), and Herb Nauss (Albright) on the military reserve list.

STEELERS — Cut veteran kicker Gene Mingo plus rookies Earl Price (Kent St.), wide receiver Erwin Williams (Maryland), Joe Cooper (Tennessee), Bill Epprecht (Kent St), Doc Mosely (Alcorn A&M).

49ERS — Trimmed kickers Ron Miller (California) and Tim Abena (Stanford) plus defensive back Leroy Harris (Idaho St.), Bob Windsen, Elmer Collett and Skip Vanderbrundt left for two week's summer camp.

SAINTS — Released veterans Gary Lane, Tom Carr and Willie Crittendon plus rookies Gary Lloyd (Cal Lutheran), Bill Smith (Ohio State), Corky Barton (Texas Tech), Sam Harris (Colorado) and Steve Young (L.A. State). Placed defensive tackle Kaye Crecanier (Montana St.) and running back Wilmer Cook (Colorado) on the injured list.

'AMATEUR' IS PAID $75 A DAY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A 7-foot college basketball player is being paid $75 a day for a summer playground job and keeping his amateur status, the Jacksonville Journal said Friday.

Artis Gilmore, 7-2 athlete from Quincy, Fla., who will be a junior at Jacksonville University this fall, will earn between $3,000 and $3,750 for 40 to 50 days work this summer.

"It's all very legal and very precedented and has been cleared with the National Collegiate Athletic Association," writer Jack Hairston said.

Coach Joe Williams of JU said he contacted Art Bergstom of the NCAA to ask whether it would be legal for him to help Gilmore, a Negro, get a summer job.

"He told me I could get him a job," Williams said. "But he said there were two rules he would have to go by: 1, He couldn't be paid to play basketball or other sports; 2, His salary would have to be commensurate with what other people in that type of job were getting."

"I located the program in New York," Williams said. "They explained that Lew Alcindor and the other athletes received $25 a session as athletic consultants, conducting clinics, and averaged two to three sessions a day. In other words, about $75 a day."

Williams said he contacted officials of the Federal Antipoverty Program here and found they were looking for someone like Gilmore.

"Gilmore was an underprivileged kid and a member of a minority group," Williams said, "and this is who he's working with."

Ironically, Gerela missed a 37-yard attempt on the next series that could have turned the game around. Miller's 27-yard reception and Klein's five-yard grab were keys in that drive.

Graham told reporters that "mistakes" were what he feared most, and the prophecy proved true. A pass interference call against the fired-up Stars sustained a 16-play Jet drive that led to Turner's fourth field goal.

"Cook had the hot hand in the second half so we went with him. Taylor's kick return ignited the team," said Otto.

Washington, sweaty and bruised after his shot from Sample, said that the All-Stars weren't sure of themselves in the first half. "Cook took control, was poised and had plenty of time in the second half. That got us going," he said. "The Jets played us loose."

Klein, in Fullerton today to begin drills with the Rams, said: "It was lots of fun. You think you are going to get your brains scrambled by the pros, but they finessed us. Physically we were not inferior."

Mike Battle, drafted 12th by the Jets after his all-American year at USC, returned one kick off 32 yards in his professional debut.

O. J.'s Deals: Little Fact, Lots of Fiction

By LOEL SCHRADER
Staff Writer

Clearly, the O. J. Simpson situation is unclear.

One report Friday had Simpson and his agent, Chuck Barnes, huddling in New York with Pete Rozelle and Buffalo owner Ralph C. Wilson.

Another had him preparing for a flight to Honolulu to confer with officials of the Hawaii Monarchs of the Continental League.

It was difficult to separate truth from fiction, but these public positions taken by the principals involved:

— Rozelle, reached in Chicago: "Whoever spread the story that I am about to meet with Simpson and Barnes in New York kind of missed connections. I'm going to the West Coast from here."

— Barnes: "O J. and I are in New York solely for commercial purposes. We're in New York to sign a contract with a soft-drink company."

— Simpson: "I haven't heard about any meeting with Rozelle or Wilson."

— Wilson: "I didn't even know Simpson and Barnes were coming to New York and I have no plans to meet with them. I haven't talked with Barnes for several weeks and we made no arrangements for future conversations."

One thing was certain — Simpson will not be playing with the Hawaii team. The Monarchs, who reportedly had offered the Heisman Trophy winner $150,000 to $200,000 for one season, folded operations Friday.

Wilson, contacted at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., where he has a stable of horses running in the current Saratoga meeting, said: "We are not including Simpson in our 1969 plans. I would be willing to talk to O. J. and Barnes, but we are so far apart it would be difficult to reach a compromise."

Wilson added that he was "very pessimistic" after his last telephone conversation with Barnes.

"They (Barnes and Simpson) are stuck on that one figure — $650,000 for five years. I've offered $250,000 and my position is flexible.

"As a matter of fact, I would be willing to pay Simpson more than any rookie has received since the NFL-AFL merger, but not the kind of money he is asking.

"Simpson is a fine young man and probably the most publicized college football player in the last 20 years. But his value to us publicity-wise wouldn't be enough to pay him what he wants."

The Buffalo owner said he would stay in Saratoga Springs "off and on" until the end of the Saratoga racing season Aug. 23 ex*cept for trips to the Bills'* training camp and pre-season games.

Rozelle said negotiations between draft choices and clubs "are matters for the clubs and not the commissioner." He added that he has no plans to meet with either party anywhere and is "pleased" that he can remain out of such affairs.

Colleges Should Play 12 Games, Says Broyles

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas, stating the nation's football coaches are on a "collision course" with the NCAA over two-platoon play, suggested Friday that colleges could meet a growing financial problem by playing 11 or 12-game seasons.

Broyles, incoming president of the American Football Coaches Assn. next year, touched on athletic costs, rules and playing trends as main speaker at the annual Football Writers Assn. of America meeting.

"In my opinion, it should be noted that there are more non-revenue sports being put under football budgets," he said.

"I certainly don't recommend cutting out non-revenue sports. But if universities want these sports, they should pay for them the same way they do a chemistry department."

The NCAA, led by Executive Director Walter Byers, has been campaigning for a return to one platoon football to reduce growing athletic budget deficits.

Fassnacht Turns Tables on Hutton

Hans Fassnacht of Phillips 66 Long Beach Aquatic Club and Cal State Long Beach beat 400 meter freestyle world record holder Ralph Hutton by more than 12 seconds Friday in the L.A. Invitational swimming championships at the Los Angeles swim stadium.

Fassnacht, who swam for West Germany in the Mexico City Olympics, won the event in 4:06.9. He was four-tenths of a second off Hutton's world mark. Hutton, who swam for Canada in the Olympics, placed third. Fassnacht also broke the L.A. pool record and established an SPAAAU record.

Juan Bello, Phillips 66, placed seventh and set a Peruvian national mark. He was timed at 4:20.8.

Susie Atwood and Ann Simmons of the Lakewood Aquatic Club dominated the women's events.

Miss Atwood, a 1968 Olympian, won the 100-meter backstroke in 1:09.19 and was second to Miss Simmons in the 400 freestyle. Miss Simmons was timed in 4:37.2 and broke her pool record set last year. Miss Atwood finished in 4:42.9.

Events start at 9:30 this morning with finals in all events at 3:30 p.m.

RACE ROUNDUP

Belmont Winner Returns

Combined News Services

Arts and Letters, winner of the Belmont and runner-up in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, returns to the races after an eight-week vacation, to run in today's $100,000-added Monmouth Invitational Handicap.

Braulio Baeza will ride Arts and Letters, making his first start since the June 7 Belmont in this 1½-mile test that has drawn a surprisingly large field of 10 entries.

Al Hattab, winner of five stakes this season, is expected to be the second choice to the favored Arts and Letters who will carry top weight of 128 pounds. Ray Broussard will be up on Al Hattab, 126.

TWO OTHER $100,000-added races are on today's national program, including the Delaware Handicap at Delaware Park and the Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park in Chicago.

Singing Rain is the top weight, 120, among seven in the Delaware feature which will be worth $74,168.25 to the winner.

Figonero, 122, will tote the heaviest burden in the Lindheimer, a 1 3/16-mile event on the grass that has attracted 110. Lostalo, 116, and Out The Window, 116, are others well liked.

THE $20,000-ADDED San Diego Handicap, 1 1/16-mile race at Del Mar, has a field of nine including top weighted Quicken Tree, 127, Kissing George, 122 and Baffle, 122.

Quicken Tree, who has not raced since early April, has been working sensationally for his 1969 debut at the track where he charged from last place to capture the Del Mar Handicap in 1:46 2/5, equalling the record set by Bug Brush in 1959.

Baffle and Kissin' George, who will carry 122 pounds, figure to be Quicken Tree's toughest foes.

Completing the San Diego Handicap lineup are Wingover 114, Triple Tux 112, Rivet 118, Bargain Day 115, Fiddle Isle, 117, and California, 107.

Baffle, who has been racing in the finest form of his career recently, will be making his first start at Del Mar since capturing the 1968 La Jolla mile."

Kissin' George who has accounted for two sprint stakes at Del Mar in the last two seasons, will be trying the mile and one-sixteenth distance of the San Diego Handicap for the first time since setting the pace against Dr. Fager in the 1968 Californian at Hollywood Park.

Whittier Girls Gain Trans-Miss. Finale

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Jane Bastanchury and Martha Wilkinson, a pair of former Odessa, Tex., College teammates from Whittier, battled their way into the finals of the 39th Women's Trans-Mississippi Amateur Golf tournament Friday.

Playing in 100-degree temperature, Miss Bastanchury defeated defending champion Mrs. Michael Skala, Cameron Park, Calif., 4-2, while Miss Wilkinson downed Cynthia Hill, Southhaven, Mich., 5-4.

FEATURE FAILS TO FILL

No 'Moon' at Los Alamitos

By DAVE DANIEL

It's odd. With all the talk about the recent moon landing, you'd think a race called the "Moon Deck" would be a natural for Los Alamitos Race Course.

The Moon Deck Purse for 2-year-olds, named for the 1955 Spring Championship winner and the first quarter horse ever to earn more than $200,000, ran into a problem.

The race failed to fill as the youngsters eligible for the $7,000 prize passed to stay in top shape for next weekend's Kindergarten Trials, leading up to the $75,000 Kindergarten the following week.

That gives a group of better older horses another chance, and they won't miss it by taking part in the $3,000 Beverly Hills Purse, put on the card as a substitute feature race tonight.

Three of the seven starters in the 400-yard event won their last starts and five of the seven have won races this meeting in the AAA-minus division.

Heading the list is Witch Chic, which won at 350 yards last week in a swift 17.9 seconds. Quincy A Go Go posted a win July 8 in the same time.

Other entrants include Lightning Ridge, which won July 19 in 18 seconds flat and Tagger Bar, winning in 18.1 on July 18.

Admiral Red is the last to go 400 yards, winning on June 30 in 20.3 seconds. Only Bar Little Deck and Tidy Go haven't made a trip to the winner's circle this season at Orange County.

Top Rockette finally made it to the winner's circle Friday night as she captured the $3,000 Barbra B. by a full length over Ettabo and Fresno Bar Gal.

The four-year old daughter of Rocket Bar was making her fifth start of the meeting, finishing second twice and third two times in previous outings.

Ronnie Banks was in the saddle for his 22nd victory of the meeting, and Top Rockette paid $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40. Ettabo returned $1.60 and $2.80, while the show price on Fresno Bar Gal was $2.60.

Trompas, Perez Lead Viejo Golf

Ernesto Perez of Tijuana CC and Greg Trompas from San Diego's Stardust course shared the first-round lead in the second Mission Viejo Amateur golf championship Friday with course-record rounds of 69.

Perez, no stranger to the Orange County course after being runnerup last year, had only one bogey in his three-under par round.

Trompas, who played in the U.S. Open in Houston, blistered the backside in 33 strokes. The course played to 6,800 yards Friday.

Three strokes back of the leaders was Artie Andersn of Bel Air, who fired a 72 his first tour of treacherous Mission Viejo.

69—Ernesto Perez (Tijuana CC), Greg Trompas (Stardust, San Diego).
72—Artie Anderson (L.A. Bel Air CC).
73—Tom Gorrell (L.A. Griffith Park).
74—Carlos Perez (Tijuana CC), Kemp Richardson (Palos Verdes), Bruce Osborne (Carlton Oaks, San Diego), Phil McGleno (Green River, Riverside).
76—Bob Falkenburg (Gvea GC, Rio de Janeiro), Brian Gaddy (Pasadena Oakmont), Pele Pellicrino (Mission Viejo), Stan Hobert (Azusa GC), Bob Perea (Montebello).
77—Rick Ewing (Bakersfield CC), James Moss (San Clemente) Jack Hefer (Riverside South Hills), Richard Sints (Los Coyotes), Warren Shaler (Carlsbad El Camino).
78—Lou Leis (L.A. Bel Air), Gary Panenq (Mission Viejo), Tony Earle (Pomona National GC), Jim Brier (Western Hills), David Nichoias (Bakersfield CC.)

Gardena Meets South Torrance in Legion Play

South Torrance, champion of the Bay League, meets Gardena of the Pacific League today at 2 p.m. in the final of the American Legion area playoffs at Blair Field.

South Torrance, 2-1, with wins over Lynwood and Lakewood as well as a loss to the latter, needs to beat undefeated Gardena today and Sunday to take the area title and earn a trip to the state tournament at Yountville, Calif. A Gardena win over South Torrance would end the double elimination area tournament today.

Greene Relaxes, Tops Westchester

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI) — Young Bert Greene, heeding his father's simple advice to "Relax and play your own game," charged into the lead Friday at the midway point of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic with a three-under-par 69 which gave him a 36-hole total of 136.

Greene, a 25-year-old Georgian, whose father has been a golf pro for nearly three decades, overlook first-round leader Tommy Bolt and three others to build a shaky one-stroke advantage in the world's richest tournament played over the lush, long playing 6,667-yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club layout.

His father, Herb Greene, followed him every step of the way.

"My dad told me before the round to relax, take it easy and just hit the ball," Greene said in explaining his new status at the top of the field.

The slender, rawboned University of Tennessee product, still looking for his initial tour victory, led Don Bies, Paul Harney, Tommy Aaron and Bolt, all of whom stood at 137.

Greene, whose highest previous finish in three years on the circuit was second place in this year's Tallahassee Open, started the round with a two-foot birdie putt on the 190-yard, par 3, first hole. He played par golf through the eighth and dropped a 3½-footer for another bird on the 500-yard par-5 ninth. His other birds came at 12 and 14.

Gay Brewer, the 1967 Masters champion, shot the day's best round, a seven-under 65 and had a two-round total of 138. Also at 138 was Dan Sikes, a two-time runnerup in the Westchester, who shot a second round 67.

Next came Bert Yancey, Bruce Devlin and Tom Weiskopf all with 139s. Grouped at 140 were Harold Henning, Jim Colbert, Bob Goalby and Terry Dill.

Bolt, lamented the long fairways which haven't been cut because of precipitation, "made us pros look like hackers."

RACE ROUNDUP

Belmont Winner Returns

Combined News Services

Arts and Letters, winner of the Belmont and runner-up in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, returns to the races after an eight-week vacation, to run in today's $100,000-added Monmouth Invitational Handicap.

Braulio Baeza will ride Arts and Letters, making his first start since the June 7 Belmont in this 1½-mile test that has drawn a surprisingly large field of 10 entries.

Al Hattab, winner of five stakes this season, is expected to be the second choice to the favored Arts and Letters who will carry top weight of 128 pounds. Ray Broussard will be up on Al Hattab, 126.

TWO OTHER $100,000-added races are on today's national program, including the Delaware Handicap at Delaware Park and the Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park in Chicago.

Singing Rain is the top weight, 120, among seven in the Delaware feature which will be worth $74,168.25 to the winner.

Figonero, 122, will tote the heaviest burden in the Lindheimer, a 1 3/16-mile event on the grass that has attracted 110. Lostalo, 116, and Out The Window, 116, are others well liked.

THE $20,000-ADDED San Diego Handicap, 1 1/16-mile race at Del Mar, has a field of nine including top weighted Quicken Tree, 127, Kissing George, 122 and Baffle, 122.

Quicken Tree, who has not raced since early April, has been working sensationally for his 1969 debut at the track where he charged from last place to capture the Del Mar Handicap in 1:46 2/5, equalling the record set by Bug Brush in 1959.

Baffle and Kissin' George, who will carry 122 pounds, figure to be Quicken Tree's toughest foes.

Completing the San Diego Handicap lineup are Wingover 114, Triple Tux 112, Rivet 118, Bargain Day 115, Fiddle Isle, 117, and California, 107.

Baffle, who has been racing in the finest form of his career recently, will be making his first start at Del Mar since capturing the 1968 La Jolla mile.

Kissin' George who has accounted for two sprint stakes at Del Mar in the last two seasons, will be trying the mile and one-sixteenth distance of the San Diego Handicap for the first time since setting the pace against Dr. Fager in the 1968 Californian at Hollywood Park.

FEATURE FAILS TO FILL

No 'Moon' at Los Alamitos

By DAVE DANIEL

It's odd. With all the talk about the recent moon landing, you'd think a race called the "Moon Deck" would be a natural for Los Alamitos Race Course.

The Moon Deck Purse for 2-year-olds, named for the 1955 Spring Championship winner and the first quarter horse ever to earn more than $200,000, ran into a problem.

The race failed to fill as the youngsters eligible for the $7,000 prize passed to stay in top shape for next weekend's Kindergarten Trials, leading up to the $75,000 Kindergarten the following week.

That gives a group of better older horses another chance. and they won't miss it by taking part in the $3,000 Beverly Hills Purse, put on the card as a substitute feature race tonight.

Three of the seven starters in the 400-yard event won their last starts and five of the seven have won races this meeting in the AAA-minus division.

Heading the list is Witch Chic, which won at 350 yards last week in a swift 17.9 seconds. Quincy A Go Go posted a win July 8 in the same time.

Other entrants include Lightning Ridge, which won July 19 in 18 seconds flat and Tagger Bar, winning in 18.1 on July 18.

Admiral Red is the last to go 400 yards, winning on June 30 in 20.3 seconds. Only Bar Little Deck and Tidy Go haven't made a trip to the winner's circle this season at Orange County.

Top Rockette finally made it to the winner's circle Friday night as she captured the $3,000 Barbra B. by a full length over Ettabo and Fresno Bar Gal.

The four-year old daughter of Rocket Bar was making her fifth start of the meeting, finishing second twice and third two times in previous outings.

Ronnie Banks was in the saddle for his 22nd victory of the meeting, and Top Rockette paid $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40. Ettabo returned $4.60 and $2.80, while the show price on Fresno Bar Gal was $2.60.

Trompas, Perez Lead Viejo Golf

Ernesto Perez of Tijuana CC and Greg Trompas from San Diego's Stardust course shared the first-round lead in the second Mission Viejo Amateur golf championship Friday with course-record rounds of 69.

Perez, no stranger to the Orange County course after being runnerup last year, had only one bogey in his three-under par round.

Trompas, who played in the U.S. Open in Houston, blistered the backside in 33 strokes. The course played to 6,800 yards Friday.

Three strokes back of the leaders was Artie Andersn of Bel Air, who fired a 72 his first tour of treacherous Mission Viejo.

69—Ernesto Perez (Tijuana CC), Greg Trompas (Stardust, San Diego).
72—Artie Anderson (L.A. Bel Air CC).
73—Tom Correll (L.A. Griffith Park).
74—Carlos Perez (Tijuana CC), Kemp Richardson (Palos Verdes), Bruce Osborne (Carlton Oaks, San Diego), Phil McGlenn (Green River, Riverside).
76—Bob Falkenburg (Gvea GC, Rio de Janeiro), Brian Gaddy (Pasadena Oakmont), Pete Pelligrino (Mission Viejo), Stan Hobert (Azusa GC), Bob Perra (Montebello).
77—Rick Ewing (Bakersfield CC), James Moss (San Clemente) Jack Heler (Riverside South Hills), Richard Sims (Los Coyotes), Warren Shafer (Carlsbad El Camino).

Gardena Meets South Torrance in Legion Play

South Torrance, champion of the Bay League, meets Gardena of the Pacific League today at 2 p.m. in the final of the American Legion area playoffs at Blair Field.

South Torrance, 2-1, with wins over Lynwood and Lakewood as well as a loss to the latter, needs to beat undefeated Gardena today and Sunday to take the area title and earn a trip to the state tournament at Yountville, Calif. A Gardena win over South Torrance would end the double elimination area tournament today.

Greene Relaxes, Tops Westchester

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI) — Young Bert Greene, heeding his father's simple advice to "Relax and play your own game," charged into the lead Friday at the midway point of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic with a three-under-par 69 which gave him a 36-hole total of 136.

Greene, a 25-year-old Georgian, whose father has been a golf pro for nearly three decades, overtook first-round leader Tommy Bolt and three others to build a shaky one-stroke advantage in the world's richest tournament played over the lush, long playing 6,667-yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club layout.

His father, Herb Greene, followed him every step of the way.

"My dad told me before the round to relax, take it easy and just hit the ball," Greene said in explaining his new status at the top of the field.

The slender, rawboned University of Tennessee product, still looking for his initial tour victory, led Don Bies, Paul Harney, Tommy Aaron and Bolt, all of whom stood at 137.

Greene, whose highest previous finish in three years on the circuit was second place in this year's Tallahassee Open, started the round with a two-foot birdie putt on the 190-yard, par 3, first hole. He played par golf through the eighth and dropped a 3½-footer for another bird on the 500-yard par-5 ninth. His other birds came at 12 and 14.

Gay Brewer, the 1967 Masters champion, shot the day's best round, a seven-under 65 and had a two-round total of 138. Also at 138 was Dan Sikes, a two-time runnerup in the Westchester, who shot a second round 67.

Next came Bert Yancey, Bruce Devlin and Tom Weiskopf all with 139s. Grouped at 140 were Harold Henning, Jim Colbert, Bob Goalby and Terry Dill.

Bolt, lamented the long fairways which haven't been cut because of precipitation, "made us pros look like hackers."

6th International Karate Tourney Underway Today

The world's largest karate tournament, the International Championships, get under way today in the Long Beach Arena, with finals Sunday night.

World titles are at stake in eight divisions including, for the first time, women's freestyle fighting and the coveted title of Grand World Champion, which goes to the over-all winner in black belt competition.

Presented by Ed Parker of Pasadena, the sixth International will see champions crowned by beautiful tournament queen Kam Nelson.

A highlight of the fast-moving finals Sunday night at 7 will be a demonstraton of the self-defense aspects of karate by Miss Nelson, her karate instructor, Parker, and world lightweight boxing champion Mando Ramos of Long Beach.

Defending champion Chuck Norris of Redondo Beach is back to seek an unprecedented third successive grand world champion title.

Competition is divided into three classifications — white belt (beginners), brown belt (advanced) and black belt (experts and champions), with world titles at stake in all three classifications in each of three weight divisions- light, middle and heavyweight.

Eliminations begin at 10 this morning and will continue until 6 tonight, then pick up again Sunday morning at 10 and continue until 5. The championship finals get under way at 7 o'clock Sunday.

Graebner Continues to Win Big

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Clark Graebner of New York City, refusing to concede that the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament is a jinx event for him, led an advance of favorites into the men's singles semifinal round Friday.

A four-time final-round victim and non-winner of the tourney, the second-seeded Graebner rallied to edge defending champion Charlie Pasarell of Santurce, Puerto Rico, 11-13, 6-4, 7-5, in a 2½ hour battle.

His semifinal round opponent today will be Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, seeded fourth, who also needed three sets to dispose of Butch Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

The other semifinal encounter will pair top-seeded Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and third-rated Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif. Ashe simply outclassed a frustrated Jim Osborne of Honolulu, 6-4, 6-4.

Smith defeated the tourney's elder statesman, 31-year-old Gene Scott of New York City, 8-6, 6-3.

The two current U.S. Amateur champions found themselves sidelined, Seewagen and Linda Tuero of Metairie, La.

Big 3 in Nationals

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Three top-ranking amateurs — Americans Clark Gaebner and Bob Lutz and South Africa's Bob Hewitt — have entered the 89th National Tennis Championships Aug. 16-24 at Longowood Cricket Club, it was announced Friday.

Millikan Girl Wins at Maccabiah Games

TEL AVIV (AP) — America's veteran amateur golfer Bruce Fleischer, of Hialeah, Fla., shot a par 72 for a 285 total Friday to win the individual golf competiton at the eighth Maccabiah Games.

Fleischer, winner of the National Amateur Open in 1968, was followed by Lionel Shapiro, of Johannesburg, South Africa, with 289. Neville Sundelson, of Benoni, South Africa, turned in a one-under-par 71 to take third with 290.

America won the men's team competition with 1,156, followed by South Africa with 1,167 and Britain with 1,213. Canada scored 1,240 for fourth place.

In the women's competition, Judy Angel, of Durban, South Africa, shot 74 for a 295 and the first prize.

Debbie Lipman, an 18-year-old, Long Beach, Calif., high school senior from Millikan, won the platform diving compeition with 128.44 points followed by Angela Klavierstyn of Australia with 115.34 and Joana Dillischowsky, of London with 92.20.

In water polo, America moved closer to its second consecutive gold medal, beating South Africa 7-4. Randy Cort, of San Jose, Calif., and Jim Spiegel, of St. Louis, Mo., scored three goals apiece for the Americans.

American swimmers netted four gold medals in the fourth round of the swimming tournament. Israel took first place in the remaining two events.

Nancy Spitz, 15-year-old Santa Clara, Calif., high school student, took another step in the shoes of her big brother, Mark, holder of three world swimming records, when she won the women's 400-meter freestyle in 4:43.5, shaving four seconds off the existing Maccabiah record of 4:47.3.

Hawks Seek Crown This Weekend

By CHUCK MEDICK

The Long Beach Nitehawks place their one-half game lead in the Western Softball Congress on the line tonight (8 o'clock) when they entertain Bakersfield in a Blair Field doubleheader.

A sweep would clinch a tie with Oxnard, which travels to San Diego Sub-Flot 1 for a Sunday doubleheader. The Hawks close out the campaign Sunday hosting Hawthorne.

Lakewood's Falcons hold the lead in the Southern California Amateur Softball Assn. but travel to second place Huntington Park tonight. The 7:30 doubleheader will be played at Salt Lake Park.

Ministers Hail Space Feat, See No Conflict With Faith

By LES RODNEY

Long Beach area religious leaders, like most Americans, were thrilled and awed witnesses to man's landing on the moon. A sampling of opinion this week, while uncovering some varying emphasis, found none opposing the exploration, and none saw any contradiction between space discoveries and religious faith.

On the contrary, most of the ministers spoke of a logical deepening of the faith, as man touched a tiny edge of the vastness of creation. Some made the point that the space age demanded a broadening of the old traditional concepts of God. Others saw in the landing a literal carrying out of Bible prophecy, and a sign to Christians of an immient second coming.

Several, while hailing the acheivement, raised the question of whether in the period ahead urgent earthly problems should not have prior claims on our funds.

For those clergymen we were unable to contact in time for this edition, our regrets. We will be happy to publish in future editions brief comments by those ministers who would also like to share their thoughts on this momentous topic with our readers.

BELIEVE EARTH MAN'S HABITAT

REV. DR. WILLIAM J. McILHENNY, Bethany Baptist:

I do not believe this will contradict any revelation that we have. I personally believe that the Earth is man's habitat, but that God will permit him to visit the other planets. I do not think there will be any real value so far as the explorations being capitalized on.

However, I see no objection in Scripture to this space exploration. I think, it ought to serve to increase man's knowledge of God insofar through comprehension of the vast expanses of heaven. Man will recognize that the universe is God's, far far greater than man could ever realize.

GOD GIVES MAN THE INSPIRATION

MSGR. ERNEST J. GUALDERON, St. Anthony's Catholic:

I'm all for it. It is further proof of the omnipotence of God. He is giving men the necessary spirit and inspiration to pursue this exploration of his universe. I think it is significant that those connected with the program are religious men.

BUT DIM VIEW OF MARS COST

REV. DR. LYNN H. CORSON, California Heights Methodist:

For me there is absolutely no contradiction between the fundamentals of the Christian faith and the marvelous achievements of science. I have long since come to terms with this and it presents no problems. Theologically, at least, all that man is finding is confirmation of my faith and of the glory of God. The space age requires of us an enlarged idea of God.

I WOULD certainly hope that having now accomplished this national purpose of putting a man on the moon, we would direct ourselves to the national purpose of resolving some of the very critical problems on this planet. I take a dim view of vast expenditures to get to Mars when such problems exist here. To paraphrase Edwin Markham, "Why build these space missions glorious if man unbuilded goes?"

IN OUR NATURE TO TRY UNKNOWN

REV. SAMUEL L. HALL, St. Luke's Episcopal:

There's no contradiction with faith. It's a terribly exciting thing. Man's being in the image of God means he shares in creativity, and there are great worlds, both outer and inner, to be explored. I know there are arguments about the priorities of our efforts, the problems here on earth, but it is not a case of either-or. It is in our nature to explore the unknown. We must do both.

GOD HAS ALWAYS KNOWN ALL THIS

REV. EDWARD H. SCHROEDER, 1st Lutheran (Mo. Synod):

"O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth: who hast set Thy glory above the heavens . . . When I consider Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which Thou hast ordained . . ." Psalm 8:1,3.

Does man's achievement of placing human beings on the moon in any way discredit man's belief in God, the Creator of the universe and the Father of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, or does it in any way contradict the Holy Scriptures? No! We still remember and believe the words of the Bible which our astronauts of Apollo 8 read on Christmas Eve as they circled the moon, "In the beginning God . . ."

I find no conflict in my belief in God and His revelation of Himself in the Scriptures because of man's landing and walking on the moon, nor the findings of our scientists as they now study samples of the moon's surface. In fact, my admiration for and belief in my great God becomes ever greater through every achievement of man, remembering that my God has always known the things that man is just now being permitted to discover.

CHURCH MEMBERS FAVOR PROJECT

LORAN HANCOCK, 1st Christian:

Judging from the number of people who stayed home on that Sunday evening to watch the actual landing on the moon, I would say that almost all of our people were very much in favor of what went on.

Opinions from a cross section of our people show that we are all agreed on several things: 1) That the whole event was very tremendous. 2) That man did marvelously in preplanning. 3) That the men selected to make the trip were tops. 4) That the most amazing thing of all is that it happened in our generation. 5) That God first placed the potential within man's reach. 6) That we render unto NASSA all the praise due them and that we render unto God all of the praise that is due Him.

SCRIPTURES TOLD THE MOON STORY

REV. DAVID L. HOCKING, 1st Brethren:

There is definitely no conflict with the Bible. Genesis speaks of the four purposes of the moon. One is to give light and it teaches the scientific fact that the moon reflects light, having none of its own source. The Bible also speaks of Christ Himself being like the sun, and Christians being reflectors of His glory.

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM

NEWS OF RELIGION

Lunar time reminded Christians that we are creatures of time. The Old Testament tells of the religious feasts of the Jews governed by the moon, an indicator of the time to praise God. Also we are told to look to the moon for signs. There is a tremendous volume of significant Scriptural references to the facts of the moon, even indicating orbit far in advance of the day's knowledge.

BEEN WORSHIPING TOO-SMALL GOD

REV. ROBERT H. PRENTICE, Geneva Presbyterian:

Moon exploration is further proof of God the Creator. It helps all thinking persons to deepen their religious concepts. For generations, we have been worshipping a God who is too small. We are now able to gather new concepts on the extended horizon.

ADDS TO TOTAL OF OUR FAITH

REV. DR. FRANK M. KEPNER, 1st Baptist:

My personal position is that the more we learn by exploration of the universe, the more documentation we have on the fact that this could not all have come about as a result of accident, or impersonal force. Through it all, we find proof of the great intelligence. I am therefore of the conviction, as apparently are the scientists working on the projects, that this simply adds to the sum total of our faith in the reality of God.

MAY FIND $$$ GOOD INVESTMENT

REV. DONALD R. O'CONNOR, 1st Methodist:

As we know, there is no way by which the church could prevent human inquiry, the desire to explore the unknown. Man is given this impulse by the Creator to go into the wildnerness, penetrate the frontiers, go into the air, under the sea, and out into space. I have no philosophical or religious objections. It's inevitable. Man was told to subdue the earth, and he hasn't subdued it until he is free from its bondage, free to leave it and come back.

There IS room for debate on how much money to spend. Ten years from now we may say the billions were a good investment.

6th International Karate Tourney Underway Today

The world's largest karate tournament, the International Championships, get under way today in the Long Beach Arena, with finals Sunday night.

World titles are at stake in eight divisions including, for the first time, women's freestyle fighting and the coveted title of Grand World Champion, which goes to the over-all winner in black belt competition.

Presented by Ed Parker of Pasadena, the sixth International will see champions crowned by beautiful tournament queen Kam Nelson.

A highlight of the fast-moving finals Sunday night at 7 will be a demonstraton of the self-defense aspects of karate by Miss Nelson, her karate instructor, Parker, and world lightweight boxing champion Mando Ramos of Long Beach.

Defending champion Chuck Norris of Redondo Beach is back to seek an unprecedented third successive grand world champion title.

Competition is divided into three classifications — white belt (beginners), brown belt (advanced) and black belt (experts and champions), with world titles at stake in all three classifications in each of three weight divisions—light, middle and heavyweight.

Eliminations begin at 10 this morning and will continue until 6 tonight, then pick up again Sunday morning at 10 and continue until 5. The championship finals get under way at 7 o'clock Sunday.

Graebner Continues to Win Big

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Clark Graebner of New York City, refusing to concede that the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament is a jinx event for him, led an advance of favorites into the men's singles semifinal round Friday.

A four-time final-round victim and non-winner of the tourney, the second-seeded Graebner rallied to edge defending champion Charlie Pasarell of Santurce, Puerto Rico, 11-13, 6-4, 7-5, in a 2½ hour battle.

His semifinal round opponent today will be Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, seeded fourth, who also needed three sets to dispose of Butch Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

The other semifinal encounter will pair top-seeded Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and third-rated Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif. Ashe simply outclassed a frustrated Jim Osborne of Honolulu, 6-4, 6-4.

Smith defeated the tourney's elder statesman, 31-year-old Gene Scott of New York City, 8-6, 6-3.

The two current U.S. Amateur champions found themselves sidelined. Seewagen and Linda Tuero of Metairie, La.

Millikan Girl Wins at Maccabiah Games

TEL AVIV (AP) — America's veteran amateur golfer Bruce Fleischer, of Hialeah, Fla., shot a par 72 for a 285 total Friday to win the individual golf competiton at the eighth Maccabiah Games.

Fleischer, winner of the National Amateur Open in 1968, was followed by Lionel Shapiro, of Johannesburg, South Africa, with 289. Neville Sundelson, of Benoni, South Africa, turned in a one-under-par 71 to take third with 290.

America won the men's team competition with 1,156, followed by South Africa with 1,167 and Britain with 1,213. Canada scored 1,240 for fourth place.

In the women's compeitition, Judy Angel, of Durban, South Africa, shot 74 for a 295 and the first prize.

Debbie Lipman, an 18-year-old, Long Beach, Calif., high school senior from Millikan, won the platform diving compeition with 128.44 points followed by Angela Klavierstyn of Australia with 115.34 and Joana Dillischowsky, of London with 92.20.

In water polo, America moved closer to its second consecutive gold medal, beating South Africa 7-4. Randy Cort, of San Jose, Calif., and Jim Spiegel, of St. Louis, Mo., scored three goals apiece for the Americans.

American swimmers netted four gold medals in the fourth round of the swimming tournament. Israel took first place in the remaining two events.

Nancy Spitz, 15-year-old Santa Clara, Calif., high school student, took another step in the shoes of her big brother, Mark, holder of three world swimming records, when she won the women's 400-meter freestyle in 4:43.5, shaving four seconds off the existing Maccabiah record of 4:47.3.

Big 3 in Nationals

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Three top-ranking amateurs — Americans Clark Gaebner and Bob Lutz and South Africa's Bob Hewitt — have entered the 89th National Tennis Championships Aug. 16-24 at Longowood Cricket Club, it was announced Friday.

Hawks Seek Crown This Weekend

By CHUCK MEDICK

The Long Beach Nitehawks place their one-half game lead in the Western Softball Congress on the line tonight (8 o'clock) when they entertain Bakersfield in a Blair Field doubleheader.

A sweep would clinch a tie with Oxnard, which travels to San Diego Sub-Flot 1 for a Sunday doubleheader. The Hawks close out the campaign Sunday hosting Hawthorne.

Lakewood's Falcons hold the lead in the Southern California Amateur Softball Assn. but travel to second place Huntington Park tonight. The 7:30 doubleheader will be played at Salt Lake Park.

Ministers Hail Space Feat, See No Conflict With Faith

By LES RODNEY

Long Beach area religious leaders, like most Americans, were thrilled and awed witnesses to man's landing on the moon. A sampling of opinion this week, while uncovering some varying emphasis, found none opposing the exploration, and none saw any contradiction between space discoveries and religious faith.

On the contrary, most of the ministers spoke of a logical deepening of the faith, as man touched a tiny edge of the vastness of creation. Some made the point that the space age demanded a broadening of the old traditional concepts of God. Others saw in the landing a literal carrying out of Bible prophecy, and a sign to Christians of an immient second coming.

Several, while hailing the acheivement, raised the question of whether in the period ahead urgent earthly problems should not have prior claims on our funds.

For those clergymen we were unable to contact in time for this edition, our regrets. We will be happy to publish in future editions brief comments by those ministers who would also like to share their thoughts on this momentous topic with our readers.

BELIEVE EARTH MAN'S HABITAT

REV. DR. WILLIAM J. McILHENNY, Bethany Baptist:

I do not believe this will contradict any revelation that we have. I personally believe that the Earth is man's habitat, but that God will permit him to visit the other planets. I do not think there will be any real value so far as the explorations being capitalized on.

However, I see no objection in Scripture to this space exploration. I think, it ought to serve to increase man's knowledge of God insofar through comprehension of the vast expanses of heaven. Man will recognize that the universe is God's, far far greater than man could ever realize.

GOD GIVES MAN THE INSPIRATION

MSGR. ERNEST J. GUALDERON, St. Anthony's Catholic:

I'm all for it. It is further proof of the omnipotence of God. He is giving men the necessary spirit and inspiration to pursue this exploration of his universe. I think it is significant that those connected with the program are religious men.

REV. DR. LYNN H. CORSON, California Heights Methodist:

L.B. Clergy Backs Space Probe

Then there is the healthy potential for bringing us all —mankind—closer in common awareness.

BOASTFUL MAN FORGETS CREATOR

REV. ORVAL A. AWERKAMP, Trinity Lutheran (LCA)

If man is truly intelligent, his flight to the moon and back should teach him the greatest of all lessons, humility and wonder! Humility and wonder, in turn, should produce man's greatest response, worship!

Is it difficult for man, hurtled thru space at a tremendous speed, exposed to the vastness of space, to feel small and humble? One little slip, and forever he is helplessly and irretrievably lost. One glance back at the little earth, a small mass hanging on nothing in space, is enough to almost make him question earth's safety as a place to return to for dwelling. Who supports and keeps it there,—and why? How small is man!

There are, in history, great moments. Moments that are far reaching and significant. These are the moments when man has a chance to acknowledge or ignore God. Man's stepping foot on the Creator's moon was one such. It was natural history's greatest moment till now, for public recognition of God! We heard not a word of such. We did hear much of man's boast of his achievement. More than once we heard it said that we have now proved that nothing is impossible for man! Thank God for the belated voice on the way home, which came as a refreshing cool stream from above: "When I consider thy heavens, the work of they finger, the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained; what is man that thou art mindful of him?" (Psalm 8). Thanks, Mr. Aldrin!

UNIVERSE IS NOT ENEMY

REV. ARTHUR F. SUELTZ, Lakewood 1st Presbyterian:

I don't think Christian faith has anything to fear. If "God so loved the world," we live in a friendly universe. It isn't the physical universe that's threatening man, it's the use to which we put it. Anything we find in space should only enlarge and deepen our understanding, not only of the physical world, but of God who created it. I would add that this exploration should not be allowed to divert us from using our resources to work for the humanization of our society on Earth.

SIGNALS THE SECOND COMING

REV. WESLEY P. STEELBERG, 1st Assembly of God:

Far from there being a conflict between space exploration and prophecy, there are passages in the Book of Luke which clearly indicate that this is Biblical prophecy being fulfilled . . . the signs in the heaven, etc. Christ said that when we see these signs beginning to come to pass, we should look upward with expectation. I feel it is all confirmation of the nearness of the second coming. As for immediate effect, the President has called upon God for help. God has been given a quiet a hearing around the world as a result of the moon landing, and we're glad for that!

CHRISTIANITY FEARS NO TRUTH

REV. DR. DUANE L. DAY, 1st Congregational:

This is a time that corresponds — at the very least — to the discovery of the North American continent. And it may be of vastly greater significance if it sets in motion a series of events that will lead to encounters with intelligent orders of life other than our own.

One of the insights of the Judeo-Christian tradition is that man is to subdue the earth and have dominion over God's creation. From that perspective, man, in his thrust into space, is fulfilling his destiny. Whenever man pushes back the frontiers of his knowledge about his world — in medicine, psychology, the understanding of his brother, or in space — he is fulfilling the purpose which God wills for him.

Am I fearful that space exploration will invalidate or threaten the Christian faith? No, not at all. Christianity is open to truth, from wherever it comes.

LIFE ON PLANETS NOT DISTURBING

TROY M. CUMMINGS, Central Church of Christ:

In commenting upon the effect on Scripture and Christians of the moon landing and other space explorations, one prominent religion editor insisted that such would cause "profound shift in the faith and basic attitudes of Christians." This, I deny.

It is true that some religious people hold distorted concepts and erroneous conclusions concerning Scripture and man's scientific attainments. But those who correctly understand the true teaching of Scripture will not be disturbed by any fact revealed by space exploration — regardless of whether life is discovered on other heavenly bodies or not.

YES, BUT HOW ABOUT POVERTY?

REV. CHARLES L. BOSS, North Long Beach Methodist:

Any time the church ever turns its back on scientific investigation it is moving back to the Middle Ages. Good religion is never lost on a fact. I am all for this exploration, and all the scientific advances we can discover. I do think there is a question as to the wisdom of the expenditure of such astronomical sums when so many critical problems remain here on our globe. If we took about half of the money to do something about poverty, education and other problems . . .

WHAT MAN IS SUPPOSED TO DO

REV. CHARLES T. STOCKTON, North Long Beach Christian:

It's marvelous, it's what man is supposed to do, it's really a part of God's plan for us to reach out and make new discoveries. There is no conflict with faith at all. I'm all for it. I would think that is the way most of the people in our congregation feel.

ALL WE DO IS GOD'S PLAN

REV. DR. PONDER W. GILLILAND, First Nazarene:

I have two feelings about this event, which is one of the most exciting in the history of mankind. When God told man to take dominion, He was not saying that the earth was an enemy, but that He had created a world beyond our imagining, and wanted us to unlock its secrets. Thus everything we do is part of God's great plan. Second, man will never discover anything where God is not Himself operating.

USE SAME SPIRIT ON U.S. PROBLEMS

REV. C. LEROY DOTY JR., Church of the Brethren:

The real problems are no longer technological. We have proven that the determination of a free nation, as a cohesive whole, can do anything. The real problems remaining are institutional and human. It is ironic that at the time that we are putting astronauts on the Moon . . . our cities and universities are literally being torn apart by the problems of society.

America must move to a new social technology, rooted in a generous social vision, to deal with world peace, racial tension, the elimination of poverty, and the rebuilding of the cities. This cannot be done by alienation, catchwords and disruptions any more than the Apollo voyage was accomplished by alienation, catchwords and disruptions. We must show the same kind of determination, as a nation, in solving the very real social and human problems that we showed in sending three men to the moon.

Final Classes Start for Graham Helpers

More than 3,000 people are expected to attend the final series of Billy Graham Crusade Christian Life and Witness Classes beginning Monday night in 10 Southern California churches.

This is the fourth series of classes to train church members to serve as counselors during the 10-day Crusade Sept. 26-Oct. 5 in Anaheim Stadium.

Already more than 7,700 have completed the special five week course.

Identical material is taught in each class during the week. If an individual is absent from a lecture one night, he can attend another class on another night of the same week and makeup the missed material.

A study booklet and a Scripture memorization packet, prepared by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will be distributed free at the classes. Participants are asked to bring Bibles, pencils and pads.

The lectures begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Here are some locations: Christ Lutheran of Long Beach, 6500 Stearns St., Tuesdays; Alamitos Friends, 12211 S. Magnolia Ave., Garden Grove, Wednesdays.

Also First United Methodist of Santa Ana, and First Baptist of Anaheim, Mondays; St. Andrew's Presbyterian of Newport Beach and Artesia Reformed, Thursday; Trinity Baptist of Westminster and Evangelical Free of Orange, Fridays.

Classes continue throughout the month of August.

FROM THE PULPIT

Sunday will be one of our really great days at Calvary. Dr. Porter Barrington will be closing his campaign with us, and we are asking for and expecting great things from the Lord.

Christian witnessing is the life-line of the church. Dr. Barrington has emphasized the importance of "the open Word" and "the open mouth." Everyone who is a born-again Christian can and should know the joy of witnessing to the unsaved.

Who are the unsaved? Those who have never received God's Son as their Saviour — good people, religious people, church people, old, young, rich and poor — lost, dead in sins, without Christ and without hope in this world and the world to come.

Come and hear this man of God. You will profit greatly from his ministry.

Then there is the healthy potential for bringing us all—mankind—closer in common awareness.

BOASTFUL MAN FORGETS CREATOR

REV. ORVAL A. AWERKAMP, Trinity Lutheran (LCA)

If man is truly intelligent, his flight to the moon and back should teach him the greatest of all lessons, humility and wonder! Humility and wonder, in turn, should produce man's greatest response, worship!

Is it difficult for man, hurtled thru space at a tremendous speed, exposed to the vastness of space, to feel small and humble? One little slip, and forever he is helplessly and irretrievably lost. One glance back at the little earth, a small mass hanging on nothing in space, is enough to almost make him question earth's safety as a place to return to for dwelling. FROM THE PULPIT
Sunday will be one of our really great days at Calvary. Dr. Porter Barrington will be closing his campaign with us, and we are asking for and expecting great things from the Lord.
Christian witnessing is the life-line of the church. Dr. Barrington has emphasized the importance of "the open Word" and "the open mouth." Everyone who is a born-again Christian can and should know the joy of witnessing to the unsaved.
Who are the unsaved? Those who have never received God's Son as their Saviour — good people, religious people, church people, old, young, rich and poor — lost, dead in sins, without Christ and without hope in this world and the world to come.
Come and hear this man of God. You will profit greatly from his ministry.

Doty Leaves Pastorate to Broaden Work

REV. DOTY

Rev. C. LeRoy Doty Jr., pastor for 11 years at Church of the Brethren, and a leader in Long Beach community life, has resigned his pastorate in order, he says, "to devote more time to making a practical application of my faith.

"The things you say are no longer as important as the things you do," said the 40-year-old minister.

Founder and top administrator of Long Beach Brethren Manor — largest church-sponsored housing project for the elderly in the nation — he is recognized as an authority in the field of housing for moderate and low income people.

Doty will continue to be minister-at-large for his denominatoin, serving at state and national levels. He will also act as consultant to other churches and non-profit organizations interested in developing low cost housing facilities.

Recently appointed by Mayor Wade as chairman of the Housing Sub-Committee of the Mayor's Conference on Community Affairs, the cleric says he will continue to "seek ways to meet the felt human needs of low income families in this area."

Rev. Doty has been Southland moderator for his denomination, and has served as president of the area Council of Churches and of the Ministerial Assn. He is the 1968-69 chairman of the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunity, president of the city's United Nations Assn., advisor to the Governor's Commission on Aging and consultant to the Senior Citizens Housing Committee of Los Angeles.

He has received the Community Service Award of the city of Long Beach, the Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and this January was named Long Beach Clergyman of the Year at the annual Spotlight Award dinner.

He is a consultant on low-income housing for the architectural and engineering firm of Daniel, Mann, Johnson & Mendenhall, and was an organizer and is consultant to the Progressive Redevelopment Urban Foundation, centering on ghetto and inner city areas.

Rev. Doty preached his farewell sermon at the Magnolia Avenue church last Sunday. He predicted vast changes in the institutional church of the future.

At 1st Methodist

Rev. C. LeRoy Doty Jr. will be the pulpit guest Sunday, 11 a.m. in First Methodist Church, Fifth Street and Pacific Avenue. He will speak on "The Cool Generation."

National Council Heads Divided Over Black Manifesto

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The top echelon leadership of the National Council of Churches is sharply divided over a response to the Black Manifesto.

The manifesto was issued in April by the National Black Economic Development Conference (NBEDC), a new organization headed by black militant James Forman. It demanded $500 million in "reparations" from U.S. churches. The demand was couched in revolutionary rhetoric and was backed up by a threat of violence.

The 16-member executive committee of the National Council of Churches has been trying since June to reach agreement on a policy toward the Manifesto and its sponsoring organization.

Some Negro church leaders are urging the council to give its blessing to the NBEDC. They also want the council to raise $500,000 from its member denominations to finance a headquarters and staff for the NBEDC. These requests are endorsed by some white members of the council's executive committee, who feel that churches are on trial before Negroes and must prove their commitment to the cause of racial justice.

But other executive committee members contend it would be wrong for churches to give any kind of recognition or support to an organization which has frankly avowed its aim of overthrowing the American system by violence if necessary.

Prominent in this group is Dr. A. Dale Fiers, of Indianapolis, president of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). Fiers says financial aid to the NBEDC would "assure the institutionalization of a movement which is admittedly Marxist and subversive in character."

The council's executive committee held an all-day secret session July 14 in an effort to break the impasse, but made no visible progress. Another meeting has now been scheduled for Aug. 28. Neither side shows any disposition to give ground. If the executive committee remains deadlocked — or even if it should reach agreement on a proposal — the whole matter will come before the council's 70-member general board, which will meet in Indianapolis in mid-September.

Most of the big Protestant denominations which are affilitated with the council already have taken public stands deploring the language of the manifesto and refusing to turn any funds over to the NBEDC, but acknowledging the wrongs that white society has done to blacks and pledging stepped-up efforts to aid Negro economic development through other channels.

However, the outlook may change. The NBEDC recently underwent a reorganization in which Forman was replaced as chairman by Rev. Calvin Marshall, pastor of an African Methodist Episcopal Zion church in Brooklyn. Forman remains on the 26-member steering committee.

If church leaders can be convinced that the NBEDC has become a serious organization for black development rather than a one-man forum for Forman's brand of radicalism, the prospects for church backing of the NBEDC would improve substantially.

GOINGS ON

The Long Beach Baha'i invites the public to its meeting themed on "Race Unity for World Peace," tonight, 8 p.m. in California Avenue Recreation Center, 1550 California Ave. Speaker will be Harold Jackson. The acclaimed film "And His Name Shall Be One" from the CBC Lamp Unto My Feet program, will be shown . . . The Saga Singers, a woman's trio from Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash., will present a sermon in song Sunday, 9 a.m. at Trinity Lutheran of Norwalk, 11507 Studebaker Road . . . Rev. Andrew Trussell, missionary to Argentina, will speak Sunday, 11 a.m. at Calvary Assembly of God of Lakewood, 21533 Pioneer Blvd . . . Nick Cadena, who appears on Kathryn Kuhlman's TV program, will be the speaker Monday, 7:30 p.m. following the 6:30 dinner of Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International at the Hotel Lafayette.

PEALE

Norman Vincent Peale's regular column "Confident Living" will be resumed next Saturday.

Temple Youth to Distribute Anti-Bias Tracts

"Justice in Action Day" will be observed next Saturday, Aug. 9, by the youth group of Temple Israel. Twenty young men and women will be oriented at the Fair Housing Foundation office and will be assigned locations in the city where they will distribute handbills designed to acquaint minority residents with both federal and state laws on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Curt Moody, executive director of the Foundation commented, "With all of the publicity about young people causing problems, it is important that the news of young people like this putting their faith into positive action be recognized and commended."

Howard Laibson is adult sponsor for Temple Israel Youth. Peggy Stein is president.

TOURING LUTHERAN YOUTH GROUP
The Sonlight Singers, a group of high school and college students from Central Lutheran Church of Van Nuys, which has been touring the state, will present a concert tonight at 7:30 in Christ Lutheran Church, Stearns St., and will also sing at Sunday services 8 and 10 a.m.

Top Catholic Editor Quits Over Pressure

The editor-in-chief of America's largest Catholic weekly has resigned because of conflict with his superiors over liberal reforms in the church.

Msgr. Vincent A. Yzermans, who boosted the circulation of Our Sunday Visitor to 600,000, confided to friends that he was tired of waging "the old liberal-conservative battle." He has been a forceful supporter of the reforms launched by the Vatican Council.

The editor, 42, plans to return to his home diocese of St. Cloud, Minn. He has assured friends he has no intention of leaving the church or the priesthood.

Recently appointed by Mayor Wade as chairman of the Housing Sub-Committee of the Mayor's Conference on Community Affairs, the cleric says he will continue to "seek ways to meet the felt human needs of low income families in this area."

Rev. Doty has been Southland moderator for his denomination, and has served as president of the area Council of Churches and of the Ministerial Assn. He is the 1968-69 chairman of the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunity, president of the city's United Nations Assn., advisor to the Governor's Commission on Aging and consultant to the Senior Citizens Housing Committee of Los Angeles.

He has received the Community Service Award of the city of Long Beach, the Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and this January was named Long Beach Clergyman of the Year at the annual Spotlight Award dinner.

He is a consultant on low-income housing for the architectural and engineering firm of Daniel, Mann, Johnson & Mendenhall, and was an organizer and is consultant to the Progressive Redevelopment Urban Foundation, centering on ghetto and inner city areas.

Rev. Doty preached his farewell sermon at the Magnolia Avenue church last Sunday. He predicted vast changes in the institutional church of the future.

At 1st Methodist

Rev. C. LeRoy Doty Jr. will be the pulpit guest Sunday, 11 a.m. in First Methodist Church, Fifth Street and Pacific Avenue. He will speak on "The Cool Generation."

National Council Heads Divided Over Black Manifesto

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The top echelon leadership of the National Council of Churches is sharply divided over a response to the Black Manifesto.

The manifesto was issued in April by the National Black Economic Development Conference (NBEDC), a new organization headed by black militant James Forman. It demanded $500 million in "reparations" from U.S. churches. The demand was couched in revolutionary rhetoric and was backed up by a threat of violence.

The 16-member executive committee of the National Council of Churches has been trying since June to reach agreement on a policy toward the Manifesto and its sponsoring organization.

Some Negro church leaders are urging the council to give its blessing to the NBEDC. They also want the council to raise $500,000 from its member denominations to finance a headquarters and staff for the NBEDC. These requests are endorsed by some white members of the council's executive committee, who feel that churches are on trial before Negroes and must prove their commitment to the cause of racial justice.

But other executive committee members contend it would be wrong for churches to give any kind of recognition or support to an organization which has frankly avowed its aim of overthrowing the American system by violence if necessary.

Prominent in this group is Dr. A. Dale Fiers, of Indianapolis, president of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). Fiers says financial aid to the NBEDC would "assure the institutionalization of a movement which is admittedly Marxist and subversive in character."

The council's executive committee held an all-day secret session July 14 in an effort to break the impasse, but made no visible progress. Another meeting has now been scheduled for Aug. 28. Neither side shows any disposition to give ground. If the executive committee remains deadlocked — or even if it should reach agreement on a proposal — the whole matter will come before the council's 70-member general board, which will meet in Indianapolis in mid-September.

Most of the big Protestant denominations which are affiliated with the council already have taken public stands deploring the language of the manifesto and refusing to turn any funds over to the NBEDC, but acknowledging the wrongs that white society has done to blacks and pledging stepped-up efforts to aid Negro economic development through other channels.

However, the outlook may change. The NBEDC recently underwent a reorganization in which Forman was replaced as chairman by Rev. Calvin Marshall, pastor of an African Methodist Episcopal Zion church in Brooklyn. Forman remains on the 26-member steering committee.

If church leaders can be convinced that the NBEDC has become a serious organization for black development rather than a one-man forum for Forman's brand of radicalism, the prospects for church backing of the NBEDC would improve substantially.

Temple Youth to Distribute Anti-Bias Tracts

"Justice in Action Day" will be observed next Saturday, Aug. 9, by the youth group of Temple Israel. Twenty young men and women will be oriented at the Fair Housing Foundation office and will be assigned locations in the city where they will distribute handbills designed to acquaint minority residents with both federal and state laws on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Curt Moody, executive director of the Foundation commented, "With all of the publicity about young people causing problems, it is important that the news of young people like this putting their faith into positive action be recognized and commended."

Howard Laibson is adult sponsor for Temple Israel Youth. Peggy Stein is president.

Top Catholic Editor Quits Over Pressure

The editor-in-chief of America's largest Catholic weekly has resigned because of conflict with his superiors over liberal reforms in the church.

Msgr. Vincent A. Yzermans, who boosted the circulation of Our Sunday Visitor to 600,000, confided to friends that he was tired of waging "the old liberal-conservative battle." He has been a forceful supporter of the reforms launched by the Vatican Council.

The editor, 42, plans to return to his home diocese of St. Cloud, Minn. He has assured friends he has no intention of leaving the church or the priesthood.

SHOULD YOUR CHILD BELIEVE IN GOD?

We would answer emphatically, "Yes."

Discovering God's love will teach your child the basis of happiness.

Learning about God's power will give your child the confidence to tackle every obstacle that may present itself.

The Christian Science Sunday School encourages children to find God for themselves through a study of the Scriptures. You are invited to have your children visit or enroll in our classes any Sunday morning at (time and place)

Honors to Animals That Act Human

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

Once a year, the television world is confronted with the news that the Patsy Awards will be presented on the air.

The Patsy Awards, if you are not familiar with this event, is sponsored by the American Humane Association and awards go to animals, a chimpanze, a monkey, a penguin or some other animal that has been trained so it can perform the way humans think animals ought to perform—that is more like humans and less like animals.

For example, on Ch. 11 at 9 tonight, Arnold, a pig; Albarado, a horse; Timmy, a chimp; Pume, a cougar and Lassie, a dog will be honored. Milton Berle will be the master of ceremonies and human stars will make the presentations to the animals.

Next season, presumably the asking price for these stars will be more than last year, because they have what amounts to Emmys. The animals' agents, I presume, will be calling on the studios pretty soon.

This all has to do with the American Humane Association's program for watching over the care of animals in entertainment programs—and a good cause, it is; so, one can overlook the attendant publicity fallout for the various programs in which the animals appear. It is apparently an important a show that bears repeating. It's not only scheduled for tonight, but it will be shown again on Aug. 10.

"THE SURVIVORS," the Lana Turner series, was cut up pretty good in Time Magazine which rehashed the star's squabbles on the set and recounted the problems of getting this opus on the road.

The other day, an anonymous well-wisher took out a quarter page ad in 'Variety," which read:

"Congratulations to ABC-Television for coming up with their new series, 'The Survivors' starring Eight Million Dollars and No Sense."

LOOKING AHEAD to next season: Alex Dreier will guest star in a "Land of the Giants" episode . . . Dinne Baker has been signed for a starring role in a World Premiere movie for TV, "Murder One," joining Robert Conrad and Howard Duff . . . Slim Pickens goes into the two-hour "Ironside" which will open the series next season . . . Ida Lupino will guest as a TV gossip columnist in a "The Name of the Game" episode.

Brooke Bunday will play a missionary in "Lancer" CBS' answer to "Bonanza." The TV westerns while not as plentiful next season as at the start of last, will have a fair enough representation on the air with "Bonanza," "Gunsmoke," "Lancer," "The Virginian," and "High Chaparral."

Vincent Price has been signed for a guest role in a fall episode of "The Good Guys" . . . Ed Byrns, who was the hair-combing youngster in "77 Sunset Strip," will show up as head of a gang on the run in a "Mannix" show.

TOP VIEWING TODAY

THE PRESIDENT ABROAD. Ch. 4 airs coverage at 7 a.m.; Ch. 2 at 7:30 p.m. and Ch 7 will have an expanded 11 p.m. news report. All networks will be on hand for President Nixon's return to Washington's Andrews Air Force Base at 7 p.m., Sunday.

CBS LOSES 'COLD BLOOD'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A spokesman for director Richard Brooks says he has turned down a CBS bid of $1-million dollars to televise the movie "In Cold Blood" with the climactic hanging scene deleted.

The film was made from the Truman Capot best seller of the same name. Under a contract with Columbia Pictures, Brooks has the exclusive right to rule on any changes in the movie version and to deny its use on television for five years.

"We felt the real crux of the film was whether there should be capital punishment," the director's spokesman said, "and by cutting that scene out we would really be cutting out the real meat of the film."

Gov. Hughes Wife Joins TV Talk Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Betty Hughes, wife of New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, is joining the ranks of the TV talk hosts.

Mrs. Hughes has signed a contract with WCAU-TV in Philadelphia for an afternoon talk show beginning Sept. 22.

The program will be aimed at women and will have a wide variety of guests. A station spokesman declined to disclose what salary Mrs. Hughes would be paid.

Honors to Animals That Act Human

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

Once a year, the television world is confronted with the news that the Patsy Awards will be presented on the air.

The Patsy Awards, if you are not familiar with this event, is sponsored by the American Humane Association and awards go to animals, a chimpanze, a monkey, a penguin or some other animal that has been trained so it can perform the way humans think animals ought to perform—that is more like humans and less like animals.

For example, on Ch. 11 at 9 tonight, Arnold, a pig; Albarado, a horse; Timmy, a chimp; Pume, a cougar and Lassie, a dog will be honored. Milton Berle will be the master of ceremonies and human stars will make the presentations to the animals.

Next season, presumably the asking price for these stars will be more than last year, because they have what amounts to Emmys. The animals' agents, I presume, will be calling on the studios pretty soon.

This all has to do with the American Humane Association's program for watching over the care of animals in entertainment programs—and a good cause, it is; so, one can overlook the attendant publicity fallout for the various programs in which the animals appear. It is apparently an important a show that bears repeating. It's not only scheduled for tonight, but it will be shown again on Aug. 10.

"THE SURVIVORS," the Lana Turner series, was cut up pretty good in Time Magazine which rehashed the star's squabbles on the set and recounted the problems of getting this opus on the road.

The other day, an anonymous well-wisher took out a quarter page ad in 'Variety," which read:

"Congratulations to ABC-Television for coming up with their new series, 'The Survivors' starring Eight Million Dollars and No Sense."

LOOKING AHEAD to next season: Alex Dreier will guest star in a "Land of the Giants" episode . . . Diane Baker has been signed for a starring role in a World Premiere movie for TV, "Murder One," joining Robert Conrad and Howard Duff . . . Slim Pickens goes into the two-hour "Ironside" which will open the series next season . . . Ida Lupino will guest as a TV gossip columnist in a "The Name of the Game" episode.

Brooke Bunday will play a missionary in "Lancer" CBS' answer to "Bonanza." The TV westerns while not as plentiful next season as at the start of last, will have a fair enough representation on the air with "Bonanza," "Gunsmoke," "Lancer," "The Virginian," and "High Chaparral."

Vincent Price has been signed for a guest role in a fall episode of "The Good Guys" . . . Ed Byrns, who was the hair-combing youngster in "77 Sunset Strip," will show up as head of a gang on the run in a "Mannix" show.

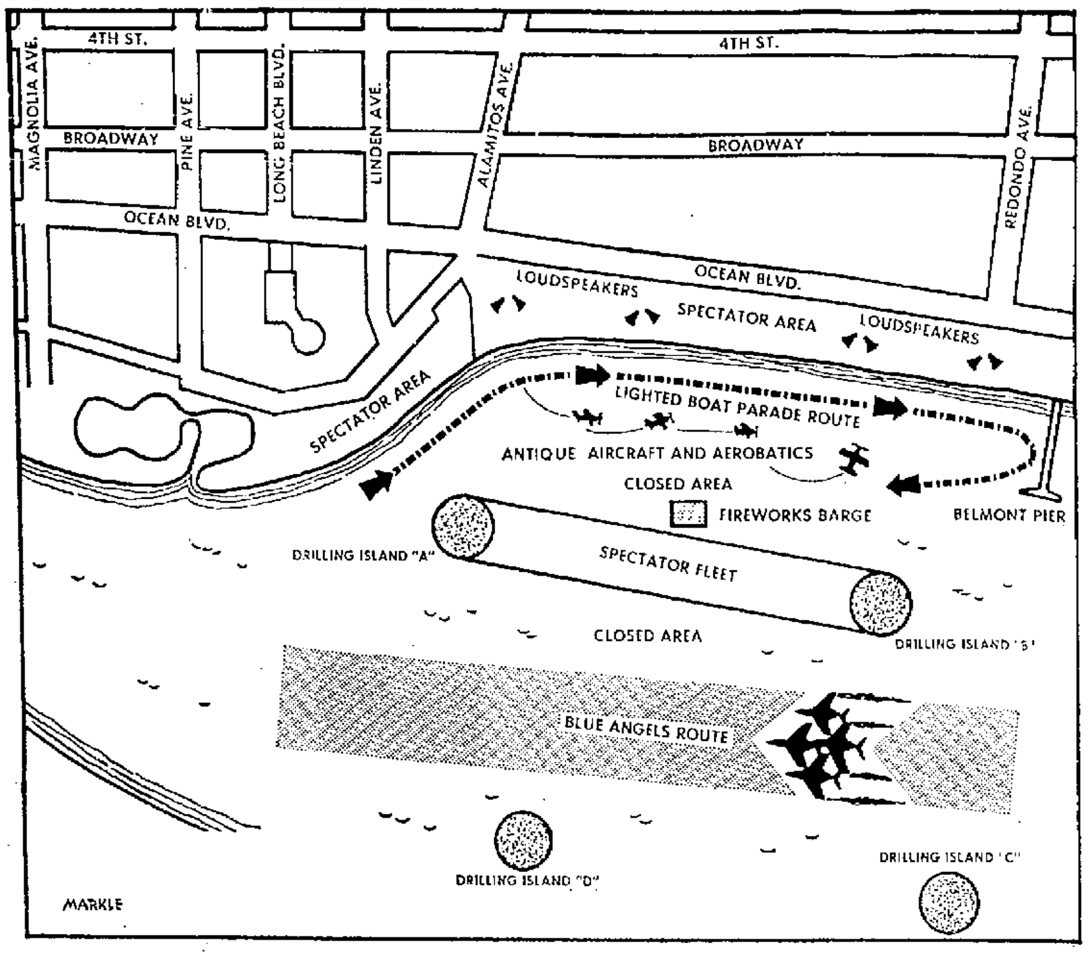

MAP PINPOINTS SPECTACULAR AREAS, KEY EVENTS IN TONIGHT'S SEA FESTIVAL PREMIERE
Loudspeakers Along Bluff Will Describe Three-Hour Spectacle On and Over Water, Starting at 6

COUNTDOWN STARTS

Sea Festival 'All Go'

California International Sea Festival officials said Friday "all systems are go and we are counting" for tonight's 6 p.m. blastoff of the fourth annual air-sea spectacular.

Sandy Kemp, festival director, said despite gloomy skies Friday all events of the three-hour offshore show, including low-level precision flying by the Navy's famed Blue Angels were in "count down."

THE BLUE ANGELS, FLYING wingtip to wingtip formation in McDonnel Douglass F-4J twin jet aircraft are slated to open the twilight air-sea show with a shoreline flyby at near sonic speed.

Two Angel pilots will demonstrate the Phantom II's performance capabilities.

A fly-by of antique aircraft will give the anticipated 150,000 spectators an opportunity to compare the old and new — as World War I "birds" wing along the shoreline viewing area — Ocean Boulevard between Alamitos Avenue and the Belmont Pier.

ART "BUMBLEBEE" SCHOLL, PROFESSOR at San Bernardino State College, flying his flea-sized "Chipmonk" plane will send aeronautical experts "back to the drawing boards."

The experts have proven Scholl's plane can't fly and the Professor's aerobatics are impossible.

But neither the plane nor Scholl know this!

Most spectators will get a first look at "The Boat That Flys" — the HS Victoria, only ocean-going hydrofoil operating in the United States.

The 75-passenger craft, operating between the mainland and Catalina Island, zips along at 46 miles per hour, its 84-ton hull lifted off the surface by underwater foils — aircraft-type wings.

The Coast Guard will demonstrate rescues at sea by helicopter, and the Navy's Seals will plummet 12,500 feet in free fall before opening parachutes and guiding themselves to pinpoint landings on the beach.

A CONVOY OF LIGHT-DECORATED BOATS will assemble at dusk to pass in review. Among the craft will be the Star of the Pacific, largest sailing yacht on the west coast; the Potomac, personal yacht of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt; and scores of other power and sailing craft.

The sea festival spectacular will climax in blazing display of aerial fireworks launched from an offshore barge and visible along the entire ocean front.

Helluva Flight With an Angel

By JACK O. BALDWIN

I had one helluva flight — piggy-back on an angel, a Blue Angel — Friday and came as close to Heaven as I am ever likely to get.

Lt. Rick Adams, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and member of the famed seven-man precision flying team, was my pilot.

"All set?" he asked over the twin-jet's intercom.

"All set!"

Adams "poured the coal to it" as we used to say back when I was flying during World War II.

The landing gear was still retracting when the 28-year-old Vietnam veteran eased the stick back and the needle-nosed F-4J Phantom rocketed upward.

A minute later Adams said,

"WE'LL LEVEL OFF HERE FOR AWHILE."

The altimeter read 45,500 feet!

That was almost twice as far as I had ever been away from earth before.

Seconds later he told me we were flying at Mach 1.2 — we had cracked the sound barrier and were speeding away from the roar of the Phantom II's afterburners.

I couldn't help comparing these few minutes of jet flight — my first — with flying F6F Hellcats, muscle of the WWII Navy's air fighting arm.

Then, if we hit 300 miles-an-hour we thought, "Man we are REALLY flying."

It would have taken 15 minutes to reach 45,000 feet — if those vintage planes could fly that high — which they couldn't!

"LOOSEN YOUR SEAT BELT AS MUCH as you can, but don't unsnap it," Adams said through the padded earphones in my "hardhat."

We went into a dive.

As we started the pullout I felt the camera around my neck pull down as heavy as a sack of cement. My feet glued themselves to the cockpit floor. I felt my insides rearranging, and even though I wasn't sleepy my eyelids became so heavy they wanted to close.

My weight at that moment was more than 500 pounds, because we were pulling in excess of three G's — triple the pull of gravity.

The pullout complete, Adams started a slow nose over.

I came off the cushion, and for the next few moments I was Neil Armstrong floating weightless in space.

My camera stayed in space before me, floating in mid-air with ghostly detachment.

Then my private blue-suited "angel" demonstrated what the McDonnell Douglas-built jet could do.

We flew straight up — then straight down — slower than we went up!

I looked out and recognized Catalina, and since this week marks the 50th anniversary of air service to Avalon we flew past the island city upside down.

Later, cruising around at a leisurely 800 miles-an-hour, we saw a phenomenon neither of us had ever seen before!

"LOOK AT THE SUN," I TOLD ADAMS.

Ringing the brilliant sun was a perfect full circle rainbow.

Our flight lasted about 60 minutes—but seemed shorter.

Lt. Adams had to return to Los Alamitos Naval Air Station to rehearse for the demonstration of precision flying the Blue Angels will stage for an expected 150,000 spectators today.

The man describing the Angels' formation maneuvers during the Fourth California International Sea Spectacular will be Lt. Adams.

As we touched down in a landing so smooth there must have been butter on the tires, and a multicolored parachute helped slow the mighty bird, I came to the conclusion:

"Planes today aren't like they used to be a quarter of a century ago when I flew' em!"

Work Commences on Cardiac Unit at L.B. Hospital

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

Construction has started on a 10-bed cardiac-care unit that will utilize the most modern electronic equipment available, it was announced Friday by officials of Long Beach Community Hospital.

The new $150,000 unit, which will offer intensive and intermediate care of heart patients, will be located in the hospital's Hatfield Wing, according to Walter M. Oliver, hospital administrator.

The unit is expected to be in operation by April. Doctors say the reason it will take this long to become operational is that builders are waiting to take advantage of new electronic circuitry recently made available by space-age engineering.

LIKE OTHER CARDIAC-CARE UNITS, the Community Hospital facility will monitor, by electronics, various physiological phenomena to keep tab on heart action. A special memory system tape will monitor abnormal heart action when rhythm changes occur, to provide doctors and nurses with valuable information.

But unlike many other cardiac-care units, the Community Hospital facility will have emergency resuscitative equipment stationed permanently at each bedside — instead of employing the "crash cart" technique which requires movement of gear at a time of crisis.

This will make possible certain emergency procedures in a matter of seconds as opposed to minutes, doctors say.

One of the most important features of the new unit will be facilities to cope with shock — circulatory collapse — brought about by heart failure. This complication accounts for a significant percentage of deaths among heart-attack victims.

Augmentation pumping systems for failing hearts will be available to tide patients over.

Use of such equipment requires insertion of tubing into blood vessels, and to reduce the threat of infection during this procedure, a special "clean room" will be available there.

SPECIAL BEDS ARE BEING DEVELOPED that will permit X-ray studies to be conducted without the necessity of removing the patient from the bed.

Meanwhile, more than 50 nurses have been undergoing intensive advanced training to prepare them for duties in the specialized unit. The program has been carried out with the help of Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital. Part of the training includes recognition of abnormal heart rhythms on heart-monitoring devices.

The Auxiliary of Community Hospital, which has already contributed more than $250,000 to the hospital for furnishings and equipment, has pledged $35,000 toward the purchase of new equipment for the cardiac-care unit.

Murder Suspect on Way to L.B.

A 23-year-old murder suspect—in custody in Illinois —will be returned to Long Beach to face charges, police said Friday.

Terry Kevin Stelzriede was arrested earlier by Quincy, Ill., police at the request of Long Beach officers, in connection with the Oct. 15 slaying of 25-year-old Richard Numata, a California State College at Long Beach student.

Numata was gunned down by one of two suspects who attempted to rob him after he and another student met with the pair to buy narcotics.

Another suspect in Numata's murder, 23-year-old Dennis West, of El Monte, reportedly took his own life with an overdose of drugs about a month after Numata was killed.

West's wife told Long Beach Det. Sgt. Bob Dillon her husband became increasingly upset following Numata's murder and kept a newspaper clip file on the slaying.

Dillon and Det. Sgt. Doug Bostard are en route to Illinois and will return Stelzriede here for arraignment.

Judge Refuses to Free Convicted L.B. Killer

A former Long Beach hod carrier who murdered the 16-month-old son of his teen-age girlfriend, was denied probation Friday in Long Beach Superior Court.

Judge Max Wisot ruled Jimmy Herbert Batterton, 27, will be returned to state prison to continue a five-years-to-life sentence for fatally beating the infant.

Batterton, sentenced by Judge Wisot to state prison in 1966, had served a year of the term before release on a stay of sentence pending an appeal.

Last April, an appellate court upheld Judge Wisot's conviction.

Batterton returned to Long Beach Superior Court last month asking for probation on the basis of a report claiming he'd been rehabilitated during his two years out of prison.

But Judge Wisot said he was unable to grant probation without agreement of the district attorney.

Batterton killed James Holliday Jr., when he shared an apartment with 17-year-old Mrs. Shirleen Holliday.

Driver Grand Prize Sunday

Here's the final winner of the $100 weekly prize in the I,P-T "Lucky Driver' contest: Driver's license number R812533.

The winner can claim the cash at the newspapers' customer service desk, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach.

Tomorrow is the big day! The Sunday I,P-T will carry announcement of the grand prize — winner of a vacation for two in beautiful Jamaica, via Delta Airlines!

NEW CHAIRMAN
Dennis A. Coder, president of the Pacific Coast Club, was installed Friday as chairman of the Long Beach chapter of the California Dining and Beverage Association. Coder, 32, will serve a one-year term as head of the organization's local chapter, which has a membership of 117 city restaurant and bar owners.

I, P-T Man Heads HEW Information

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — Baxter H. Omohundro of Long Beach, Washington correspondent for The Independent, Press-Telegram and other Ridder publications, took office Friday as director of information for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He took the oath of office from Secretary Robert H. Finch, former California lieutenant-governor, who announced the appointment earlier in the day. On hand for the ceremonies was HEW's assistant director, James Farmer.

Omohundro, 43, will direct the overall information activities of HEW and its constituent agencies at an annual salary of about $27,000.

Native of Denver, Omohundro was on the staff of the I,P-T in Long Beach 16 years, successively as reporter-photographer, regional bureau chief and city editor, before joining the papers' Washington bureau in December, 1964.

He and his wife Shirley, have a son, Baxter A., serving with the U.S. Army in Vietnam, and three daughters —Mrs. Ronald Goble, Mrs. Thomas E. Williams and Janet. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter A. Omohundro, reside in Long Beach.

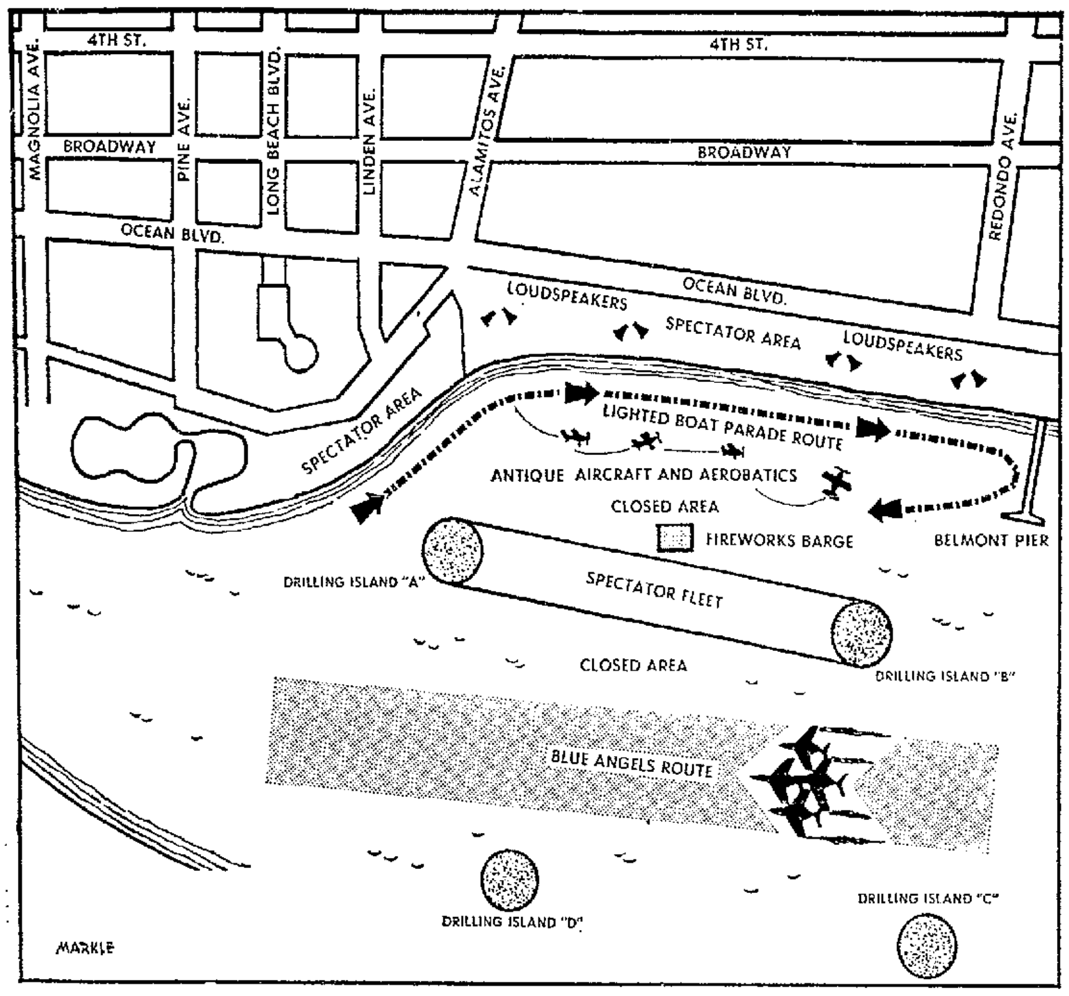

MAP PINPOINTS SPECTACULAR AREAS, KEY EVENTS IN TONIGHT'S SEA FESTIVAL PREMIERE
Loudspeakers Along Bluff Will Describe Three-Hour Spectacle On and Over Water, Starting at 6

—Sketch by Staff Artist H. Parker Markle

COUNTDOWN STARTS

Sea Festival 'All Go'

California International Sea Festival officials said Friday "all systems are go and we are counting" for tonight's 6 p.m. blastoff of the fourth annual air-sea spectacular.

Sandy Kemp, festival director, said despite gloomy skies Friday all events of the three-hour offshore show, including low-level precision flying by the Navy's famed Blue Angels were in "count down."

THE BLUE ANGELS, FLYING wingtip to wingtip formation in McDonnel Douglass F-4J twin jet aircraft are slated to open the twilight air-sea show with a shoreline flyby at near sonic speed.

Two Angel pilots will demonstrate the Phantom II's performance capabilities.

A fly-by of antique aircraft will give the anticipated 150,000 spectators an opportunity to compare the old and new — as World War I "birds" wing along the shoreline viewing area — Ocean Boulevard between Alamitos Avenue and the Belmont Pier.

ART "BUMBLEBEE" SCHOLL, PROFESSOR at San Bernardino State College, flying his flea-sized "Chipmonk" plane will send aeronautical experts "back to the drawing boards."

The experts have proven Scholl's plane can't fly and the Professor's aerobatics are impossible.

But neither the plane nor Scholl know this!

Most spectators will get a first look at "The Boat That Flys" — the HS Victoria, only ocean-going hydrofoil operating in the United States.

The 75-passenger craft, operating between the mainland and Catalina Island, zips along at 46 miles per hour, its 84-ton hull lifted off the surface by underwater foils — aircraft-type wings.

The Coast Guard will demonstrate rescues at sea by helicopter, and the Navy's Seals will plummet 12,500 feet in free fall before opening parachutes and guiding themselves to pinpoint landings on the beach.

A CONVOY OF LIGHT-DECORATED BOATS will assemble at dusk to pass in review. Among the craft will be the Star of the Pacific, largest sailing yacht on the west coast; the Potomac, personal yacht of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt; and scores of other power and sailing craft.

The sea festival spectacular will climax in blazing display of aerial fireworks launched from an offshore barge and visible along the entire ocean front.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: You are alone in spirit through most of the coming year of constant conflicts between emotion and imposed limitations. Patience, meditation, and diplomacy will help you thread your way through to an expanding, much freer future. Today's natives seldom are submissive concerning their existing state of affairs and frequently try to change their local sector of the world.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Good faith is the keyword for this Sunday. Be firm and serious in all you do and say. You will probably be more popular with mature people than with the younger set.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Travel and visiting are most favored for you this Sunday. Enjoy the people you infrequently see by not lingering long.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Put in your share of the community expression of faith, then make the rest of the day a fiesta. Affairs of the heart show signs of prospering.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You now have the occasion to go along with things as they are without stress. Find some time to check your home condition. In family matters lead the way, in good humor.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): There is so much to learn that it is hard to decide in which direction to start. You should begin the effort to expand the inner spirit while attending the external life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There is news! Old matters come to light. Partners are full of energy — help find something to do that fits long-range plans. The evening hours are excellent for visiting.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your common sense is appreciated today. Just let those close to you know how you feel about things. Cook a favorite recipe or make a present for somebody special.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Within the schedule of your regular Sunday habits there are good chances for much emotional self-discovery, perhaps a new romance or the return to an old one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Study, the pursuit of new ideas, interesting but unfamiliar hobbies may take most of your time and attention today. Take those you cherish on a sentimental journey in the afternoon and evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Do all you can to be a pleasant companion this Sunday. A touch of gentle formality helps a great deal. Expect a pain in cooperation from friends—they seem to misunderstand your goals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your home situation can be talked over, improved. Emotional ties tend to become stronger by a little effort to express your feelings.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Those you love may be the most perverse today. Younger people tend to divide you from others of your own age. Find some neglected pastime and bring yourself up to date. You are subject to problems if you overdo exposure.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: You are alone in spirit through most of the coming year of constant conflicts between emotion and imposed limitations. Patience, meditation, and diplomacy will help you thread your way through to an expanding, much freer future. Today's natives seldom are submissive concerning their existing state of affairs and frequently try to change their local sector of the world.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Good faith is the keyword for this Sunday. Be firm and serious in all you do and say. You will probably be more popular with mature people than with the younger set.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Travel and visiting are most favored for you this Sunday. Enjoy the people you infrequently see by not lingering long.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Put in your share of the community expression of faith, then make the rest of the day a fiesta. Affairs of the heart show signs of prospering.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You now have the occasion to go along with things as they are without stress. Find some time to check your home condition. In family matters lead the way, in good humor.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): There is so much to learn that it is hard to decide in which direction to start. You should begin the effort to expand the inner spirit while attending the external life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There is news! Old matters come to light. Partners are full of energy — help find something to do that fits long-rang plans. The evening hours are excellent for visiting.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your common sense is appreciated today. Just let those close to you know how you feel about things. Cook a favorite recipe or make a present for somebody special.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Within the schedule of your regular Sunday habits there are good chances for much emotional self-discovery, perhaps a new romance or the return to an old one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Study, the pursuit of new ideas, interesting but unfamiliar hobbies may take most of your time and attention today. Take those you cherish on a sentimental journey in the afternoon and evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Do all you can to be a pleasant companion this Sunday. A touch of gentle formality helps a great deal. Expect a gain in cooperation from friends—they seem to misunderstand your goals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your home situation can be talked over, improved. Emotional ties tend to become stronger by a little effort to express your feelings.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Those you love may be the most perverse today. Younger people tend to divide you from others of your own age. Find some neglected pastime and bring yourself up to date. You are subject to problems if you overdo exposure.

Delayed-Action Death Case Suspect Will Be Arraigned

Fred R. Montoya faces arraignment Aug. 15 in Long Beach Superior Court in the delayed-action death of a 30-year-old San Pedro man who was shot Feb. 18.

Montoya, 30, of 840 W. Sepulveda St., San Pedro, originally was charged with suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder, but was rebooked on suspicion of murder after Robert Janer died July 13.

Mrs. Lois Janer, the victim's wife, broke into tears Friday as she recounted the shooting at Montoya's preliminary hearing in San Pedro Municipal Court.

LAKEWOOD MAN FACES SENTENCE IN MINE FRAUD

Dr. Raymond H. Clithero, 66-year-old Lakewood chiropractor, will be sentenced Monday in Los Angeles Superior Court for his part in a fake Antelope Valley gold mine-promotion scheme.

Clithero, of 5943 E. Camerino St., who pleaded no-contest, was accused of eight counts of violating California's Corporate Security Act.

A co-defendant, Jack K. Hall Sr., 57, of Palmdale, was convicted of 29 counts of violating the state's corporate security laws and seven counts of grant theft.

The prosecution claimed Hall bilked $250,000 from investors in the "New Dutchman Gold Mine," 26 miles east of Lancaster.

Hall was acquitted of 37 counts of grant theft and 11 counts of Corporate Security law violations, and will be sentenced Sept. 22.

Sierra Power Co. Buys Edison Stock

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The State Public Service Commission said Friday it has authorized Sierra Pacific Power Co. of Reno to buy Southern California Edison facilities and service rights in central Nevada in a $2.3-million deal.

There are about 1,600 customers involved in Nye and Esmeralda Counties.

$500,000 Water Project Approved

MONTEREY (UPI) — The California Water Commission Friday approved a $500,000 grant for the Antelope Valley waste water reclamation project in Los Angeles County.

The project, adjacent to the Gen. William F. Fox airport, includes a dam, reservoir, recreation area and other facilities.

Safeway Target of Grapecott

A "March for Justice" against local Safeway stores and for the California table grape boycott was charted for downtown Long Beach Aug. 9 at a community meeting Friday night.

The march will begin at 1 p.m. in Lincoln Park, Ocean Boulevard at Pacific Avenue, and end at the Safeway store at Seventh Street and Junipero Avenue.

Dick Chenoweth, chairman of the Friends of Farmworkers, said the group will picket the store and other Safeway Stores in the Central District and Belmont Shore.

ABOUT 35 persons at the Long Beach Unitarian Church heard Joe Serda, director fo the grape boycott in Los Angeles, describe the four-year struggle of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee against grape growers in the San Joaquin and Coachella Valley.

"The use of pesticides in the fields has been poisoning us and making us sick," Serda charged.

"The growers feel we shouldn't have anything to say about pesticides, but we added it to our demands recently because our health is even more important than our wages."

The United Farm Workers have been seeking since 1965 to be recognized as the bargaining agent for migrant workers—mostly grape pickers—in the two California valleys. They seek a minimum wage of $2 per hour.

Bridge Hits Use Record

The San Pedro to Terminal Island Vincent Thomas Bridge logged a 5.9 per cent increase in traffic last June compared with the same month in 1968 according to the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

473,632 vehicle crossings were reported in that period.

Heaviest traffic on state-owned toll structures was on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, used by 5,006,259 vehicles—a 2.2 per cent hike from June 1968, when 4,898,889 crossings were recorded.

Vincent Thomas Bridge traffic increased by 26,368 crossings in June. The total was 447,264 trips during the same month in 1968. Bridge toll is 25 cents one way.

Delayed-Action Death Case Suspect Will Be Arraigned

Fred R. Montoya faces arraignment Aug. 15 in Long Beach Superior Court in the delayed-action death of a 30-year-old San Pedro man who was shot Feb. 18.

Montoya, 30, of 840 W. Sepulveda St., San Pedro, originally was charged with suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder, but was rebooked on suspicion of murder after Robert Janer died July 13.

Mrs. Lois Janer, the victim's wife, broke into tears Friday as she recounted the shooting at Montoya's preliminary hearing in San Pedro Municipal Court.

LAKEWOOD MAN FACES SENTENCE IN MINE FRAUD

Dr. Raymond H. Clithero, 66-year-old Lakewood chiropractor, will be sentenced Monday in Los Angeles Superior Court for his part in a fake Antelope Valley gold mine-promotion scheme.

Clithero, of 5943 E. Camerino St., who pleaded no-contest, was accused of eight counts of violating California's Corporate Security Act.

A co-defendant, Jack K. Hall Sr., 57, of Palmdale, was convicted of 29 counts of violating the state's corporate security laws and seven counts of grant theft.

The prosecution claimed Hall bilked $250,000 from investors in the "New Dutchman Gold Mine," 26 miles east of Lancaster.

Hall was acquitted of 37 counts of grant theft and 11 counts of Corporate Security law violations, and will be sentenced Sept. 22.

Sierra Power Co. Buys Edison Stock

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The State Public Service Commission said Friday it has authorized Sierra Pacific Power Co. of Reno to buy Southern California Edison facilities and service rights in central Nevada in a $2.3-million deal.

There are about 1,600 customers involved in Nye and Esmeralda Counties.

$500,000 Water Project Approved

MONTEREY (UPI) — The California Water Commission Friday approved a $500,000 grant for the Antelope Valley waste water reclamation project in Los Angeles County.

The project, adjacent to the Gen. William F. Fox airport, includes a dam, reservoir, recreation area and other facilities.

Safeway Target of Grapecott

A "March for Justice" against local Safeway stores and for the California table grape boycott was charted for downtown Long Beach Aug. 9 at a community meeting Friday night.

The march will begin at 1 p.m. in Lincoln Park, Ocean Boulevard at Pacific Avenue, and end at the Safeway store at Seventh Street and Junipero Avenue.

Dick Chenoweth, chairman of the Friends of Farmworkers, said the group will picket the store and other Safeway Stores in the Central District and Belmont Shore.

ABOUT 35 persons at the Long Beach Unitarian Church heard Joe Serda, director fo the grape boycott in Los Angeles, describe the four-year struggle of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee against grape growers in the San Joaquin and Coachella Valley.

"The use of pesticides in the fields has been poisoning us and making us sick," Serda charged.

"The growers feel we shouldn't have anything to say about pesticides, but we added it to our demands recently because our health is even more important than our wages."

The United Farm Workers have been seeking since 1965 to be recognized as the bargaining agent for migrant workers—mostly grape pickers—in the two California valleys. They seek a minimum wage of $2 per hour.

Bridge Hits Use Record

The San Pedro to Terminal Island Vincent Thomas Bridge logged a 5.9 per cent increase in traffic last June compared with the same month in 1968 according to the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

473,632 vehicle crossings were reported in that period.

Heaviest traffic on state-owned toll structures was on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, used by 5,006,259 vehicles—a 2.2 per cent hike from June 1968, when 4,898,889 crossings were recorded.

Vincent Thomas Bridge traffic increased by 26,368 crossings in June. The total was 447,264 trips during the same month in 1968. Bridge toll is 25 cents one way.
